Army Seizes Power

Pro-Western Rule Ousted In Sudan By Military Coup

CAIRO (AP) — Another Middle Eastern parliamentary democracy went into eclipse today when army commander Gen. Ibrahim Abboud seized power in a military coup in Sudan.

The coup unseated the pro-Western government of Premier Abdullah Khalil.

At noon, the official Sudan radio broadcast that army units from all parts of the sprawling African nation reported all quiet.

The Abboud coup, so far as can be determined here, had the backing of the entire army.

The government radio in Khartoum, the Sudanese capitol, broadcast a declaration in the name of Abboud promising to do his best to achieve good relations with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

British sources in London saw Abboud's coup as an Army bid to stall a political reconciliation with the U.A.R. They said the news, which was reported to the government by the British mission at Khartoum, was no surprise.

Abboud also ordered immediate dissolution of all political parties, supervision of all newspapers, and prohibition of any demonstrations or political meetings.

The overthrow of the Khalil regime came as Nasser and the Sudanese government were trying to patch up long-standing differences over division of the Nile waters, their frontiers, and trade matters.

The Sudanese Parliament was scheduled to meet later this month and both sides had expressed hope that an agreement would be ready for ratification by that time.

Abboud's military coup upset one of the few parliamentary democracies left in the Middle East. Sudan obtained independence from joint British-Egyptian control Jan. 1, 1956, and since then had maintained a parliamentary system. The government had sided consistently with the West and frequently had been embroiled in disputes with Nasser's regime.

Like other military chiefs who have seized power in the Middle East and Asia recently, Abboud accused his country's political leaders of corruption and dissension which had hamstrung government operations.

"You should all know to what extent our country has reached in corruption," his radio statement said. "It has reached into government machinery and all authorities without exceptions. All this is due to a political crisis which stands between all political parties."

"As to the U.A.R.," he continued, "we shall do our best to improve relations between the two countries, to solve all pending problems and remove fabricated dissension."

Khalil became prime minister in July 1956 when his Umma party formed a coalition with the People's Democratic party to bring down the Cabinet of pro-Egyptian Ismail Azhari.

Prosecutor Signs Warrant

Cunningham To Face Charges Of Attempt To 'Corrupt' Juror

$1,500 Set As Bond In City Hearing

Lisbon Case Reopens But Prosecutor Can't Find 'Lost' Witness

In a surprise prosecution move Saturday night, Ira W. Cunningham, former East Liverpool patrolman, was taken into custody at his home on a charge he attempted to bribe a juror in connection with a trial now under way at Lisbon in which Cunningham and two other former officers are accused of a burglary at the Burbick Hardware Store in 1952.

Cunningham quickly posted a $1,500 bond to regain his freedom after he was served with a warrant signed by Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw alleging that he offered money in an attempt to "corrupt" or "influence" an unnamed juror.

Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw tentatively set Cunningham's arraignment for Tuesday at 9:30 a. m., but there is little possibility the hearing will be held then if the police burglary trial is continuing in Common Pleas Court at the same time.

State law says the penalty for such an offense is a fine of up to $500 and imprisonment of not less than a year or more than 5 years. In the preliminary hearing, the local court will determine simply if there is enough evidence to warrant holding the defendant for the Grand Jury.

After a recess since last week—the trial of Cunningham, Robert Carroll, a former patrolman, and Jerry Raimond, ex-special officer, resumed today before Judge Raymond Buzzard.

Queried today, the prosecutor refused to disclose the background of the charges against Cunningham. His affidavit alleges the offer of money was made on Nov. 9, the day before the current trial opened at Lisbon. Since the charge was filed in Municipal Court, the alleged offense apparently took place in East Liverpool.

The prosecutor obtained the affidavit about 11 a. m. Saturday in Municipal Court. It was served on Cunningham at his home about 5:35 p. m. by Chief Americo Radeschi.

Cunningham was taken to the police station, where he remained until his bond had been set by the court and the amount had been posted. A relative arrived at

Cold Wave Spreads Into Southwest

First Real Blizzard Of Season Pounds Rocky Mountains

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather spread into southwestern sections of the country today after the season's first general blizzard pounded the Rocky Mountain region and northern Plains over the weekend.

Heavy snow covered wide areas, with falls ranging to several feet in the mountains to four inches at the Mexican border. Temperatures dropped below zero in higher elevations.

Heavy snow warnings continued in effect from New Mexico northward through the Panhandle area and western parts of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Unseasonably mild weather continued in most of the eastern half of the country. It also was wet and many areas reported high humidity.

The cold belt covered areas from the Pacific Ocean eastward across the Rockies through the Dakotas and into northern Minnesota. The temperature dropped to 40 in Los Angeles and 36 in San Francisco.

Temperatures in most of the northern and central plateaus and Rockies were from 10 to 20 degrees, with below zero readings in the higher Rockies. One of the low marks was 9 below at Evanston, Wyo.

Snow fell in southern border sections of New Mexico and Arizona, with a four-inch covering at Douglas, Ariz., and three inches at Columbus, N.M.

More than four inches of fresh snow whitened North Dakota areas with amounts ranging to a foot in some sections and four to six inches in other parts of the snow belt.

In the warm air to the east of the stormy weather, temperatures were in the 70s during the night in most of Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Tornadoes and strong winds skipped through sections of southern Illinois and northwestern Missouri Sunday night. Damage was minor and no injuries were reported. The twisters struck near Maryville, Mo., and in the southern Illinois areas of Centralia and Sandoval.

High winds ripped into a residential area in Abilene, Tex., damaging two homes early today. There apparently was no tornado funnel. No injuries were reported.

Strike Ends, Chrysler Set To Roll Again

Production Of New Models Rushed As Picket Lines Vanish

DETROIT (AP) — The picket lines came down and Chrysler Corp. today swung back into the production of 1959 model cars.

Chrysler and the United Auto Workers union came to terms on new contracts for white collar workers Sunday night.

Although only 8,000 of Chrysler's 75,000 UAW members were on strike, picket lines kept production and maintenance workers away from their jobs, virtually closing down Chrysler's car-making operations for almost a week.

Going into the weekend, 61,000 workers were idle and 32 plants were closed.

Most of Chrysler's car-making facilities are in Detroit where 50,000 of the workers are employed.

Chrysler said negotiations on the white collar contracts dragged past the others because the union's demands were higher. The UAW claimed greater inequities existed among these workers and further negotiations were necessary.

Chrysler Vice President John D. Leary said the new agreement would provide an increase of $2.53 a week, 3 per cent or whichever is larger, in salaries for the workers, would incorporate part of their cost of living benefits into their base salary, and would institute a new severance pay plan.

Under the old contract, the salaries of the white collar workers ranged from $319 a month for messenger boys to $903 a month for project design leaders.

Pope John Names 23 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named 23 new cardinals, including the archbishops of Boston and Philadelphia.

A consistory Dec. 15 will give the new cardinals their red hats.

The size of the College of Cardinals is being increased to 75 from 70.

The two U.S. cardinals-designate are Msgr. Richard James Cushing, 63, archbishop of Boston, and Msgr. John F. O'Hara, 70, archbishop of Philadelphia.

Amleto Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States who is stationed in Washington, D.C., also was nominated to be a prince of the church.

The Vatican said the present members of the College of Cardinals would meet in secret consistory Dec. 15 to confirm the Pope's nominations. The pontiff will present the red hats of their rank to the new cardinals in a private ceremony Dec. 17, and a public consistory honoring them will be held Dec. 18. Ten of them are non-Italians.

The consistory, first of Pope John's reign, will increase the membership of the College of Cardinals for the first time in almost four centuries, from 70 to 75. The present 70-member college, a complement established by Pope Sixtus V, has 18 vacancies.

Francis Spellman of New York and James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles are the present American cardinals.

Throughout the 19-year-reign of the late Pope Pius there had been speculation that he might increase the size of the College of Cardinals to cope with the increasing administrative problems of the expanding church. Many of the present 52 cardinals are aged and infirm, and their average age is 73.

The new cardinals were notified of their designation by mail several days ago, the Vatican said.

Hope Fading For Fliers In Blizzard Area

Bad Weather Keeps Pilots From Check On Mountain Area

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (AP)—Are two Air Force officers who bailed out of a crippled cargo plane still alive after more than three days in the blizzard ravaged mountains of northeastern Utah?

Hopes for the survival of Capt. Donald Liggett, 40, Indianapolis, Ind., navigator, and Lt. Donald E. Born, 28, Andover, N.Y., pilot, were dim as the frigid dawn this morning.

Born, Liggett and six other men parachuted from a C119 Friday night when one of its two engines stopped on a flight over the rugged mountains about 30 miles east of here. The plane was en route to its home base here.

Sgt. Ivan Probasco, 31, Buhl, Idaho, and Sgt. Joseph A. Reagan, Nellis AFB, Nev., died Saturday from exhaustion and exposure as they tried to fight their way through waist deep snow and freezing temperatures to help.

A group of the more than 100 weary rescuers combing the desolate mountain area Saturday found Sgt. Reyno Feltner, 36, Hazard, Ky., Sgt. Walter P. Bigelow, 28, from nearby Ogden, and Cpl. Ray Copeland, 22, Entiatt, Wash. when they stumbled into a sheepherder's camp.

Copeland and Feltner, both Army men and Reagan were hitchhiking a ride on the C119 when the plane commander, Capt. Harry O. Blount, 33, Great Falls, Mont., ordered them to jump. The plane flew 150 miles on automatic pilot and crashed.

Reagan died the next day in Feltner's arms. Feltner said he was quietly preparing his own death bed in the snow when a search party found him.

Blount was found a few hours after the parachute jump. He was wrapped in his chute and huddled under a tree.

Intermittent clouds, snowfalls and haze prevented pilots from scanning much of the terrain Sunday and aerial search operations halted at dusk.

Temperatures dipped below freezing in the 8,000-10,000 foot Wasatch Range section where Born and Liggett were believed to have fallen.

10 Die, 2 Hurt As Truck, Car Ram In Texas

7 Of Victims Are From One Family; Vehicle Over Line

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. (AP)—A head-on collision of an auto and a pickup truck just north of here killed 10 persons and injured two more early today.

Percy Garner, funeral home operator here, said four of the dead were children and seven were members of the same family.

State Highway Patrolman R. H. Vinyard of Center, Tex., said the family was from Tenaha, Tex., in Shelby County.

Sheriff E. C. Nichols said Maurice McClellan and Charles McClellan, cousins from Center, were in the pickup truck. Vinyard said Charles was driving. Charles was killed and Maurice was taken to a Shreveport, La., hospital in critical condition.

Vinyard said the auto, containing 10 persons, was driven by Ralph Reed of Tenaha.

Nichols said all involved were Negroes.

"The pickup truck was about six feet over the center line. It had just topped a little hill on a straight stretch of road. The car applied its brakes for about 45 feet. The pickup didn't apply his brakes at all," the sheriff said.

Vinyard estimated the speed of each vehicle at about 70 miles an hour.

6 Lose Their Lives During Police Chase

ST. JOHN'S, Mich. (AP)—Six persons died Sunday when their automobile hit a tree while being pursued by a police car.

A police officer said he took up the chase after he noted the car doing about 70 m.p.h. through St. Johns. He estimated the vehicle reached 105 m.p.h. as he pursued it down U.S. 27.

The chase ended as a tire blew out and sent the automobile crashing into a sturdy elm.

A bloodstained funeral wreath was found among the bodies. Police said the family, from Cincinnati and Lansing, Mich., was en route to a relative's funeral in Newberry, Mich.

The six killed were Robert T. Anderson, 27; his brother, Jack L. Anderson, 19, another brother, Richard Anderson, 34, all of Cincinnati; their aunt, Mrs. Grace Vincent, of Lansing, and her two daughters, 5 years and 18 months.

The lone survivor was James Risch, 17, of Rodney, Mich., hospitalized with critical injuries. Police said Risch apparently was a hitchhiker.

Ohio Mishaps Decline Over Week Before

Traffic Claims 12 On State Highways During Weekend

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend death toll from accidents declined slightly from last week despite a bad beginning, appearance of hunting season fatalities, and Sunday night's fog blanket over much of the state.

After an encouraging decline to 13 deaths two weeks ago, the figure shot up to 23 a week ago, with 11 deaths before the first six hours of the 6 p.m.-Friday-to-midnight-Sunday survey had elapsed.

For a time, it appeared the same thing might happen this weekend. Five people died Friday night when the car in which they were riding collided with a train at a crossing south of Coshocton. A pedestrian was also struck and killed Friday night.

But, even with three deaths attributed to accidental shootings related to the hunting season, the toll did not match last week's.

Including the death of a workman in a trench cave-in and the hunting season shootings, miscellaneous causes took four lives; traffic killed 12 and no death were attributed to fire.

As fog moved over most of the state late in the weekend, and apparently caused at least one traffic death, authorities urged motorists to be extra careful with the reduced visibility.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Five Coshocton County residents —Carl Ames, 22, Fresno and Mrs. Margaret Stiteler, 35; Miss Josephine Stiteler, 18; Miss Phyllis Holder, 17, and Mrs. Bonnie Grace, 29, Rt. 5, all of Coshocton—when their car collided with a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train near Coshocton.

Spot-Checking Begins Along Ohio's Turnpike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three two-man teams made up of a highway patrolman and toll collector today begin spot-checking Ohio's 241-mile turnpike looking for drunk drivers and unsafe vehicles.

Checks will be made during the week at each of the toll road's 17 plazas, and the program will be repeated next week, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the turnpike said. If results warrant, the tests will be prolonged indefinitely after that, he said.

The fitness checks are the aftermath of a head-on crash that killed seven persons on Nov. 7 near the Norwalk interchange. A Detroit man who admitted to police he had been drinking, crossed the center-divider strip and his car smashed head-on into another.

West Virginia Groups Study Soft Drink Tax

CHARLESTON (AP) — The much opposed extension of West Virginia's soft drink tax was to be taken up by the legislature's interim committees during their joint meeting today.

The committees — the Joint Committee on Government and Finance and the Commission on Interstate Cooperation — will continue their session tomorrow.

The review of the pop tax was the first item on the agenda today.

Its extension to syrups and powders used to make drinks at home has been opposed by a continuous publicity campaign. And State Tax Commissioner John Field has recommended that the newly-included products be freed from the tax.

The pop tax was enacted in 1951 to finance the West Virginia University Medical Center.

Red Gunners Pepper Quemoy Islands Again

Bartender Posts Bond In Chester Tavern Case

James Leo Jobe of East Liverpool, bartender at Fannie's Tavern on Carolina Ave., Chester, is scheduled for a hearing Friday before Mayor Burton Ward on a charge of illegal sale of whisky.

Jobe was served with a warrant Saturday night and posted a $105 bond on the charge, based on evidence obtained Nov. 8 by Special Officer Raymond Moore.

Mayor Ward said Jobe was slated for arrest Nov. 8 when raids in two other taverns resulted in charges against two operators. However, by the time arresting officers arrived at Fannie's, the tavern was closed, the mayor said.

Catches Conference By Surprise

Red Nuclear Plan Termed Outside Scope Of Meeting

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union proposed an international treaty today to prevent planes from carrying nuclear weapons over the territory of other countries and the high seas.

The proposal was submitted by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov to the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack.

Western officials said the proposal was completely outside the scope of the present talks. Its submission obviously took them by surprise.

The West submitted a new proposal for a plan of work for the conference. This was understood to insist that the talks be confined to technical, nonpolitical matters. In the Western view, the conference has been called only to discuss methods of surprise attack and the procedures required for an international alert system against such attack.

The Soviet Union has sought since the opening of the talks on Nov. 10 to bring in a whole range of political and disarmament questions which the Western experts have refused to discuss.

The talks on suspension of nuclear tests were deadlocked, with little hope of agreement. Western sources said if there is to be any change, the Soviets will have to do the budging.

The U.S. State Department Saturday charged that the Soviet Union was trying to sell Britain and the United States a "pig in a poke"—an agreement to ban nuclear tests for all time before there is any certainty Russia would accept an international control system to police the ban.

Western sources said the United States and Britain would stick to their demands for effective controls before agreeing to ban tests.

U.S. Atomic Energy Commissioner Williard F. Libby disclosed in a radio-TV interview from Washington Sunday night that the United States is making plans for future nuclear weapons tests in case the Geneva talks break down. He denied a Russian charge that the United States is stalling to gain time to prepare for another series of tests.

The United States and Britain have suspended their tests since Oct. 31, while the talks are on, and urged the Soviet Union to do likewise. But detection apparatus showed the Soviets set off two shots on Nov. 1 and Nov. 3.

7 U.S. Fliers Missing After Crash In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Seven U.S. Air Force men today were reported missing after the crash of a B66C jet reconnaissance bomber on the west coast of South Korea.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane crashed Saturday night about 130 miles south of Seoul with six officers and one enlisted man aboard.

Johnson Will Stress Unity In Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Sen. Lyndon Johnson speaks to the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee today to demonstrate that both U.S. political parties want outer space used only for peaceful purposes.

"The entire subject of space and the treatment it has received in Congress has always been nonpartisan," said the Texas leader of the Democratic majority in the U.S. Senate on his arrival in New York Sunday night.

Johnson's aim in speaking to the world organization was to show that the trouncing the Democrats gave President Eisenhower's Republicans in the Nov. 4 election had no effect on the bipartisan backing for the U. S. proposal on outer space.

Before Johnson's speech, White Russian Foreign Minister Kuzma V. Kiselev was to address the committee in support of a rival Soviet resolution.

The American resolution, which 19 other nations are also sponsoring, would set up a committee to determine what could be done under U.N. auspices to promote international cooperation in the peaceful uses of outer space, and what legal problems might arise.

The Soviet resolution would have the 81-nation Assembly call for a ban on military space rockets, elimination of foreign bases, and a U.N. agency for space research.

Sgt. Ivan Probasco, 31, Buhl, Idaho, and Sgt. Joseph A. Reagan, Nellis AFB, Nev., died Saturday from exhaustion and exposure as they tried to fight their way through waist deep snow and freezing temperatures to help.

A group of the more than 100 weary rescuers combing the desolate mountain area Saturday found Sgt. Reyno Feltner, 36, Hazard, Ky., Sgt. Walter P. Bigelow, 28, from nearby Ogden, and Cpl. Ray Copeland, 22, Entiatt, Wash. when they stumbled into a sheepherder's camp.

Copeland and Feltner, both Army men and Reagan were hitchhiking a ride on the C119 when the plane commander, Capt. Harry O. Blount, 33, Great Falls, Mont., ordered them to jump. The plane flew 150 miles on automatic pilot and crashed.

Reagan died the next day in Feltner's arms. Feltner said he was quietly preparing his own death bed in the snow when a search party found him.

Blount was found a few hours after the parachute jump. He was wrapped in his chute and huddled under a tree.

Intermittent clouds, snowfalls and haze prevented pilots from scanning much of the terrain Sunday and aerial search operations halted at dusk.

Temperatures dipped below freezing in the 8,000-10,000 foot Wasatch Range section where Born and Liggett were believed to have fallen.

10 Die, 2 Hurt As Truck, Car Ram In Texas

7 Of Victims Are From One Family; Vehicle Over Line

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. (AP)—A head-on collision of an auto and a pickup truck just north of here killed 10 persons and injured two more early today.

Percy Garner, funeral home operator here, said four of the dead were children and seven were members of the same family.

State Highway Patrolman R. H. Vinyard of Center, Tex., said the family was from Tenaha, Tex., in Shelby County.

Sheriff E. C. Nichols said Maurice McClellan and Charles McClellan, cousins from Center, were in the pickup truck. Vinyard said Charles was driving. Charles was killed and Maurice was taken to a Shreveport, La., hospital in critical condition.

Vinyard said the auto, containing 10 persons, was driven by Ralph Reed of Tenaha.

Nichols said all involved were Negroes.

"The pickup truck was about six feet over the center line. It had just topped a little hill on a straight stretch of road. The car applied its brakes for about 45 feet. The pickup didn't apply his brakes at all," the sheriff said.

Vinyard estimated the speed of each vehicle at about 70 miles an hour.

6 Lose Their Lives During Police Chase

ST. JOHN'S, Mich. (AP)—Six persons died Sunday when their automobile hit a tree while being pursued by a police car.

A police officer said he took up the chase after he noted the car doing about 70 m.p.h. through St. Johns. He estimated the vehicle reached 105 m.p.h. as he pursued it down U.S. 27.

The chase ended as a tire blew out and sent the automobile crashing into a sturdy elm.

A bloodstained funeral wreath was found among the bodies. Police said the family, from Cincinnati and Lansing, Mich., was en route to a relative's funeral in Newberry, Mich.

The six killed were Robert T. Anderson, 27; his brother, Jack L. Anderson, 19, another brother, Richard Anderson, 34, all of Cincinnati; their aunt, Mrs. Grace Vincent, of Lansing, and her two daughters, 5 years and 18 months.

The lone survivor was James Risch, 17, of Rodney, Mich., hospitalized with critical injuries. Police said Risch apparently was a hitchhiker.

Ohio Mishaps Decline Over Week Before

By The Associated Press

Ohio's weekend death toll from accidents declined slightly from last week despite a bad beginning, appearance of hunting season fatalities, and Sunday night's fog blanket over much of the state.

After an encouraging decline to 13 deaths two weeks ago, the figure shot up to 23 a week ago, with 11 deaths before the first six hours of the 6 p.m.-Friday-to-midnight-Sunday survey had elapsed.

For a time, it appeared the same thing might happen this weekend. Five people died Friday night when the car in which they were riding collided with a train at a crossing south of Coshocton. A pedestrian was also struck and killed Friday night.

But, even with three deaths attributed to accidental shootings related to the hunting season, the toll did not match last week's.

Including the death of a workman in a trench cave-in and the hunting season shootings, miscellaneous causes took four lives; traffic killed 12 and no death were attributed to fire.

As fog moved over most of the state late in the weekend, and apparently caused at least one traffic death, authorities urged motorists to be extra careful with the reduced visibility.

The fatalities:

Five Coshocton County residents —Carl Ames, 22, Fresno and Mrs. Margaret Stiteler, 35; Miss Josephine Stiteler, 18; Miss Phyllis Holder, 17, and Mrs. Bonnie Grace, 29, Rt. 5, all of Coshocton—when their car collided with a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train near Coshocton.

Spot-Checking Begins Along Ohio's Turnpike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three two-man teams made up of a highway patrolman and toll collector today begin spot-checking Ohio's 241-mile turnpike looking for drunk drivers and unsafe vehicles.

Checks will be made during the week at each of the toll road's 17 plazas, and the program will be repeated next week, C. W. Hartford, executive director of the turnpike said. If results warrant, the tests will be prolonged indefinitely after that, he said.

The fitness checks are the aftermath of a head-on crash that killed seven persons on Nov. 7 near the Norwalk interchange. A Detroit man who admitted to police he had been drinking, crossed the center-divider strip and his car smashed head-on into another.

West Virginia Groups Study Soft Drink Tax

CHARLESTON (AP) — The much opposed extension of West Virginia's soft drink tax was to be taken up by the legislature's interim committees during their joint meeting today.

The committees — the Joint Committee on Government and Finance and the Commission on Interstate Cooperation — will continue their session tomorrow.

The review of the pop tax was the first item on the agenda today.

Its extension to syrups and powders used to make drinks at home has been opposed by a continuous publicity campaign. And State Tax Commissioner John Field has recommended that the newly-included products be freed from the tax.

The pop tax was enacted in 1951 to finance the West Virginia University Medical Center.

Red Gunners Pepper Quemoy Islands Again

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Communists peppered the Quemoy Islands with light, harassing gunfire today.

The Red guns, silent throughout Sunday, fired 236 shells at Quemoy, Little Quemoy and the Tan Islets between midnight and 11 a.m.

Vice Adm. Herbert H. Hopwood commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, left Taipei for his headquarters at Pearl Harbor and told newsmen the crisis in the Formosa Strait obviously had abated.

Bartender Posts Bond In Chester Tavern Case

James Leo Jobe of East Liverpool, bartender at Fannie's Tavern on Carolina Ave., Chester, is scheduled for a hearing Friday before Mayor Burton Ward on a charge of illegal sale of whisky.

Jobe was served with a warrant Saturday night and posted a $105 bond on the charge, based on evidence obtained Nov. 8 by Special Officer Raymond Moore.

Mayor Ward said Jobe was slated for arrest Nov. 8 when raids in two other taverns resulted in charges against two operators. However, by the time arresting officers arrived at Fannie's, the tavern was closed, the mayor said.

TV Shows Go On

NEW YORK (AP) — Live performances on four major television and radio networks go on as scheduled today and Tuesday under the terms of a temporary agreement in the dispute between the networks and a performers' union.

Catches Conference By Surprise

Red Nuclear Plan Termed Outside Scope Of Meeting

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union proposed an international treaty today to prevent planes from carrying nuclear weapons over the territory of other countries and the high seas.

The proposal was submitted by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassily V. Kuznetsov to the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack.

Western officials said the proposal was completely outside the scope of the present talks. Its submission obviously took them by surprise.

The West submitted a new proposal for a plan of work for the conference. This was understood to insist that the talks be confined to technical, nonpolitical matters. In the Western view, the conference has been called only to discuss methods of surprise attack and the procedures required for an international alert system against such attack.

The Soviet Union has sought since the opening of the talks on Nov. 10 to bring in a whole range of political and disarmament questions which the Western experts have refused to discuss.

The talks on suspension of nuclear tests were deadlocked, with little hope of agreement. Western sources said if there is to be any change, the Soviets will have to do the budging.

The U.S. State Department Saturday charged that the Soviet Union was trying to sell Britain and the United States a "pig in a poke"—an agreement to ban nuclear tests for all time before there is any certainty Russia would accept an international control system to police the ban.

Western sources said the United States and Britain would stick to their demands for effective controls before agreeing to ban tests.

U.S. Atomic Energy Commissioner Williard F. Libby disclosed in a radio-TV interview from Washington Sunday night that the United States is making plans for future nuclear weapons tests in case the Geneva talks break down. He denied a Russian charge that the United States is stalling to gain time to prepare for another series of tests.

The United States and Britain have suspended their tests since Oct. 31, while the talks are on, and urged the Soviet Union to do likewise. But detection apparatus showed the Soviets set off two shots on Nov. 1 and Nov. 3.

7 U.S. Fliers Missing After Crash In Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Seven U.S. Air Force men today were reported missing after the crash of a B66C jet reconnaissance bomber on the west coast of South Korea.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane crashed Saturday night about 130 miles south of Seoul with six officers and one enlisted man aboard.

Johnson Will Stress Unity In Space Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Sen. Lyndon Johnson speaks to the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee today to demonstrate that both U.S. political parties want outer space used only for peaceful purposes.

"The entire subject of space and the treatment it has received in Congress has always been nonpartisan," said the Texas leader of the Democratic majority in the U.S. Senate on his arrival in New York Sunday night.

Johnson's aim in speaking to the world organization was to show that the trouncing the Democrats gave President Eisenhower's Republicans in the Nov. 4 election had no effect on the bipartisan backing for the U. S. proposal on outer space.

Before Johnson's speech, White Russian Foreign Minister Kuzma V. Kiselev was to address the committee in support of a rival Soviet resolution.

The American resolution, which 19 other nations are also sponsoring, would set up a committee to determine what could be done under U.N. auspices to promote international cooperation in the peaceful uses of outer space, and what legal problems might arise.

The Soviet resolution would have the 81-nation Assembly call for a ban on military space rockets, elimination of foreign bases, and a U.N. agency for space research.

Trial

the station with cash, but Cunningham allowed the bond to be posted by the Liberty Bonding Agency of Youngstown, a professional bonding concern.

The charge alleges that Cunningham, "with intent to corrupt a juror, or to influence said juror with the respect to the discharge of his duty, before and after being summoned as a juror, promised and offered to give away something of value, to wit: money, contrary to section 2917.05, Revised Code of Ohio."

In response to another query, the prosecutor said there was no connection between the charge and the alleged attempt of a Lisbon woman to contact a juror last week.

At that time, Mrs. Mable Stuckey of Lisbon, a juror, told the court she was telephoned by Miss Anna Vitalune of Lisbon and questioned concerning the case. Miss Vitalune apologized to the court Friday afternoon.

Failure of a new effort to locate Richey Wallace, Toronto jeweler-pawn broker sought as a witness in the police burglary trial at Lisbon, forced Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to submit supplementary evidence concerning Wallace's purchase of photographic items stolen from the Burbick Hardware in 1952.

Wallace was to have testified last week in the trial of Cunningham, Carroll and Raimond, but could not be found and the trial was halted Thursday.

A girl employe of Wallace testified this morning he may be found at Barnesville, but a telephone call by Sheriff Russell VanFossan revealed Wallace had left there Friday.

Brokaw then moved to submit evidence concerning Wallace's testimony at a preliminary hearing in 1956 at which Raimond was charged with entering the hardware store.

The jury of six men and six women was excused while arguments were heard on the admissability of the evidence, but was recalled when Judge Raymond Buzzard ruled the testimony could be used.

City Solicitor Joseph Cooper then took the witness stand at 10:55 a. m. to relate what Wallace had said at the preliminary hearing in East Liverpool.

The trial — which began last Monday — was halted Thursday when Wallace could not be located. The prosecutor said Wallace is slated to testify on some equipment purchased by the jeweler from Raimond in 1952—items which can be identified as stolen from the store.

Miss Mary Ann Timko, an employe of Wallace, who was subpoenaed over the weekend, told Brokaw this morning while under oath that Wallace probably is in Barnesville. Brokaw indicated this is the first time the girl has said where Wallace might be.

She said as far as she knew he is staying with a "man named Jim" who engraves cemetery head stones. Miss Timko, an attractive blonde, said she last saw her employer Nov. 8 and has since talked to him by telephone.

Brokaw said he had spoken to Wallace by phone Nov. 7 to advise him he would be needed at the trial and the jeweler said he would come when notified.

Miss Timko this morning said she was acquainted with Riamond —whom she knew only as "Jerry" —but did not know Carroll or Cunningham. The trial was delayed for 35 minutes this morning because Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville had trouble with his auto and could not get to court on time.

Sheriff Russell Van Fossan took the stand this morning to explain his attempts to locate Wallace.

The sheriff testified he went to the Toronto jeweler's store and home Tuesday and Thursday trying to locate him and also checked with neighbors. Mail was in the mail box both days, he said.

Van Fossan said he called Mrs. James Boswell in Barnesville and was told Wallace had been at her home until Friday and then departed. The sheriff said Mrs. Boswell didn't know his whereabouts.

VanFossan said the woman told him Wallace left Friday in a car with his brother.

Both Atty. Alexander and Atty. Sam Feckett, co-defense counsel, objected to the use of the preliminary hearing testimony. Judge Buzzard said it was admissable, but only in relation to Raimond.

Judge Buzzard explained state law permits use of testimony from other hearings or trials if a witness is dead or unable to appear and if the defendant were present.

Cooper said only Raimond was present at the hearing in East Liverpool.

Judge Buzzard instructed the jury the evidence could only be used concerning Raimond and to disregard the testimony in regard to Cunningham and Carroll.

Cooper testified Wallace identified cards which showed camera purchases by him from Raimond.

Under cross-examination by Atty. Alexander Cooper said he could not recall if a court transcript had been taken at the hearing. Cooper said the court reporter, Mrs. Mary Toland, has since died.

Robert Popp, a Review reporter, was expected to testify this afternoon. He also was present at the preliminary hearing. The defense is expected to start its case this afternoon.

Man Shot For Deer

ALPENA, Mich. (AP)—A Toledoan was mistaken for a deer and fatally shot near here during the weekend. Police said a Dearborn, Mich., hunter, Harold Evans, told them he accidentally shot Ralph R. Smart, 62, of Toledo Saturday.

It Keeps It Fluid During Cold Weather

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Dan Payne recently discovered a recipe book used by her grandmother.

She said the recipes were little different from today but the miscellaneous section was a startler. Among the suggestions to aid the housewife was a recipe for making mending cement.

It called for water, powdered glue, white lead and whisky. The whisky, it explained, was to keep it fluid in cold weather.

Wisconsin Switched From Cheese To Butter

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin, best known for its cheese, last year for the first time used more milk for making butter than American cheese.

The five billion pounds of milk used last year for butter accounted for nearly 29 per cent of Wisconsin's record milk production. Meanwhile, Wisconsin factories producing American cheese used about 27 per cent of the milk supply.

This man needs help...

If you are like this man, over the years you have probably purchased a variety of Life insurance policies for varying amounts, with different beneficiaries and varying methods of settlement.

At the time you bought each policy, its purpose was clear. However, looked at today, in the light of changing conditions, do these policies still do the job you intended them to do? The answer to that question calls for a study of your program.

The Metropolitan has a brochure available which will help you get your program under control and up to date, so that it will always be easy to review and understand.

Called "MY LIFE INSURANCE PROGRAM," it is a loose-leaf booklet, custom-made to your needs by the man especially trained to do the job—your Metropolitan Representative. Here is what it contains:

1. A calendar showing the premium due dates on all your policies.

Trial

the station with cash, but Cunningham allowed the bond to be posted by the Liberty Bonding Agency of Youngstown, a professional bonding concern.

The charge alleges that Cunningham, "with intent to corrupt a juror, or to influence said juror with the respect to the discharge of his duty, before and after being summoned as a juror, promised and offered to give away something of value, to wit: money, contrary to section 2917.05, Revised Code of Ohio."

In response to another query, the prosecutor said there was no connection between the charge and the alleged attempt of a Lisbon woman to contact a juror last week.

At that time, Mrs. Mable Stuckey of Lisbon, a juror, told the court she was telephoned by Miss Anna Vitalune of Lisbon and questioned concerning the case. Miss Vitalune apologized to the court Friday afternoon.

Failure of a new effort to locate Richey Wallace, Toronto jeweler-pawn broker sought as a witness in the police burglary trial at Lisbon, forced Prosecutor G. William Brokaw to submit supplementary evidence concerning Wallace's purchase of photographic items stolen from the Burbick Hardware in 1952.

Wallace was to have testified last week in the trial of Cunningham, Carroll and Raimond, but could not be found and the trial was halted Thursday.

A girl employe of Wallace testified this morning he may be found at Barnesville, but a telephone call by Sheriff Russell VanFossan revealed Wallace had left there Friday.

Brokaw then moved to submit evidence concerning Wallace's testimony at a preliminary hearing in 1956 at which Raimond was charged with entering the hardware store.

The jury of six men and six women was excused while arguments were heard on the admissability of the evidence, but was recalled when Judge Raymond Buzzard ruled the testimony could be used.

City Solicitor Joseph Cooper then took the witness stand at 10:55 a. m. to relate what Wallace had said at the preliminary hearing in East Liverpool.

The trial — which began last Monday — was halted Thursday when Wallace could not be located. The prosecutor said Wallace is slated to testify on some equipment purchased by the jeweler from Raimond in 1952—items which can be identified as stolen from the store.

Miss Mary Ann Timko, an employe of Wallace, who was subpoenaed over the weekend, told Brokaw this morning while under oath that Wallace probably is in Barnesville. Brokaw indicated this is the first time the girl has said where Wallace might be.

She said as far as she knew he is staying with a "man named Jim" who engraves cemetery head stones. Miss Timko, an attractive blonde, said she last saw her employer Nov. 8 and has since talked to him by telephone.

Brokaw said he had spoken to Wallace by phone Nov. 7 to advise him he would be needed at the trial and the jeweler said he would come when notified.

Miss Timko this morning said she was acquainted with Riamond —whom she knew only as "Jerry" —but did not know Carroll or Cunningham. The trial was delayed for 35 minutes this morning because Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville had trouble with his auto and could not get to court on time.

Sheriff Russell Van Fossan took the stand this morning to explain his attempts to locate Wallace.

The sheriff testified he went to the Toronto jeweler's store and home Tuesday and Thursday trying to locate him and also checked with neighbors. Mail was in the mail box both days, he said.

Van Fossan said he called Mrs. James Boswell in Barnesville and was told Wallace had been at her home until Friday and then departed. The sheriff said Mrs. Boswell didn't know his whereabouts.

VanFossan said the woman told him Wallace left Friday in a car with his brother.

Both Atty. Alexander and Atty. Sam Feckett, co-defense counsel, objected to the use of the preliminary hearing testimony. Judge Buzzard said it was admissable, but only in relation to Raimond.

Judge Buzzard explained state law permits use of testimony from other hearings or trials if a witness is dead or unable to appear and if the defendant were present.

Cooper said only Raimond was present at the hearing in East Liverpool.

Judge Buzzard instructed the jury the evidence could only be used concerning Raimond and to disregard the testimony in regard to Cunningham and Carroll.

Cooper testified Wallace identified cards which showed camera purchases by him from Raimond.

Under cross-examination by Atty. Alexander Cooper said he could not recall if a court transcript had been taken at the hearing. Cooper said the court reporter, Mrs. Mary Toland, has since died.

Robert Popp, a Review reporter, was expected to testify this afternoon. He also was present at the preliminary hearing. The defense is expected to start its case this afternoon.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Dan Payne recently discovered a recipe book used by her grandmother.

She said the recipes were little different from today but the miscellaneous section was a startler. Among the suggestions to aid the housewife was a recipe for making mending cement.

It called for water, powdered glue, white lead and whisky. The whisky, it explained, was to keep it fluid in cold weather.

'I Don't Want This Town'

The mail brought the following letter to the editor's desk:

"I am 16 years old, a junior in high school. I am young in wisdom, but that does not stop my desire for a city with a future.

"You have heard the saying that money buys happiness. We don't all agree, but money does make possible improvements for our city. A small amount of money from everyone would help make the Fire Department more modern and cut down on fire insurance. We would be able to man a better police force and make improvements on the streets. But the majority of the people of East Liverpool don't seem to want this. Therfore, I do not want this town.

"Some people might say the young ones have got to have everything. But how many of you would have stayed on the same job if a better one were offered? How many of you would have stayed if only an equivalent job were offered elsewhere? Only a minority would have done so, probably only the people who voted to keep the city tax.

"No, I do not want this town.

"You say the town doesn't grow because most of the young people move away. What is here for them to stay? I will move, too. I do not want this town.

"The people make the town is a popular expression. But I would say the people aren't making this town nice. A nice town is one which is appealing in appearance, locality, effectiveness of police and fire departments and civic pride of the people.

"But when the Trades and Labor Council stops gloating over victory and the people who unwisely voted to do away with the city tax come to their senses, only then will East Liverpool start on the road to becoming a nice city on the banks of the Ohio. Then, too, is when all the young people, including myself, will want this town."

The thoughts expressed in the discouraging letter above can't be shrugged off as the "rantings of some youngster." They make a lot of sense and are cause for serious thinking by the adults to whom they are addressed.

There must be others—possibly many—among both adults and teen-agers who feel the same way, but who have hesitated to express themselves as frankly as the above writer.

Any community's future is only as bright as the youngsters who will become its leaders. If they lose faith, then we're in trouble. And, as you can plainly see, one youngster very definitely has lost faith and is looking for more progressive pastures.

There are many, many things good about East Liverpool. But the one big need, in our opinion, is a quick turn from a negative to a positive attitude. Over the years we have been too ready to tear down rather than build up.

There's food for thought in the letter from the high school student who presents himself or herself, as the case may be, only as "The Young One."

Don't dismiss the remarks lightly. Let them sink in deeply. It's time for a change in thinking along much more progressive lines.

For Safety's Sake

The series of recent fires here re-emphasizes the need for caution in the use of heating equipment.

Unfortunately, the present mild weather can't be expected to linger much longer and soon the burden on the various types of heating apparatus will mount in proportion to the dropping thermometer.

The greatest danger, in view of past records, seems to lie in overheated furnaces and the careless use of kerosene in stoves.

Start today and check your heating equipment, if you haven't done so already. Make certain it is in proper working order. This done, the burden falls on the individual householder.

Careful handling of fuel is the answer to the threat of fire in most cases. Tackle the winter winds wisely and keep the fire trucks away from your door.

Big, Small Alike

The smaller communities aren't alone in their money problems.

Pittsburgh is among the bigger cities wrestling with ways and means to help meet mounting operating costs.

A record 1959 budget, a new sanitary sewer system and proper school operation are largely responsible.

The Pittsburgh Board of Education is considering a wage tax to meet its needs. Since Pittsburghers already pay a one-half of one per cent wage tax to the city, the school board would be limited by law to no more than an additional half per cent, bringing the total to the one per cent levied originally by the city in 1954.

"The wage tax would encounter community opposition," the board concedes, "but we ultimately may have to follow it."

It all has a familiar ring as cities large and small go about the almost grim task of tackling their financial obligations.

Watch Your Step

Hunting accidents—including some fatalities—are once more in the news as the outdoors retains its appeal to sportsmen.

Careless handling of firearms is to blame for mishaps in most cases.

There's a right and a wrong way to hunt. The right way means an enjoyable and safe time. The wrong way too often means tragedy, with the sport missing.

Before you go into the woods make certain you have a thorough knowledge of the proper use of firearms. The time you take in learning rules of hunting safety may mean the saving of a life later.

Treasures That Mock

By Frank Tripp

People go through life accumulating things which become problems in their old age. Many a house is a veritable museum of treasures that mock those who cherish them.

Heirlooms age into worse than nuisances, particularly the bulky ones. Disposing of them, which someday must be done, brings heartaches, when no one will accept, even as a gift, some prized family possession of generations ago.

We treasure mementoes of days both joyous and sad, of parents, childhood, places, people and events; of triumphs, achievements, tragedies—a graveyard of memories.

They as often rouse tears as laughter. All who knew their significance die; they become doleful reminders on walls and shelves and white elephants about the house. Yet we save them, then age to wonder why.

WHAT TO DO with them? Burden our children with them? Try it. Throw them away, burn them? try that, and feel the guilt that parting with each brings when you destroy a treasure that you thought would be prized and passed along for generations.

It is a mistake to believe that we can transmit to others, even to our children, the sentiment or memories that surround the outmoded things we save.

Genuine antiques or truly historical items pose no problem. But unwanted are the cluttering intimate hoardings (other than money) out of a family's past; mother's, father's, grandparent's; our own treasures that we naively dream will become heirlooms of our creation, prized eternally by posterity.

Once friends dropped in of an evening to relive an event that some cherished relic typifies. Bill would chuckle, "That's priceless; how did you happen to save it?"—and you'd be proud.

But there's no one left who understands your treasures, no one left to appreciate them with you; just you and your silent reminders that you're a has-been.

They are symbols of senility, your family and others think, when you reminisce in boresome detail. So you haven't enjoyed them for years; they have become depressing.

DOOMED FROM the oncoming American scene will be rambling family homesteads out of the present era.

Nobody builds them anymore. Homes to pass from generation to generation; big houses to rear big families; the homesteads whence came heirlooms and the custom of preserving them.

In those spacious homes there was room for them. They originated there and there they stayed from era to era. Heirs once stayed with them to inhabit the family homestead.

Some such survive out of the past, but few will be added. Most will be razed to rid legatees of their burden, or rebuilt into apartments, lodging houses, even night clubs.

The children who might preserve them cannot afford their maintenance. Today youth roams afar to follow careers or crowds into apartments and cottages that wouldn't hold the contents of a single room of the family homestead. Offspring cannot accept their old homes as a gift, at today's living costs and taxes.

The day of the Old Homestead is gone. And with it, a place—or a reason—to preserve heirlooms and hoard mementoes of bygone days and long-dead people.

If you would spare yourself the hurt that certainly comes from discovering that you're an out-dated, sentimental old fool, save nothing that you can't hide in a suitcase and carry with you to the end

For nobody wants your treasures — no one but you.

The Hope Diamond

Fortunes of the famous Hope Diamond, long haunted by sinister legends, have taken a new turn.

The rare deep-blue stone is now the star exhibit of the Hall of Gems in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C. A gift to the government from New York jeweler Harry Winston, the Hope presumably has left its past behind. But public viewers can still shudder over the tragic events with which it has been romantically linked.

The Smithsonian Curator of Minerals, George S. Switzer, has recalled the Hope's traditional association with some dozen violent deaths. It was also present when disaster struck two royal houses.

The diamond is believed to have been originally part of the larger French Blue worn by Louis XIV. Stolen during the French Revolution's Reign of Terror, it reappeared in England cut to its present 44½-carat oval form. It was named for the banker Henry Thomas Hope, who acquired it in the mid-1800's.

Later, Sultan Abdul-Hamid II of Turkey bought the jewel to adorn a favorite wife. He lost his throne, as had a still more unfortunate previous owner, Louis XVI of France, who also lost his head.

In time, Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean of Washington took on the Hope with its burden of bad-luck superstition. At her death, many years after, it went to Mr. Winston, whose exhibits of it for charity cast a brighter light on its dark history.

Though the Hope Diamond has been valued at $1,000,000, it is by no means the world's costliest gem.

A Sure Pickup!

Washington Against The Law

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON

Right here in the District of Columbia, the latest official figures show, there are 20 schools which are all - Negro and five schools that are all-white. Does this mean that the "law of the land" is being ignored, or, to borrow a phrase from some of the critics, that the law is being "defied?"

David Lawrence

The Supreme Court of the United States in its historic 1954 decision quoted with approval a statement that "segregation of white and colored children in public schools has a detrimental effect upon the colored children."

It cited as one of the "intangible" factors to be considered in providing the Negro student "equality" in education, "his ability to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

The court said "such considerations apply with added force to children in grade and high schools."

The argument, of course, is made that the existence of all-white or all-Negro schools in Washington is due not to a deliberate policy of segregation but to the accident of residence in a particular school district.

But this can be readily overcome by providing bus transportation so that children can be taken from one part of the city to another in order to enjoy the benefits of integration as the Supreme Court has described them.

To get the money for buses, the local government would have to apply to Congress, which runs the District of Columbia.

INDEED, since the law of 1868 which provided for segregation in the District schools was nullified by the Supreme Court in 1954, there has been no substitute law passed on the integration problem.

The District school board took it upon itself to initiate a desegregation program.

It acted under the broad powers of the 1906 Organic Act, which gives the school board rather comprehensive authority over school programs. Only if new projects require additional funds must Congress give the necessary authorization.

Today the District still maintains to some extent the "separate but equal" idea. Not only are there 25 schools that are, in effect, completely segregated but there are 74 other schools in which 90 to 99 per cent are Negro. In 20 additional schools, the enrollment is 90 to 99 per cent white. This means that, out of 170 schools in Washington, 119 are entirely or almost entirely of one race or the other.

How long can such virtual segregation be maintained in the national capital?

The whole country is being told that segregation must be abolished altogether and that there must be no "evasive" schemes. The accident of residence is largely due to discrimination in respect to housing.

There are areas of Washington, for instance, where "restrictive covenants" — contracts made between private citizens not to sell to certain races — operate even though the Supreme Court has ruled that these are not enforceable by legal proceedings.

UNDOUBTEDLY there are children of members of Congress and of officials of the federal government who live in some of the neighborhoods where Negroes are barred from owning property.

This complicates the problem of assigning Negroes to white schools. But residence need not be the controlling factor if the school board decides to carry out the letter of the Supreme Court's decision by seeing to it that the Negro and white children everywhere mingle so as to derive the benefits cited by the court in 1954.

Apparently many people in the District of Columbia are objecting even to such desegregation as has occurred. In the last four years there has been a gradual exodus of white children to private schools or to the suburbs in near-by Virginia and Maryland.

The latest official figures show that, in all public schools in the district, the enrollment now is 74.1 per cent Negro — which means 2,434 fewer whites and 5,539 more Negroes than a year ago.

The elementary schools are 78 per cent Negro. The total enrollment of all schools here is 84,650 Negroes and 29,569 whites.

This is an increase of 55,258 Negro pupils and a decrease of 15,228 whites since schools in Washington were "integrated" four years ago.

IF THE THEORY expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States is accepted, education will not be equal until every Negro child has a chance to attend a white school and "to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

In New York City, several Negro parents are boycotting certain schools which they consider inferior in quality, although "integrated," and are demanding better education through assignment of their children to white schools in other parts of the city irrespective of residence.

They are willing to provide transportation. They are quoting the Supreme Court desegregation decision of 1954 in support of their demands but thus far New York City has refused to redistrict the Negro pupils.

There is some transportation of students out of their regular districts to relieve overcrowding in individual schools, and school authorities state that, where this is necessary, they try whenever possible to achieve integration at the same time but will not transport pupils solely for that purpose.

Negro leaders are asking if this isn't a "defiance" of the "law of the land."

Expenses Tackled Again

By James Marlow

Ike Again Bids To Hold Down Spending

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower has had good intentions about holding down government spending. Despite this, spending has risen.

Now he will try again.

At his Nov. 5 news conference, Eisenhower said that during his final two years in the White House he intends to fight against any excessive spending, which he called dangerous to the nation.

Ever since last summer — as happens every year—agency and department heads have been working on the budget: the President's estimate of what it will cost to run the government in the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1959. He will submit this budget to Congress in January.

While Eisenhower has steadily preached economy, expenses have been steadily getting bigger. Biggest spender of all is the Defense Department, thanks especially to inflation and new weapons.

Of the almost 80 billion dollars which the government is expected to spend this year, more than half will be for national defense.

In one economy move, the Pentagon expects to trim 30,000 men from the Army and 25,000 from the Marines.

The following figures will give an idea of how government costs have risen, starting in fiscal 1953 when President Truman was still in office and this country was still fighting the Korean War.

Before looking at them, remember a couple of things which keep showing up in these figures: the public debt and a deficit.

In World War II the government was never able to pay its expenses from the revenue it collected, mainly from personal income and corporation taxes.

So the government had to borrow money. It may never be able to pay that debt in full, but it will have to pay interest on it, with the interest coming from revenue.

The goal of each administration is to meet each year's expenses out of current revenue and have a surplus left over to pay on the debt. When expenses total more than revenue there is a deficit.

For example: In 1948, when defense spending was at a postwar low and just as the cold war was beginning, government expenditures were $33,100,000,000, the public debt was $252,300,000,000 and, instead of a deficit, the government wound up with a surplus of $8,400,000,000.

Now skip to 1953, when the United States was fighting in Korea, giving billions in foreign aid, and developing its atomic weapons and jet aircraft.

In that year expenditures totaled $74,300,000,000, the debt was 261 billion, and the government had a deficit of $9,400,000,000.

In fiscal 1954 expenditures were down to $67,800,000,000, but the public debt was up to $271,300,000,000 and there was a deficit of $3,100,000,000.

In 1955, after Eisenhower had had time to look around, he cut spending to $64,600,000,000. But the debt was up to $274,400,000,000 and there was a deficit of $4,200,000,000.

That was the last year he was able to cut government spending.

This has been the score since:

1956—Expenditures, 66½ billion dollars; public debt, $272,800,000,000; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

1957—expenditures, $69,400,000,000; public debt, 270½ billion; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

That was the last year Eisenhower had a surplus. From then on the deficit began to soar:

1958 — Expenditures, $71,900,000,000; public debt, $276,300,000,000 and a deficit of $2,800,000,000.

Expenditures for the 1959 fiscal year—which ends next June 30—are estimated at almost 80 billion, the public debt at $283,300,000,000 and the deficit at $12,200,000,000.

Split On Civil Rights

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON

Democratic state chairmen are nearly equally divided on whether the party should adopt a strong civil rights plank in 1960 or compromise with the South.

This division of sentiment was apparent in replies received from Democratic leaders in 43 states to an Associated Press inquiry.

The survey disclosed some strong support outside the South for dealing with civil rights on a basis which would not drive Dixie members out of the party in a presidential year.

On the other hand, chairmen of 18 states representing 596 of the 1,372 votes cast in the 1956 national convention took a no-compromise stand. They declared for a strong plank even if it means a Southern walkout.

These 18 states included: New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island in the East; Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri in the Midwest; Colorado, Washington, Oregon and California in the West.

Eleven Southern chairmen were solidly against the party taking any stronger position than it did two years ago, particularly on school integration.

Chairmen of 11 other states, mostly in the Midwest, said the views of Southern delegates should be taken into consideration.

Arizona Chairman Joseph Walton, Maryland's T. Barton Harrington and Nevada's Fred Strosnider declined comment. Strosnider said National Chairman Paul M. Butler had instructed party officials not to answer such questions.

Butler expects to find himself involved with the issue at a national committee meeting here Dec. 6. He has said his remaining as chairman may depend on reaction to his demand for a stronger civil rights plank than that of 1956.

Two years ago, the Democrats committed themselves to "continued efforts to eliminate illegal discrimination of any kind," including that in public education.

They said Supreme Court decisions, such as that outlawying school segregation, are "part of the law of the land." But they rejected the use of force in segregation matters.

Virginia's Thomas H. Blanton and Arkansas' Tom Harper said they think the party went far enough in 1956. They indicated they would accept a similar statement.

New Hampshire's J. Murray Devine came out for a compromise with the South.

"I believe in a moderate approach to the problem," he said. "You can't legislate this sort of thing. If we push it too fast we might destroy not only the Democratic party but the whole country."

William L. Coleman, Ohio chairman, said "I never saw any problem of this sort which couldn't be solved if everyone concerned was determined to sit down and solve it. . . . I believe the Democratic party is big enough to work it out."

Indiana Chairman Charles E. Skillern said he favors a moderate civil rights plank. He suggested it might outline a program of integration starting in the lowest school grades and gradually working up.

Seaborn P. Collins of New Mexico called for a compromise that would satisfy a majority of the delegates. He added that "I would hate to see a plank that would cause either the north or south to break with the party."

There were some statements that the party must strengthen its position on the issue, no matter what the cost in Southern support.

Oregon's David Epps said the Democrats must have a stronger civil rights plank than the Republicans.

"We have to go farther to retain the North," he said. "No one likes to have a split or lose anyone but if we have to lose somebody, I'd rather lose the South."

Wisconsin's Patrick J. Lucey said he doesn't think the South will bolt. But he said "the wiser heads in the South must recognize that the election results this month are a mandate for a stronger stand on civil rights."

'I Don't Want This Town'

The mail brought the following letter to the editor's desk:

"I am 16 years old, a junior in high school. I am young in wisdom, but that does not stop my desire for a city with a future.

"You have heard the saying that money buys happiness. We don't all agree, but money does make possible improvements for our city. A small amount of money from everyone would help make the Fire Department more modern and cut down on fire insurance. We would be able to man a better police force and make improvements on the streets. But the majority of the people of East Liverpool don't seem to want this. Therfore, I do not want this town.

"Some people might say the young ones have got to have everything. But how many of you would have stayed on the same job if a better one were offered? How many of you would have stayed if only an equivalent job were offered elsewhere? Only a minority would have done so, probably only the people who voted to keep the city tax.

"No, I do not want this town.

"You say the town doesn't grow because most of the young people move away. What is here for them to stay? I will move, too. I do not want this town.

"The people make the town is a popular expression. But I would say the people aren't making this town nice. A nice town is one which is appealing in appearance, locality, effectiveness of police and fire departments and civic pride of the people.

"But when the Trades and Labor Council stops gloating over victory and the people who unwisely voted to do away with the city tax come to their senses, only then will East Liverpool start on the road to becoming a nice city on the banks of the Ohio. Then, too, is when all the young people, including myself, will want this town."

The thoughts expressed in the discouraging letter above can't be shrugged off as the "rantings of some youngster." They make a lot of sense and are cause for serious thinking by the adults to whom they are addressed.

There must be others—possibly many—among both adults and teen-agers who feel the same way, but who have hesitated to express themselves as frankly as the above writer.

Any community's future is only as bright as the youngsters who will become its leaders. If they lose faith, then we're in trouble. And, as you can plainly see, one youngster very definitely has lost faith and is looking for more progressive pastures.

There are many, many things good about East Liverpool. But the one big need, in our opinion, is a quick turn from a negative to a positive attitude. Over the years we have been too ready to tear down rather than build up.

There's food for thought in the letter from the high school student who presents himself or herself, as the case may be, only as "The Young One."

Don't dismiss the remarks lightly. Let them sink in deeply. It's time for a change in thinking along much more progressive lines.

For Safety's Sake

The series of recent fires here re-emphasizes the need for caution in the use of heating equipment.

Unfortunately, the present mild weather can't be expected to linger much longer and soon the burden on the various types of heating apparatus will mount in proportion to the dropping thermometer.

The greatest danger, in view of past records, seems to lie in overheated furnaces and the careless use of kerosene in stoves.

Start today and check your heating equipment, if you haven't done so already. Make certain it is in proper working order. This done, the burden falls on the individual householder.

Careful handling of fuel is the answer to the threat of fire in most cases. Tackle the winter winds wisely and keep the fire trucks away from your door.

Big, Small Alike

The smaller communities aren't alone in their money problems.

Pittsburgh is among the bigger cities wrestling with ways and means to help meet mounting operating costs.

A record 1959 budget, a new sanitary sewer system and proper school operation are largely responsible.

The Pittsburgh Board of Education is considering a wage tax to meet its needs. Since Pittsburghers already pay a one-half of one per cent wage tax to the city, the school board would be limited by law to no more than an additional half per cent, bringing the total to the one per cent levied originally by the city in 1954.

"The wage tax would encounter community opposition," the board concedes, "but we ultimately may have to follow it."

It all has a familiar ring as cities large and small go about the almost grim task of tackling their financial obligations.

Watch Your Step

Hunting accidents—including some fatalities—are once more in the news as the outdoors retains its appeal to sportsmen.

Careless handling of firearms is to blame for mishaps in most cases.

There's a right and a wrong way to hunt. The right way means an enjoyable and safe time. The wrong way too often means tragedy, with the sport missing.

Before you go into the woods make certain you have a thorough knowledge of the proper use of firearms. The time you take in learning rules of hunting safety may mean the saving of a life later.

Treasures That Mock

By Frank Tripp

People go through life accumulating things which become problems in their old age. Many a house is a veritable museum of treasures that mock those who cherish them.

Heirlooms age into worse than nuisances, particularly the bulky ones. Disposing of them, which someday must be done, brings heartaches, when no one will accept, even as a gift, some prized family possession of generations ago.

We treasure mementoes of days both joyous and sad, of parents, childhood, places, people and events; of triumphs, achievements, tragedies—a graveyard of memories.

They as often rouse tears as laughter. All who knew their significance die; they become doleful reminders on walls and shelves and white elephants about the house. Yet we save them, then age to wonder why.

WHAT TO DO with them? Burden our children with them? Try it. Throw them away, burn them? try that, and feel the guilt that parting with each brings when you destroy a treasure that you thought would be prized and passed along for generations.

It is a mistake to believe that we can transmit to others, even to our children, the sentiment or memories that surround the outmoded things we save.

Genuine antiques or truly historical items pose no problem. But unwanted are the cluttering intimate hoardings (other than money) out of a family's past; mother's, father's, grandparent's; our own treasures that we naively dream will become heirlooms of our creation, prized eternally by posterity.

Once friends dropped in of an evening to relive an event that some cherished relic typifies. Bill would chuckle, "That's priceless; how did you happen to save it?"—and you'd be proud.

But there's no one left who understands your treasures, no one left to appreciate them with you; just you and your silent reminders that you're a has-been.

They are symbols of senility, your family and others think, when you reminisce in boresome detail. So you haven't enjoyed them for years; they have become depressing.

DOOMED FROM the oncoming American scene will be rambling family homesteads out of the present era.

Nobody builds them anymore. Homes to pass from generation to generation; big houses to rear big families; the homesteads whence came heirlooms and the custom of preserving them.

In those spacious homes there was room for them. They originated there and there they stayed from era to era. Heirs once stayed with them to inhabit the family homestead.

Some such survive out of the past, but few will be added. Most will be razed to rid legatees of their burden, or rebuilt into apartments, lodging houses, even night clubs.

The children who might preserve them cannot afford their maintenance. Today youth roams afar to follow careers or crowds into apartments and cottages that wouldn't hold the contents of a single room of the family homestead. Offspring cannot accept their old homes as a gift, at today's living costs and taxes.

The day of the Old Homestead is gone. And with it, a place—or a reason—to preserve heirlooms and hoard mementoes of bygone days and long-dead people.

If you would spare yourself the hurt that certainly comes from discovering that you're an out-dated, sentimental old fool, save nothing that you can't hide in a suitcase and carry with you to the end

For nobody wants your treasures — no one but you.

The Hope Diamond

Fortunes of the famous Hope Diamond, long haunted by sinister legends, have taken a new turn.

The rare deep-blue stone is now the star exhibit of the Hall of Gems in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C. A gift to the government from New York jeweler Harry Winston, the Hope presumably has left its past behind. But public viewers can still shudder over the tragic events with which it has been romantically linked.

The Smithsonian Curator of Minerals, George S. Switzer, has recalled the Hope's traditional association with some dozen violent deaths. It was also present when disaster struck two royal houses.

The diamond is believed to have been originally part of the larger French Blue worn by Louis XIV. Stolen during the French Revolution's Reign of Terror, it reappeared in England cut to its present 44½-carat oval form. It was named for the banker Henry Thomas Hope, who acquired it in the mid-1800's.

Later, Sultan Abdul-Hamid II of Turkey bought the jewel to adorn a favorite wife. He lost his throne, as had a still more unfortunate previous owner, Louis XVI of France, who also lost his head.

In time, Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean of Washington took on the Hope with its burden of bad-luck superstition. At her death, many years after, it went to Mr. Winston, whose exhibits of it for charity cast a brighter light on its dark history.

Though the Hope Diamond has been valued at $1,000,000, it is by no means the world's costliest gem.

A Sure Pickup!

Washington Against The Law

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON

Right here in the District of Columbia, the latest official figures show, there are 20 schools which are all - Negro and five schools that are all-white. Does this mean that the "law of the land" is being ignored, or, to borrow a phrase from some of the critics, that the law is being "defied?"

David Lawrence

The Supreme Court of the United States in its historic 1954 decision quoted with approval a statement that "segregation of white and colored children in public schools has a detrimental effect upon the colored children."

It cited as one of the "intangible" factors to be considered in providing the Negro student "equality" in education, "his ability to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

The court said "such considerations apply with added force to children in grade and high schools."

The argument, of course, is made that the existence of all-white or all-Negro schools in Washington is due not to a deliberate policy of segregation but to the accident of residence in a particular school district.

But this can be readily overcome by providing bus transportation so that children can be taken from one part of the city to another in order to enjoy the benefits of integration as the Supreme Court has described them.

To get the money for buses, the local government would have to apply to Congress, which runs the District of Columbia.

INDEED, since the law of 1868 which provided for segregation in the District schools was nullified by the Supreme Court in 1954, there has been no substitute law passed on the integration problem.

The District school board took it upon itself to initiate a desegregation program.

It acted under the broad powers of the 1906 Organic Act, which gives the school board rather comprehensive authority over school programs. Only if new projects require additional funds must Congress give the necessary authorization.

Today the District still maintains to some extent the "separate but equal" idea. Not only are there 25 schools that are, in effect, completely segregated but there are 74 other schools in which 90 to 99 per cent are Negro. In 20 additional schools, the enrollment is 90 to 99 per cent white. This means that, out of 170 schools in Washington, 119 are entirely or almost entirely of one race or the other.

How long can such virtual segregation be maintained in the national capital?

The whole country is being told that segregation must be abolished altogether and that there must be no "evasive" schemes. The accident of residence is largely due to discrimination in respect to housing.

There are areas of Washington, for instance, where "restrictive covenants" — contracts made between private citizens not to sell to certain races — operate even though the Supreme Court has ruled that these are not enforceable by legal proceedings.

UNDOUBTEDLY there are children of members of Congress and of officials of the federal government who live in some of the neighborhoods where Negroes are barred from owning property.

This complicates the problem of assigning Negroes to white schools. But residence need not be the controlling factor if the school board decides to carry out the letter of the Supreme Court's decision by seeing to it that the Negro and white children everywhere mingle so as to derive the benefits cited by the court in 1954.

Apparently many people in the District of Columbia are objecting even to such desegregation as has occurred. In the last four years there has been a gradual exodus of white children to private schools or to the suburbs in near-by Virginia and Maryland.

The latest official figures show that, in all public schools in the district, the enrollment now is 74.1 per cent Negro — which means 2,434 fewer whites and 5,539 more Negroes than a year ago.

The elementary schools are 78 per cent Negro. The total enrollment of all schools here is 84,650 Negroes and 29,569 whites.

This is an increase of 55,258 Negro pupils and a decrease of 15,228 whites since schools in Washington were "integrated" four years ago.

IF THE THEORY expounded by the Supreme Court of the United States is accepted, education will not be equal until every Negro child has a chance to attend a white school and "to study, to engage in discussions and exchange views with other students."

In New York City, several Negro parents are boycotting certain schools which they consider inferior in quality, although "integrated," and are demanding better education through assignment of their children to white schools in other parts of the city irrespective of residence.

They are willing to provide transportation. They are quoting the Supreme Court desegregation decision of 1954 in support of their demands but thus far New York City has refused to redistrict the Negro pupils.

There is some transportation of students out of their regular districts to relieve overcrowding in individual schools, and school authorities state that, where this is necessary, they try whenever possible to achieve integration at the same time but will not transport pupils solely for that purpose.

Negro leaders are asking if this isn't a "defiance" of the "law of the land."

Expenses Tackled Again

By James Marlow

Ike Again Bids To Hold Down Spending

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower has had good intentions about holding down government spending. Despite this, spending has risen.

Now he will try again.

At his Nov. 5 news conference, Eisenhower said that during his final two years in the White House he intends to fight against any excessive spending, which he called dangerous to the nation.

Ever since last summer — as happens every year—agency and department heads have been working on the budget: the President's estimate of what it will cost to run the government in the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1959. He will submit this budget to Congress in January.

While Eisenhower has steadily preached economy, expenses have been steadily getting bigger. Biggest spender of all is the Defense Department, thanks especially to inflation and new weapons.

Of the almost 80 billion dollars which the government is expected to spend this year, more than half will be for national defense.

In one economy move, the Pentagon expects to trim 30,000 men from the Army and 25,000 from the Marines.

The following figures will give an idea of how government costs have risen, starting in fiscal 1953 when President Truman was still in office and this country was still fighting the Korean War.

Before looking at them, remember a couple of things which keep showing up in these figures: the public debt and a deficit.

In World War II the government was never able to pay its expenses from the revenue it collected, mainly from personal income and corporation taxes.

So the government had to borrow money. It may never be able to pay that debt in full, but it will have to pay interest on it, with the interest coming from revenue.

The goal of each administration is to meet each year's expenses out of current revenue and have a surplus left over to pay on the debt. When expenses total more than revenue there is a deficit.

For example: In 1948, when defense spending was at a postwar low and just as the cold war was beginning, government expenditures were $33,100,000,000, the public debt was $252,300,000,000 and, instead of a deficit, the government wound up with a surplus of $8,400,000,000.

Now skip to 1953, when the United States was fighting in Korea, giving billions in foreign aid, and developing its atomic weapons and jet aircraft.

In that year expenditures totaled $74,300,000,000, the debt was 261 billion, and the government had a deficit of $9,400,000,000.

In fiscal 1954 expenditures were down to $67,800,000,000, but the public debt was up to $271,300,000,000 and there was a deficit of $3,100,000,000.

In 1955, after Eisenhower had had time to look around, he cut spending to $64,600,000,000. But the debt was up to $274,400,000,000 and there was a deficit of $4,200,000,000.

That was the last year he was able to cut government spending.

This has been the score since:

1956—Expenditures, 66½ billion dollars; public debt, $272,800,000,000; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

1957—expenditures, $69,400,000,000; public debt, 270½ billion; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

That was the last year Eisenhower had a surplus. From then on the deficit began to soar:

1958 — Expenditures, $71,900,000,000; public debt, $276,300,000,000 and a deficit of $2,800,000,000.

Expenditures for the 1959 fiscal year—which ends next June 30—are estimated at almost 80 billion, the public debt at $283,300,000,000 and the deficit at $12,200,000,000.

Split On Civil Rights

By Jack Bell

WASHINGTON

Democratic state chairmen are nearly equally divided on whether the party should adopt a strong civil rights plank in 1960 or compromise with the South.

This division of sentiment was apparent in replies received from Democratic leaders in 43 states to an Associated Press inquiry.

The survey disclosed some strong support outside the South for dealing with civil rights on a basis which would not drive Dixie members out of the party in a presidential year.

On the other hand, chairmen of 18 states representing 596 of the 1,372 votes cast in the 1956 national convention took a no-compromise stand. They declared for a strong plank even if it means a Southern walkout.

These 18 states included: New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island in the East; Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri in the Midwest; Colorado, Washington, Oregon and California in the West.

Eleven Southern chairmen were solidly against the party taking any stronger position than it did two years ago, particularly on school integration.

Chairmen of 11 other states, mostly in the Midwest, said the views of Southern delegates should be taken into consideration.

Arizona Chairman Joseph Walton, Maryland's T. Barton Harrington and Nevada's Fred Strosnider declined comment. Strosnider said National Chairman Paul M. Butler had instructed party officials not to answer such questions.

Butler expects to find himself involved with the issue at a national committee meeting here Dec. 6. He has said his remaining as chairman may depend on reaction to his demand for a stronger civil rights plank than that of 1956.

Two years ago, the Democrats committed themselves to "continued efforts to eliminate illegal discrimination of any kind," including that in public education.

They said Supreme Court decisions, such as that outlawying school segregation, are "part of the law of the land." But they rejected the use of force in segregation matters.

Virginia's Thomas H. Blanton and Arkansas' Tom Harper said they think the party went far enough in 1956. They indicated they would accept a similar statement.

New Hampshire's J. Murray Devine came out for a compromise with the South.

"I believe in a moderate approach to the problem," he said. "You can't legislate this sort of thing. If we push it too fast we might destroy not only the Democratic party but the whole country."

William L. Coleman, Ohio chairman, said "I never saw any problem of this sort which couldn't be solved if everyone concerned was determined to sit down and solve it. . . . I believe the Democratic party is big enough to work it out."

Indiana Chairman Charles E. Skillern said he favors a moderate civil rights plank. He suggested it might outline a program of integration starting in the lowest school grades and gradually working up.

Seaborn P. Collins of New Mexico called for a compromise that would satisfy a majority of the delegates. He added that "I would hate to see a plank that would cause either the north or south to break with the party."

There were some statements that the party must strengthen its position on the issue, no matter what the cost in Southern support.

Oregon's David Epps said the Democrats must have a stronger civil rights plank than the Republicans.

"We have to go farther to retain the North," he said. "No one likes to have a split or lose anyone but if we have to lose somebody, I'd rather lose the South."

Wisconsin's Patrick J. Lucey said he doesn't think the South will bolt. But he said "the wiser heads in the South must recognize that the election results this month are a mandate for a stronger stand on civil rights."

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Guests of the East Liverpool Odd Fellows Lodge were John M. Gledhill, grand master, and W. E. Crosier, both of Columbus.

It was announced that the 50th annual convention of the United States Potters Association would be held in December at the Waldorf - Astoria, New York City.

Work progressed on the grading of the approach to the new stretch of the Lincoln highway at the Chester corporation line.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Olen Dawson, county treasurer, addressed the Lions Club at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Thanksgiving boxes for veterans' hospitals at Dayton, Chilicothe and Sandusky and the Xenia Orphans Home were packed by the Auxiliary to East Liverpool American Legion Post 4.

TEN YEARS AGO — A crowd of 100 attended a communion breakfast and commemoration service of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, at St. Aloysius Church.

A donation of $15 was made to the Children's Home at Berea, Ky., by the Naomi Bible Class of the Boyce Methodist Church.

Rivets made of high strength stainless steel containing 24 per cent nickel are used to weld the wing surfaces on supersonic jet bombers.

Races Staged By Cub Scouts

Salem Youth Wins Model Car Event

SALEM—A crowd of nearly 200 saw the racer of Cub Scout James Corey of Cub Pack 5 of the Christian Church at Salem race across the finish line to win the first annual Shawnee District "Pinewood Derby", Saturday.

Jimmy's racer was the fastest of over 100 cars representing Cub Scout packs from Salem, Columbiana, Leetonia, Lisbon, New Waterford, Hanoverton, and East Palestine.

Carroll Greene, Shawnee District camping and activities chairman, presented the first place trophy to the winner. The second place trophy went to James Southern of Salem's Pack 3 and the third place trophy was awarded to Jerry Ray of Pack 70 of New Waterford.

The first, second and third place winners from each cub pack will enter the council race next Saturday at Lisbon High School. The Columbiana Council office announced that the race will be open to the public free.

First place winners of each pack are as follows: Pack 3, James Southerin; Pack 4, Steve Morris; Pack 5, James Corey; Pack 6, Thomas Bica; Pack 62, Randy Kirsch; Pack 70, Jerry R.y.

The racers are constructed by Cub Scouts with the help of their fathers and raced on a 30-foot incline track. The cars are checked at the finish line by an electronic time. Several cars were disqualified because of use of lubrication, which is forbidden. Cars cannot weigh over 5 ounces, and several of the cars had to be cut down before the race.

Awards Given For Employes At Pattersons

Eighty-five employes of the Patterson Foundry and Machine Co. attended a service award dinner Friday night at the Country Club, when awards were presented to employes with five years or more service.

Pins ranged from bronze for the 5- to 10-year group to a double diamond pin for those with 25 or more years of service. Albert Birch and James H. Rose headed the service list with 48 and 47 years, respectively. Awards were presented by C. W. Gerster, president.

H. T. Marks, president of Ferro Corp., and G. E. Weber, vice president and treasurer of Ferro and secretary-treasurer of Patterson Foundry, were among the guests. Other guests included R. L. Cawood and four employes who recently retired, including B. H. Bucher, F. H. Hillard, A. C. Lang and G. C. McBane.

Short talks were given by Marks, Cawood and Elmer Dany, executive vice president of Patterson firm and vice president of Ferro's furnace division. James Lowe also spoke.

A gift was presented to each of the men recently retired under the Patterson pension plan. John McDonough won a prize.

A second service award dinner is planned Friday night at the Country Club for another group of employes. Invitations have been sent to 166, officials said.

2 Motorists Fined On Traffic Counts

Two motorists were fined and two others forfeited bonds on traffic violations today in Municipal Court.

John H. Cline Jr., 1735 Main St., Wellsville, was fined $25 and costs by Judge George L. Brokaw on a speeding charge filed by the State Highway Patrol, which alleged he was traveling 80 miles an hour Wednesday night on Route 7.

Otto T. Jenkins, 19, of LaCroft was fined $5 and costs for driving without a valid operator's permit. He was cited at 3 a. m. Sunday on Lisbon St., police said.

Herbert E. Unger, 813 Lisbon St., forfeited two bonds of $11 each on charges of crashing stop signs at Globe and Walter Sts. and Holliday and Walters Sts. He was arrested at 4:15 p. m. Sunday, officers said.

Harold W. Evans of Weirton forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic signal early this morning at W. 8th and Chestnut Sts.

President Announces Workers In Hancock

WEIRTON — A list of chairmen and volunteer workers who will conduct the annual Christmas Seal campaign of the Hancock County Tuberculosis League was announced today by Mrs. Robert S. Meighen of Weirton, president.

Mrs. John Bender of Weirton is general chairman of the campaign, with this year's goal set at $6,500. Mrs. Leon Albert is seal sales chairman in Weirton. Mrs. Thomas Williamson is New Cumberland sales chairman, while Mrs. F. N. Richmond is Chester's chairman, Mrs. George Gogol is chairman for Newell and Mrs. L. J. Richmond for Pughtown.

Other chairmen for various activities include Mrs. L. J. Miller, business donations; Mrs. E. D. Rothrock, professional division; Mrs. Leon Albert and Mrs. George Campbell, mailing; Mrs. David Frew and Mrs. Clarence Stetson, school sales; Mrs. John Ovington and Mrs. Anthony Cavalle, window displays; Mrs. John A. Jones, sales publicity, and Mrs. Meighen, special advance gifts.

Proceeds from the annual sale are used to fight tuberculosis throughout the year in the county. The drive, which opened Friday, will conclude Christmas Day.

Yale Officials Wonder About Ohio Graduate

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale officials wonder who the Ohio boy will be who will graduate with the Yale class of 2037 and wind up in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Here is the pattern to date:

In the class of 1837, from Ohio, was Morrison R. Waite. He became Chief Justice. In the class of 1937, from Ohio, was Potter Stewart. He was recently appointed to the high bench.

The pattern may have started two centuries ago. In the class of 1737 was Philip Livingston who signed the Declaration of Independence — which created the Supreme Court.

PTA Sets Party

GEORGETOWN — The Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a public card party tonight at 8 in the school to obtain funds for school projects. The committee in charge will include Mrs. John Miles, Mrs. Walter Allison and Mrs. Andrew McHaffie. Prizes will be awarded and lunch will be served.

53 Couples Attend Party Of Seniors At Midland School

About 53 couples attended the Midland High School senior class party held Saturday at the United Steelworkers Building.

Music and entertainment were provided by the LaVelle Orchestra of Pittsburgh, Patty DiNardo, acrobat, Billy Webb, comedian and master of ceremonies, and the Kentuckians, Chuck and Bill, recording stars.

Entertainers were furnished through the Nicholas Theatrical Agency of Pittsburgh.

Party registration was conducted from midnight to 1 a. m. The reception committee was composed of post-prom committee officers and program and entertainment chairmen.

The theme, "In the Still of the Night," included decorations in a blue and silver color theme. Autumn flowers and silver crescent moons were table centerpieces.

Guests at the party included Board of Education members, Joe D'Alesio, president of USW Local 1212, Andy Sopko, union trustee, and members of Midland Borough Council.

Vorndran's Election Campaign Cost $951

County Auditor I. J. Vorndran reported to the County Election Board over the weekend that he spent $951.28 in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election at the Nov. 4 general election.

Earl Spalding of East Palestine, who won one of three county court judgeships, said he spent $226.33 in his campaign.

The Homeworth volunteer fire department said it spent $9.25 and the North Georgetown volunteer fire department reported no expenses in supporting a Knox Township fire levy. The joint report was filed by Chief Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown and Eldon Kerr, treasurer of the Homeworth department.

The Beaver Local Board of Education reported no expenses in supporting a bond issue and two tax levies.

Wellsville Man Fined On Shoplifting Charge

A Wellsville man was fined for shoplifting at a hearing Saturday before Mayor William J. Shoub.

Roy Ammon, 374 Broadway, was arrested Saturday morning at Lawson 5 & 10 Cent Store on Main St. after he had stolen two cigarette lighters, Wellsville police said. He was fined $25.

History Seen Traced Through Cookbooks

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — L. E. Goeller Sr., whose hobby is cookery, says he can trace a lot of history through the 60 or more cookbooks he owns.

"It's interesting to see that historical events not only changed governments by conquest, but even affected what people put in their stomachs," he explains.

An Indian Winner

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Acee Blue Eagle, Creek Indian artist from Okmulgee, Okla., scored heavily at the American Indian Exposition here. His painting, "Buffalo Hunters," won the grand prize in arts judging and he was honored as the "Outstanding Indian of 1958."

Teaching Of National Anthem Parents' Job

BYRAM, Conn. (AP) — George L. B. Fraser, principal of the Bryan school, assigned parents of fourth to eighth grade pupils the job of teaching their children the national anthem when he found that many children didn't even know the first stanza.

A school quiz revealed that only two pupils in the fourth grade and one sixth grader knew the words to the anthem.

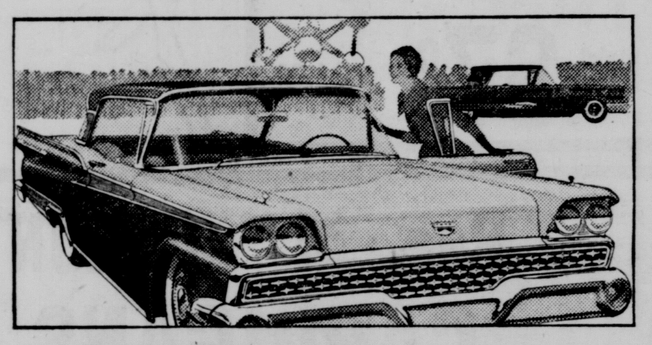
Four big reasons why

FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS



AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the 59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal by the Comité Français de l'Elégance for the most beautiful proportions and styling elegance in every graceful line.

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the great styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition.

What makes the 59 Ford such an immediate success? One prime reason, heard in showrooms from coast to coast, is "good taste." There is the classic simplicity of Thunderbird-inspired design—the clear-cut clean lines that are pure automobile.

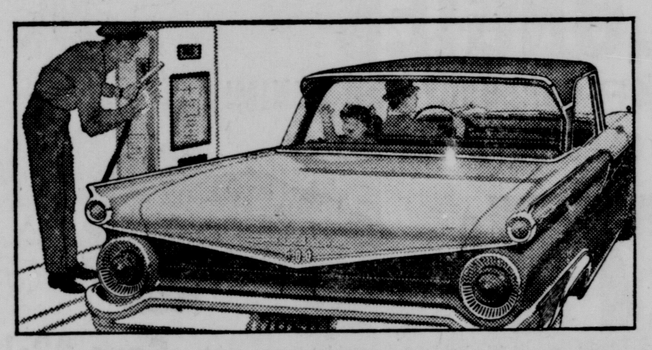
There is a kind of beautiful good sense, too, in the design of the new Ford that goes far beyond just good looks. Ford cars are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort. Result? A fresh, elegant new kind of car.

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to get inside easily and stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort every happy mile.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands on thousands of customers have already bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird.) All six passengers in a 59 Ford get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers don't feel they're riding with their feet in a bucket. And the man in the middle has the same deep, soft cushioning as the other passengers.

Cars are supposed to be made to get in and out of. Well, Ford makes it real easy. Compare for yourself. Just get in and out of a Ford with its bigger, wider-opening doors!

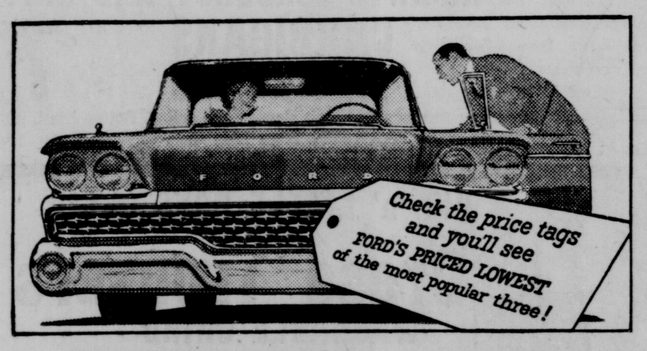


YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with Ford's new standard engines—both V-8 and Six—that run superbly on regular gasoline.

The No.1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas . . . a dollar on every tankful because Ford's standard Six and Thunderbird V-8 engines are engineered to give you powerhouse performance on good old low-cost regular gas.

But that's not all—Ford saves you hard cash on oil, too. Every 59 Ford has a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Result: You can drive a full 4000 miles without an oil change. And Ford has ended the old problem of waxing your car. The new miracle is called Diamond Lustre Finish, an amazing paint that will stay gleaming bright without waxing—ever! This is another Ford First, of the kind your bank account likes.



THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices! Check the prices, and you'll see for yourself!

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. This is a simple fact, if you'll take the time and trouble to shop and compare. All you have to do is look for yourself, and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And, if you want an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85.

All this means that if you want a car with Thunderbird-inspired styling, and that famous Thunderbird V-8 performance (or the most modern Six in the industry)—all this with hard-cash economy—then the car to buy is the 59 Ford.

Carroll Greene, Shawnee District camping and activities chairman, presented the first place trophy to the winner. The second place trophy went to James Southern of Salem's Pack 3 and the third place trophy was awarded to Jerry Ray of Pack 70 of New Waterford.

The first, second and third place winners from each cub pack will enter the council race next Saturday at Lisbon High School. The Columbiana Council office announced that the race will be open to the public free.

First place winners of each pack are as follows: Pack 3, James Southerin; Pack 4, Steve Morris; Pack 5, James Corey; Pack 6, Thomas Bica; Pack 62, Randy Kirsch; Pack 70, Jerry R.y.

The racers are constructed by Cub Scouts with the help of their fathers and raced on a 30-foot incline track. The cars are checked at the finish line by an electronic time. Several cars were disqualified because of use of lubrication, which is forbidden. Cars cannot weigh over 5 ounces, and several of the cars had to be cut down before the race.

Awards Given For Employes At Pattersons

Eighty-five employes of the Patterson Foundry and Machine Co. attended a service award dinner Friday night at the Country Club, when awards were presented to employes with five years or more service.

Pins ranged from bronze for the 5- to 10-year group to a double diamond pin for those with 25 or more years of service. Albert Birch and James H. Rose headed the service list with 48 and 47 years, respectively. Awards were presented by C. W. Gerster, president.

H. T. Marks, president of Ferro Corp., and G. E. Weber, vice president and treasurer of Ferro and secretary-treasurer of Patterson Foundry, were among the guests. Other guests included R. L. Cawood and four employes who recently retired, including B. H. Bucher, F. H. Hillard, A. C. Lang and G. C. McBane.

Short talks were given by Marks, Cawood and Elmer Dany, executive vice president of Patterson firm and vice president of Ferro's furnace division. James Lowe also spoke.

A gift was presented to each of the men recently retired under the Patterson pension plan. John McDonough won a prize.

A second service award dinner is planned Friday night at the Country Club for another group of employes. Invitations have been sent to 166, officials said.

2 Motorists Fined On Traffic Counts

Two motorists were fined and two others forfeited bonds on traffic violations today in Municipal Court.

John H. Cline Jr., 1735 Main St., Wellsville, was fined $25 and costs by Judge George L. Brokaw on a speeding charge filed by the State Highway Patrol, which alleged he was traveling 80 miles an hour Wednesday night on Route 7.

Otto T. Jenkins, 19, of LaCroft was fined $5 and costs for driving without a valid operator's permit. He was cited at 3 a. m. Sunday on Lisbon St., police said.

Herbert E. Unger, 813 Lisbon St., forfeited two bonds of $11 each on charges of crashing stop signs at Globe and Walter Sts. and Holliday and Walters Sts. He was arrested at 4:15 p. m. Sunday, officers said.

Harold W. Evans of Weirton forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic signal early this morning at W. 8th and Chestnut Sts.

President Announces Workers In Hancock

WEIRTON — A list of chairmen and volunteer workers who will conduct the annual Christmas Seal campaign of the Hancock County Tuberculosis League was announced today by Mrs. Robert S. Meighen of Weirton, president.

Mrs. John Bender of Weirton is general chairman of the campaign, with this year's goal set at $6,500. Mrs. Leon Albert is seal sales chairman in Weirton. Mrs. Thomas Williamson is New Cumberland sales chairman, while Mrs. F. N. Richmond is Chester's chairman, Mrs. George Gogol is chairman for Newell and Mrs. L. J. Richmond for Pughtown.

Other chairmen for various activities include Mrs. L. J. Miller, business donations; Mrs. E. D. Rothrock, professional division; Mrs. Leon Albert and Mrs. George Campbell, mailing; Mrs. David Frew and Mrs. Clarence Stetson, school sales; Mrs. John Ovington and Mrs. Anthony Cavalle, window displays; Mrs. John A. Jones, sales publicity, and Mrs. Meighen, special advance gifts.

Proceeds from the annual sale are used to fight tuberculosis throughout the year in the county. The drive, which opened Friday, will conclude Christmas Day.

Yale Officials Wonder About Ohio Graduate

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale officials wonder who the Ohio boy will be who will graduate with the Yale class of 2037 and wind up in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Here is the pattern to date:

In the class of 1837, from Ohio, was Morrison R. Waite. He became Chief Justice. In the class of 1937, from Ohio, was Potter Stewart. He was recently appointed to the high bench.

The pattern may have started two centuries ago. In the class of 1737 was Philip Livingston who signed the Declaration of Independence — which created the Supreme Court.

PTA Sets Party

GEORGETOWN — The Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a public card party tonight at 8 in the school to obtain funds for school projects. The committee in charge will include Mrs. John Miles, Mrs. Walter Allison and Mrs. Andrew McHaffie. Prizes will be awarded and lunch will be served.

53 Couples Attend Party Of Seniors At Midland School

About 53 couples attended the Midland High School senior class party held Saturday at the United Steelworkers Building.

Music and entertainment were provided by the LaVelle Orchestra of Pittsburgh, Patty DiNardo, acrobat, Billy Webb, comedian and master of ceremonies, and the Kentuckians, Chuck and Bill, recording stars.

Entertainers were furnished through the Nicholas Theatrical Agency of Pittsburgh.

Party registration was conducted from midnight to 1 a. m. The reception committee was composed of post-prom committee officers and program and entertainment chairmen.

The theme, "In the Still of the Night," included decorations in a blue and silver color theme. Autumn flowers and silver crescent moons were table centerpieces.

Guests at the party included Board of Education members, Joe D'Alesio, president of USW Local 1212, Andy Sopko, union trustee, and members of Midland Borough Council.

Vorndran's Election Campaign Cost $951

County Auditor I. J. Vorndran reported to the County Election Board over the weekend that he spent $951.28 in his unsuccessful campaign for re-election at the Nov. 4 general election.

Earl Spalding of East Palestine, who won one of three county court judgeships, said he spent $226.33 in his campaign.

The Homeworth volunteer fire department said it spent $9.25 and the North Georgetown volunteer fire department reported no expenses in supporting a Knox Township fire levy. The joint report was filed by Chief Hugh McPherson of North Georgetown and Eldon Kerr, treasurer of the Homeworth department.

The Beaver Local Board of Education reported no expenses in supporting a bond issue and two tax levies.

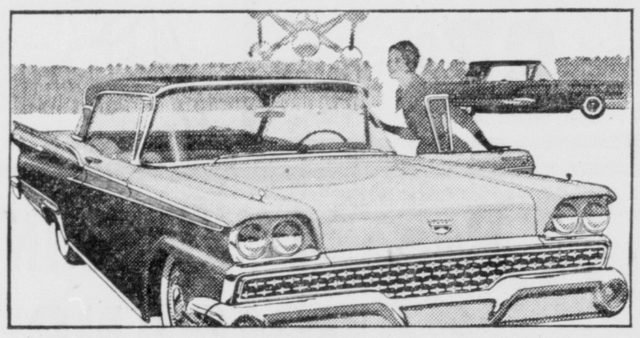
Four big reasons why
FORD IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS



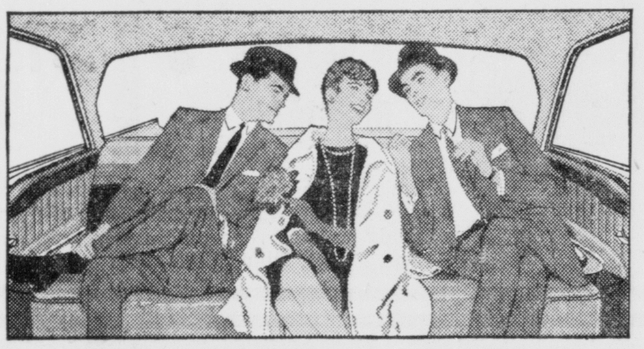
AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the 59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal by the Comité Français de l'Elégance for the most beautiful proportions and styling elegance in every graceful line.

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the great styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition.

What makes the 59 Ford such an immediate success? One prime reason, heard in showrooms from coast to coast, is "good taste." There is the classic simplicity of Thunderbird-inspired design—the clear-cut clean lines that are pure automobile.

There is a kind of beautiful good sense, too, in the design of the new Ford that goes far beyond just good looks. Ford cars are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort. Result? A fresh, elegant new kind of car.

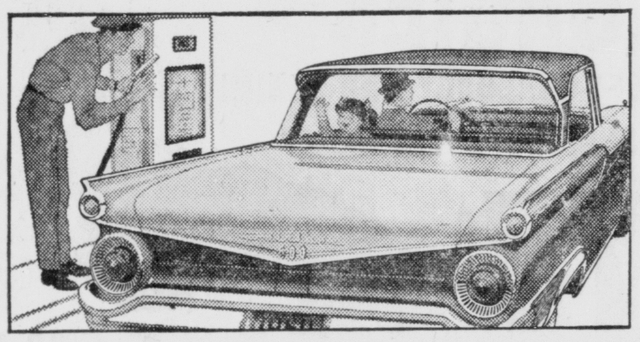


ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to get inside easily and stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort every happy mile.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands on thousands of customers have already bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird.) All six passengers in a 59 Ford get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers don't feel they're riding with their feet in a bucket. And the man in the middle has the same deep, soft cushioning as the other passengers.

Cars are supposed to be made to get in and out of. Well, Ford makes it real easy. Compare for yourself. Just get in and out of a Ford with its bigger, wider-opening doors!

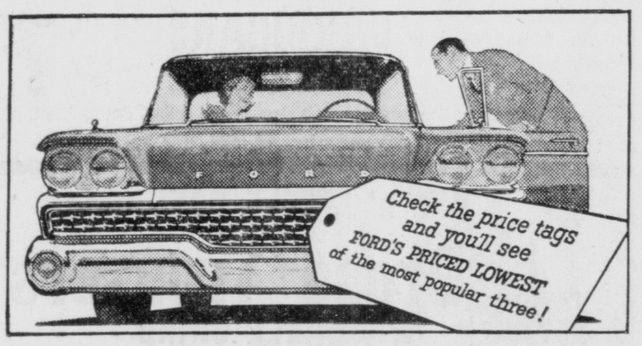


YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with Ford's new standard engines—both V-8 and Six—that run superbly on regular gasoline.

The No.1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas . . . a dollar on every tankful because Ford's standard Six and Thunderbird V-8 engines are engineered to give you powerhouse performance on good old low-cost regular gas.

But that's not all—Ford saves you hard cash on oil, too. Every 59 Ford has a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Result: You can drive a full 4000 miles without an oil change. And Ford has ended the old problem of waxing your car. The new miracle is called Diamond Lustre Finish, an amazing paint that will stay gleaming bright without waxing—ever! This is another Ford First, of the kind your bank account likes.



THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices! Check the prices, and you'll see for yourself!

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. This is a simple fact, if you'll take the time and trouble to shop and compare. All you have to do is look for yourself, and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And, if you want an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85.

All this means that if you want a car with Thunderbird-inspired styling, and that famous Thunderbird V-8 performance (or the most modern Six in the industry)—all this with hard-cash economy—then the car to buy is the 59 Ford.

Salineville Coed, Athlete Wind Up In Tie On TV Quiz

Kay Madison, Salineville coed, and Lou Groza, kicking "artist" of the Cleveland Browns professional football team, ended with a $3,000 deadlock in a contest of wits and skill with another girl college student and place-kicker Saturday night on the nationally-televised program, "Brains and Brawn."

Miss Madison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Madison of Main St., and Groza competed with Miss Jane Moorefield of Oregon State College and Sam Baker of the Washington Redskins, a former Oregon State student.

In each round of the competition, the two girls matched wits on puzzles and questions and the two football players competed in place-kicking. The Salineville girl and her partner trailed badly at the outset, but managed a tie as the program ended.

Staged at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D. C., the show was seen in this area on NBC channels 6, 7 and 11. The competition will continue Nov. 29, when the show will be presented from Municipal Stadium at Cleveland.

The Sixth District mid-winter conference and school of instruction will be held at Post 1036 in Alliance Dec. 6-7.

City's Firemen Answer 2 Minor Weekend Calls

Two minor calls were answered over the weekend by city firemen.

Firemen investigated a report of smoke at the First Presbyterian Church on E. 4th St. Sunday at 12:14 p. m., but found nothing.

A radio shorted and started smoke Saturday at 6:26 p. m. at the home of Frank McKenzie, 1069 Dresden Ave.

You can steam foods two ways: in a heavy pan with a tight-fitting cover with just enough liquid to create steam; or in a perforated vessel over a small amount of boiling water in a covered kettle.

Weekend Thieves Hit Private Garages Here

It must have been a mechanically-minded and thirsty thief who raided two garages over the week end, police reported.

Jack Horsley of Sunset Dr. told police a thief stole a case of beer and two cases of soft drinks from his garage about 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

Paul Gill, 1213 Pennsylvania Ave., reported a tool box containing assorted tools was stolen from his garage between 1 and 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Green cabbage, shredded paper-thin and mixed with well-seasoned mayonnaise, makes delicious and nutritious sandwiches to serve with a platter of cold meats.

Painting Big Signs Not Cut Out For Him

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Kenneth Harris, well-known for his water color painting made a big sign for a Norfolk education group.

"Hardest work I've ever done. If I had to do this kind of work for a living it would kill me," Harris said. "I'm used to working on a much smaller scale."

Miss Ruth Urie LE 2-2288

Officers of the Golden Reapers Class of the First Methodist Church were retained at the annual election Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Ethel Clark of 6th St.

Approved after the nominating committee, Mrs. Eva Vermillion, Mrs. Martha Lashley and Mrs. Roberta McLaughlin, asked them to serve for another year, were:

Miss Helen Bibbee, president; Mrs. Clark, vice president; Mrs. Shirley Crook, secretary, and Mrs. Frances Menough, treasurer.

The class gave a $25 donation to Mrs. Jennie Calhoun, school nurse, for welfare work. The class decided to have a 50-cent exchange at the Christmas party and give the difference to the contribution.

Miss Bibbee, devotion leader, used Neh. 12 and Thess. 1, a poem, "For our Thanks to Thee," and closed with prayer. Plans were completed to serve the OES installation lunch Dec. 1 with Mrs. Virginia Lewis and Mrs. Crook co-chairmen.

Games were directed by Mrs. Frances Menough and the traveling basket was won by Mrs. Georgia Brown. Mrs. Jean Henthorn displayed articles made by the Gamma Sigma Chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority to be sold for benefit of its nurse scholarship fund.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Norma Wolfe, Miss Kathryn Johnson and Mrs. McLaughlin. The December meeting will be at the Bibbee home in Oakmont with Mrs. Betty Havelock as devotion leader and Miss Esther Frances Swift program leader.

The Thanksgiving theme was used for devotions of the Mary Leighton Class of the Central Methodist Church Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Nona Morehead of Maple Ave.

Virgil Hawksworth, leader, read Psalm 43 and an article from "The Guidepost" entitled "How Grateful Are You?" Mrs. Lelia Driggs, president, conducted business. The class is selling Christmas and everyday cards to raise money for its projects. Members will make miniature waist measure aprons to be taken to the January meeting to get additional funds.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Ralph Morehead and Mrs. Hawksworth. Choir members will be guests at the December meeting and Christmas coverdish in the church. A 50-cent gift exchange will be held and dime books will be turned in.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter was an honor student, homecoming queen and extremely popular. She married the son of a clergyman two years ago and everyone said it was an ideal match.

Yesterday she told me something shocking. I'm still stunned as I write this letter. I can't speak to our minister because he's our son-in-law's father.

It seems my daughter and her husband had a spat on their honeymoon. He has bolted her out of the bedroom ever since that night. She wept uncontrollably when she told me she's been sleeping on the couch in the living room for two years.

She's begged him to see a doctor or a marriage counselor but he refuses. He says he's perfectly content with things as they are.

My daughter is no Marilyn Monroe when it comes to looks, but she's attractive and full of life. I am heartsick over this. What should be done?

—GRIEVING MOTHER.

If your son-in-law were married to Marilyn Monroe he'd lock her out, too. He's sick. Your daughter should not punish herself with notions that she's a failure because the trouble is with HIM not her.

The poor fellow probably was reared with distorted notions about sex. These twisted ideas have produced guilt feelings which make a normal married relationship impossible. He undoubtedly picked the fight on the honeymoon to provide an excuse for not living up to his marital obligations.

Your daughter's marriage is a mockery and a shell. She has a right to insist that her husband see a doctor and make an effort to get straightened around. If he refuses she should see a clergyman (not her father-in-law) and learn if her denomination offers a religious annulment, then visit an attorney and make it legal.

It's A Pleasure

Dear Ann: What do you think about a husband who starts to call his wife "Mama"? My own opinion is that love has gone out the window when they drop the first name.

When I mentioned this to my husband he said I was 10,000 per cent wrong. Am I? How about it? I would like your honest opinion. —FLORENCE.

Dear Florence: Forgive me for resorting to an intimate personal example to illustrate the point, but your letter stirred up some pleasant memories. My own wonderful parents were married more than 35 years before death separated them. I never once remember hearing my mother or father call one another by their given names. It was always "Mama" and "Papa."

So you see, I'm with your husband 10,000 per cent. And thank you for writing. I particularly enjoyed answering your letter.

The Wiser Choice

Dear Ann: My fiance and I are having a little problem and we need some advice from a disinterested party. He just returned from the service and we plan to marry right before Christmas. We've been saving our money but there isn't enough for a down payment on a house we'd care to buy.

My parents have offered to build a kitchenette next to the den and convert that space into a little apartment for us. We could live there free as long as we wanted.

I believe this is a very generous offer and want to accept it. My fiance is against it. Both my parents are a little hurt over his attitude. Is my future husband being foolish? What do you say? —DECEMBER BRIDE.

-:-

Your future husband is far from foolish. He's on very solid ground. Every newly-married couple is better off in their private little love nest, even if it's a broom closet over a boiler factory. It's much easier to resolve those first-year arguments out of earshot of relatives. Believe me, there's no place like home —your OWN, that is.

Confidentially

From Ann Landers to all you who signed letters Debbie and Eddie: Have a heart, will you please? I'm too busy for jokes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Eber Smith of New Concord has concluded a visit at the Frank McKarns on R. D. 2.

Thomas Heiney of Mill St. is convalescing at City Hospital from injuries received recently in an accident.

Mrs. George Goppert of W. Main St. left Saturday for a month's vacation with relatives in California.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average two to four degrees below normal. Normal high 46 north, 52 south. Normal low 31-34. Mild Tuesday, turning colder Wednesday and Thursday, little change Friday and Saturday. Precipitation will average around one inch in showers Tuesday and in southeast and extreme east early Wednesday. Rains likely in extreme south about Friday or Saturday.

Library Books Appropriate As Education Week Followup

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said parents and teachers who observed National Education Week will find further inspiration in Stuart Chase's new volume, "Some Things Worth Knowing."

The author of "The Proper Study of Mankind" sketches a blueprint for the learned man. He bemoans this age of specialization in which the so-called educated men have too much authority. He maintains that leaving learning to the specialists is dangerous and weak. His book is surely one answer to enlarging the individual's horizons.

Sybil Terman and Charles Walcutt declare in "Reading, Chaos and Cure," that almost 1 million of the 4 million youngsters who started to school this year will develop reading problems. They declare that American schools are 40 years behind the reading progress made by students in primary schools in 1916.

The authors, both experienced educators, outline a simple program which would reduce the problem within a year. Since they enthusiastically endorse phonetics, they have included over 100 pages of exercises. These phonetic drills are the best that the library has received to date.

The H. W. Wilson Reference Shelf devotes its latest debate volume to "America's Educational Needs." This includes every major magazine article and speech made about schools during the past year. A helpful inclusion is the White House Conference Report on Education.

Josephine Lawrence, noted for her satirical modern stories about American life, has a sure-fire success in "The Ring of Truth." A spinister aunt who is tired of being heckled about her single status goes to a New York hotel and registers as a married woman.

This week there are two regional novels of modern context. The first concerns the economic problems in the Connecticut Valley tobacco plantations. The author is Mildred Savage and the title of this Literary Guild choice is "Parrish." A lieutenant in the Marine Corps has turned novelist in the "Flesh of Kings." The author is Armin Frank and he writes about a father's passions and its effect on his sons in the back country of Southern Ohio.

An Ohio author, Dorothy James Roberts, of Marietta once again turns to medieval legend for her plot. Formerly she has dealt with the Arthurian tales and with Tristan and Isolde. In "Return of a Stranger," her inspiration is the poignant tale of Etain of Ireland —bride of two kings. Few of us realize that the Danes ruled in Dublin for more than 100 years. Howard Breslin writes of this period in "The Gallow-Glass."

Truman Capote heads a trio of outstanding short story writers. His collection which includes one short novel is "Breakfast at Tiffany's." Dorothy Canfield Fisher has published "A Harvest of Stories" from 50 years of writing. "The Wild Streets" are tales of famous frontier towns by Members of the Western Writers of America.

Some escape hatches for mystery fans are "Playback," by Raymond Chandler; "Extreme License," by Jerome Barry, and "Someone from the Past," by Margot Bennett.

Wellsville K. Of C. Council Schedules Memorial Service

Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 509 will hold its annual commemorative service for deceased members Tuesday night at 8.

Guest speakers will be William J. Bamer, past grand knight of Carroll Council 507 of East Liverpool, and Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, faithful navigator of Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Fred Baldassare, past grand knight, will be in charge of the rites. He will be assisted by James Salters, George Prokop, Ernest McCarty, John Lascola and Darrell McCarron. James Ross, grand knight, will direct the choir.

Prayers will be led by Fr. John Wirtz, assistant pastor or the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville. Lascola, fraternal activities chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

John Cataldo will give a eulogy of deceased members and Fr. William Lawler, council chaplain and pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, will give a eulogy of Pope Pius XII.

Members of district councils have been invited. Requiem High Mass for deceased members was held Sunday morning at the church. Fr. Lawler was celebrant.

Will Confer Degrees

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown University, will confer honorary doctor degrees on three steel industry executives Wednesday night at the school's golden anniversary academic convocation. Clifford F. Hood, president of U. S. Steel Corp. and convocation speaker, will receive a doctor of engineering degree; William Haig Ramage, president of Valley Mould and Iron Corp. and a university trustee, will be given a doctor of laws degree, and Walter E. Watson, retired vice president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. will get a doctorate of humane letters.

Rail Executive Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph Hardie Young, 94, a pioneer railroad exexcutive, died Saturday. He had served as president of several lines in the Pacific Northwest and was assistant to the president of the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. and the Union Switch and Signal Co. from 1947 until his retirement in 1952. He was born in Salt Lake City.

Clarkson

The Friendship Class of the Presbyterian Church will elect officers at a meeting Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Band Hall.

A calendar will be completed for the 1959 hostesses and entertainment chairmen. A coverdish dinner will be served.

Earl Davis, president, will conduct business. This is the first meeting since July.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Welce entertained Sunday with a dinner at their home, honoring their son, Phillip, on his birthday anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brubaker and son, Robert, and daughter, Lois, of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan McGhie will leave this week for their home at Ft. Myers, Fla., to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Louise Hole are visiting several weeks at Ft. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hole have returned after a visit to Ft. Myers.

The Young Married Peoples Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School will hold a theater party Saturday, Robert Smith, president, announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daiger, Pomona Grange officers and members of the Clarkson Grange, were part of a committee that met Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Borton of Alliance to complete Pomona project plans for 1959.

A small amount of ammonia added to warm water and used as a rinse will help remove fish and onion odors from flatware and dishes.

Cub Scouts Race Miniature Cars In 'Pinewood Derby'

Five Cub Scout packs from the Cherokee District competed in a "pinewood derby," a racing event for miniature cars, Saturday afternoon at Westgate Junior High gymnasium.

Competing were members of Pack 7 of St. Aloysius Church, Pack 12 of the First Presbyterian Church, Pack 31 of Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, Pack 36 of Longs Run Presbyterian Church and Pack 43 of Pleasant Heights School.

The pack winners in the order in which they finished were: John Lowery, Mathew Kuzmich and Charles Harris of Pack 7; Michael Parkes, Karl Oyster and Ralph Locke of Pack 12; Bill Hopper, James Laughlin and James Twyford of Pack 31; Jim Tiddle and Bob Brandt of Pack 36, and Bobby Charlton, Davil Tomb and Michael Casey of Pack 43.

Cherokee District trophies for the fastest three racers went to Billy Hopper, first, Michael Parkes, second, and Bobby Charlton, third.

The top three from each pack will compete with the winners of the Shawnee District derby at Lisbon High School Nov. 22 to determine the top winners of the Columbiana Council.

The 7-inch wooden racers cannot weigh more than 5 ounces, but can be of any design the maker wishes. The race is held on a specially-made 31-foot track.

The adult staff for the derby was comprised of Earl Locke, institutional representative of Pack 12, Frank Hopper, committeeman of Pack 31, Adolph Brandt, institutional representative of Pack 31, and Frank Hancock, camping and activities member. William Rayburn, district camping and activities chairman, was in charge.

Ironton Store Robbed

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Thieves cut a hole through the roof of a downtown men's clothing store this weekend and made off with men's jewelry, shoes, between 250 and 300 suits, and other items, police said. They said the intruders probably had a truck, and struck sometime between 5 p.m. Saturday closing time and 10 a.m. Sunday, when a member of the firm discovered the loss.

VA Points Out Loans To GI Have No Grace

Despite what some veterans may believe, there is no grace period for the late payment of installments on GI loans, William Holsinger, manager of the VA Regional Office in Cleveland, reminded today.

Holsinger added, veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date due.

Failure to do so may prove costly, Holsinger pointed out, since GI lenders may make an extra service charge when payments are received late.

He warned that veterans who gain the reputation of being "chronic delinquents" will find their lenders taking that fact into account if the veterans should ever need an extension of repayment time on their GI loans.

In addition to their loss of credit standing, veterans who become delinquent in their payments may ultimately be faced with the loss of the property acquired with their GI loans, the VA official said.

Arrows Rid Jet Plane Of Hitch-Hiking Cats

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force used an unusual ballistic missile to get rid of two bobcats on a jet fuel tank at Edwards Air Force Base.

Airman James R. Moore, an amateur archer, was called in because rifle shots might have killed the bobcats — but could also have touched off the fuel tank.

Moore's first arrow, launched from 25 yards, killed one bobcat. The other was nicked by the second arrow and bounded off into the desert.

2 Drivers Forfeit

LISBON—Two motorists forfeited bonds in Mayor John Todd's court Sunday. Gabriel V. Ludman, 66, of East Liverpool R. D. 2 forfeited $15 for driving left of center and George H. Ball, 1, of Akron forfeited $10 for passing at the crest of a hill. Both arrests were made by State Highway patrolmen.

Library Books Appropriate As Education Week Followup

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said parents and teachers who observed National Education Week will find further inspiration in Stuart Chase's new volume, "Some Things Worth Knowing."

The author of "The Proper Study of Mankind" sketches a blueprint for the learned man. He bemoans this age of specialization in which the so-called educated men have too much authority. He maintains that leaving learning to the specialists is dangerous and weak. His book is surely one answer to enlarging the individual's horizons.

Sybil Terman and Charles Walcutt declare in "Reading, Chaos and Cure," that almost 1 million of the 4 million youngsters who started to school this year will develop reading problems. They declare that American schools are 40 years behind the reading progress made by students in primary schools in 1916.

The authors, both experienced educators, outline a simple program which would reduce the problem within a year. Since they enthusiastically endorse phonetics, they have included over 100 pages of exercises. These phonetic drills are the best that the library has received to date.

The H. W. Wilson Reference Shelf devotes its latest debate volume to "America's Educational Needs." This includes every major magazine article and speech made about schools during the past year. A helpful inclusion is the White House Conference Report on Education.

Josephine Lawrence, noted for her satirical modern stories about American life, has a sure-fire success in "The Ring of Truth." A spinister aunt who is tired of being heckled about her single status goes to a New York hotel and registers as a married woman.

This week there are two regional novels of modern context. The first concerns the economic problems in the Connecticut Valley tobacco plantations. The author is Mildred Savage and the title of this Literary Guild choice is "Parrish." A lieutenant in the Marine Corps has turned novelist in the "Flesh of Kings." The author is Armin Frank and he writes about a father's passions and its effect on his sons in the back country of Southern Ohio.

An Ohio author, Dorothy James-Roberts, of Marietta once again turns to medieval legend for her plot. Formerly she has dealt with the Arthurian tales and with Tristan and Isolde. In "Return of a Stranger," her inspiration is the poignant tale of Etain of Ireland —bride of two kings. Few of us realize that the Danes ruled in Dublin for more than 100 years. Howard Breslin writes of this period in "The Gallow-Glass."

Truman Capote heads a trio of outstanding short story writers. His collection which includes one short novel is "Breakfast at Tiffany's." Dorothy Canfield Fisher has published "A Harvest of Stories" from 50 years of writing. "The Wild Streets" are tales of famous frontier towns by Members of the Western Writers of America.

Some escape hatches for mystery fans are "Playback," by Raymond Chandler; "Extreme License," by Jerome Barry, and "Someone from the Past," by Margot Bennett.

Wellsville K. Of C. Council Schedules Memorial Service

Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 509 will hold its annual commemorative service for deceased members Tuesday night at 8.

Guest speakers will be William J. Bamer, past grand knight of Carroll Council 507 of East Liverpool, and Frank R. O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, faithful navigator of Cardinal Mercier Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Fred Baldassare, past grand knight, will be in charge of the rites. He will be assisted by James Salters, George Prokop, Ernest McCarty, John Lascola and Darrell McCarron. James Ross, grand knight, will direct the choir.

Prayers will be led by Fr. John Wirtz, assistant pastor or the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville. Lascola, fraternal activities chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

John Cataldo will give a eulogy of deceased members and Fr. William Lawler, council chaplain and pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, will give a eulogy of Pope Pius XII.

Members of district councils have been invited. Requiem High Mass for deceased members was held Sunday morning at the church. Fr. Lawler was celebrant.

Will Confer Degrees

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of Youngstown University, will confer honorary doctor degrees on three steel industry executives Wednesday night at the school's golden anniversary academic convocation. Clifford F. Hood, president of U. S. Steel Corp. and convocation speaker, will receive a doctor of engineering degree; William Haig Ramage, president of Valley Mould and Iron Corp. and a university trustee, will be given a doctor of laws degree, and Walter E. Watson, retired vice president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. will get a doctorate of humane letters.

Rail Executive Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Joseph Hardie Young, 94, a pioneer railroad executive, died Saturday. He had served as president of several lines in the Pacific Northwest and was assistant to the president of the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. and the Union Switch and Signal Co. from 1947 until his retirement in 1952. He was born in Salt Lake City.

Clarkson

The Friendship Class of the Presbyterian Church will elect officers at a meeting Tuesday at 7 p. m. at the Band Hall.

A calendar will be completed for the 1959 hostesses and entertainment chairmen. A coverdish dinner will be served.

Earl Davis, president, will conduct business. This is the first meeting since July.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Welce entertained Sunday with a dinner at their home, honoring their son, Phillip, on his birthday anniversary. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brubaker and son, Robert, and daughter, Lois, of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan McGhie will leave this week for their home at Ft. Myers, Fla., to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Louise Hole are visiting several weeks at Ft. Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hole have returned after a visit to Ft. Myers.

The Young Married Peoples Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School will hold a theater party Saturday, Robert Smith, president, announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daiger, Pomona Grange officers and members of the Clarkson Grange, were part of a committee that met Sunday at the home of Mrs. Ethel Borton of Alliance to complete Pomona project plans for 1959.

A small amount of ammonia added to warm water and used as a rinse will help remove fish and onion odors from flatware and dishes.

Cub Scouts Race Miniature Cars In 'Pinewood Derby'

Five Cub Scout packs from the Cherokee District competed in a "pinewood derby," a racing event for miniature cars, Saturday afternoon at Westgate Junior High gymnasium.

Competing were members of Pack 7 of St. Aloysius Church, Pack 12 of the First Presbyterian Church, Pack 31 of Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, Pack 36 of Longs Run Presbyterian Church and Pack 43 of Pleasant Heights School.

The pack winners in the order in which they finished were: John Lowery, Mathew Kuzmich and Charles Harris of Pack 7; Michael Parkes, Karl Oyster and Ralph Locke of Pack 12; Bill Hopper, James Laughlin and James Twyford of Pack 31; Jim Tiddle and Bob Brandt of Pack 36, and Bobby Charlton, Davil Tomb and Michael Casey of Pack 43.

Cherokee District trophies for the fastest three racers went to Billy Hopper, first, Michael Parkes, second, and Bobby Charlton, third.

The top three from each pack will compete with the winners of the Shawnee District derby at Lisbon High School Nov. 22 to determine the top winners of the Columbiana Council.

The 7-inch wooden racers cannot weigh more than 5 ounces, but can be of any design the maker wishes. The race is held on a specially-made 31-foot track.

The adult staff for the derby was comprised of Earl Locke, institutional representative of Pack 12, Frank Hopper, committeeman of Pack 31, Adolph Brandt, institutional representative of Pack 31, and Frank Hancock, camping and activities member. William Rayburn, district camping and activities chairman, was in charge.

Ironton Store Robbed

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Thieves cut a hole through the roof of a downtown men's clothing store this weekend and made off with men's jewelry, shoes, between 250 and 300 suits, and other items, police said. They said the intruders probably had a truck, and struck sometime between 5 p.m. Saturday closing time and 10 a.m. Sunday, when a member of the firm discovered the loss.

VA Points Out Loans To GI Have No Grace

Despite what some veterans may believe, there is no grace period for the late payment of installments on GI loans, William Holsinger, manager of the VA Regional Office in Cleveland, reminded today.

Holsinger added, veterans should make their GI loan payments on or before the date due.

Failure to do so may prove costly, Holsinger pointed out, since GI lenders may make an extra service charge when payments are received late.

He warned that veterans who gain the reputation of being "chronic delinquents" will find their lenders taking that fact into account if the veterans should ever need an extension of repayment time on their GI loans.

In addition to their loss of credit standing, veterans who become delinquent in their payments may ultimately be faced with the loss of the property acquired with their GI loans, the VA official said.

Arrows Rid Jet Plane Of Hitch-Hiking Cats

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force used an unusual ballistic missile to get rid of two bobcats on a jet fuel tank at Edwards Air Force Base.

Airman James R. Moore, an amateur archer, was called in because rifle shots might have killed the bobcats — but could also have touched off the fuel tank.

Moore's first arrow, launched from 25 yards, killed one bobcat. The other was nicked by the second arrow and bounded off into the desert.

2 Drivers Forfeit

LISBON—Two motorists forfeited bonds in Mayor John Todd's court Sunday. Gabriel V. Ludman, 66, of East Liverpool R. D. 2 forfeited $15 for driving left of center and George H. Ball, 1, of Akron forfeited $10 for passing at the crest of a hill. Both arrests were made by State Highway patrolmen.

Ohio Educators Report On Trip

Social Pressure Cited On Red Pupils

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the student in Russia is more serious than the American student, it may be attributed in part to social pressure and rewards, plus the threat of forced work for those who fail, say three Ohio educators who toured the U.S.S.R. for a month this fall.

The trio—Dr. L. Warren Nelson, professor of education at Miami (Ohio) University; Dr. Gerald Read, professor of theoretical foundations of education at Kent State University, and Dr. Robert S. Brown, Marion, Ohio, superintendent of schools—appeared on a radio-television panel here Sunday.

Pressure is so intense on the Russian student, Dr. Nelson said, that failure to do his best drops him into an almost immoral class in the public eye. But despite stern, almost stiff discipline in the higher grades, he added, there is surprising warmth in the pupil-teacher relationship.

"In a few cases, I even saw some pupils differ with their teachers and get away with it," he explained.

Dr. Brown said he is awed by the "fanatic, deep desire to train the mind . . . the deep respect for education itself." But he is appalled, he continued, at the Russian school philosophy of the state above all and the absolute rejection of the Diety.

Dr. Read, leader of the tour on his second visit to the U.S.S.R., warned that the tour concentrated only on four large cities, while most of the nation is rural, and that viewer judgment is likely to be influenced by background.

All agreed the Russian and American systems can be compared, but not in terms of "good" and "bad."

"They're designed for different purposes," Dr. Nelson said.

Approach and technique are the prime differences, the trio said, and Dr. Read added:

"They drill the students and if they don't get it in the morning, they drill in the afternoon. And if they don't get it in the afternoon, they drill in the evening. And if they don't get it in the evening, they drill in (summer) camp. Eventually, they get it."

Reviewing the merits of both systems, Dr. Brown suggested:

Introduce foreign languages earlier (in American schools)—"I'd like to see Russian considered in the seventh and eighth grades . . . should consider chinese."

Carry students deeper into physics.

Study a pre-school program for 3-year-olds (about two months) and kindergartens for 3 to 7-year-old.

Weight Control Challenges 'Little Woman'

The "little woman," just a whiff over five feet, often takes on weight with ease. Generally she has an unruffled disposition and is a joy to live with. Ten extra pounds give her rounded curves and pleasing plump pness, and her husband expresses approval.

Ida Jean Kain

Being short on height, however, our little woman gets more miles to the calories, so to speak. She loves to cook and is happily occupied with her growing family. Insidiously, the pounds continue to sneak on. Ten years and five children later, the once just pleasingly plump little mother is appalled to find herself 50 pounds overweight.

This is the predicament in which many a homemaker in her middle thirties finds herself. One young homemaker writes:

"AFTER THE birth of each child, I retained some of the added weight and kept gaining ever so slowly. But I honestly believed that I didn't look my weight, even when it reached 160 for my 5 feet 1.

"One day, while going on a window shopping excursion, I saw what looked like the closest thing to a blimp reflected in a window. I glanced all about me, but alas, the mess of blubber was me. What a jolt! Then and there I declared war on my overweight. I decided on a gradual attack.

"For a start, I gave up only between meal eating for the first two weeks. After two weeks, I eliminated most fats and trimmed starches and sugars sharply. I have never left the table hungry, but neither am I stuffed. I eat a good breakfast, an egg included.

"My lunch is light with cheese, cottage cheese, an egg or its equivalent, and supper permits me a serving of all plain cooked vegetables; fish, fowl or meat; and either a half of a baked potato or a slice of bread. With this arrangement, I've lost 22 pounds in 3½ months.

"In the last five weeks, I've been cheating, and I feel a bit of a failure. How can I get back on the slimming beam? I have 13 pounds to go."

Your goal is within sight! At this point do everything imaginable to rekindle enthusiasm. Slip out the vision plate on your bathroom scales. Borrow the children's crayons and with a red crayon draw a line at the 160 mark, the starting point. As you step on the scales twice a week, it will be no end heartening to see where you came from. With a green for "go" crayon, mark your present weight. At the 125 pound mark draw a pink line. Aim to be "in the pink" by the holidays.

ALSO, GET a tape measure and

sew black snaps at your present measurements. Sew white snaps on the tape two inches less around the waist, abdomen and hips. Each day as you go through your precision calisthenics, picture yourself slimming down through the middle measurement.

If you like to live dangerously, buy a new red dress a size smaller...and slim down to fit it. Just 13 pounds and you've got it made!

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Scouter Given Award At Veterans Day Event

About 150 attended a Veterans Day dinner-dance at the home of Chester American Legion Post 121 Saturday night, when William Martin of Chester, Boy Scout official, was presented a certificate for completing a training course.

William Martin, vice chairman of the Cherokee District of Columbiana Boy Scout Council, was presented the certificate by A. C. West, district chairman. Martin completed the Key Three training course at the Shiff Scout Reservation near New Brunswick, N. J.

Some 17 Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts attended. West, Post Commander Dale Allison and Dwight Allison spoke briefly. The meal was served by the post auxiliary. Music was provided by Bob Hall's orchestra.

Ohio Doctor Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Honored as one of eight medical women of the year for her longtime fight for better pre-natal care and for the rights of women in medicine, Dr. Helena T. Ratterman of Cincinnati has shown she's as busy as ever. Now assistant professor of clinical obstetrics at the University of Cincinnati, she was unable to spare time for the American Medical Women's Assn. mid-year conference here and received the award Sunday in absentia.

Benefit Sale Set By Klondyke PTA

The Klondyke Parent - Teacher Association Friday afternoon made plans for a rummage sale to be held Jan. 12-17 at the Odd Fellows Hall in East End.

Mrs. Betty Hager, treasurer, presided in the absence of Ralph C. Stanley, president. Prior to the meeting school children presented a program as part of American Education Week.

Mrs. Norman Horner, member of the area's Civil Defense Corps, gave a talk. The PTA decided to sponsor Civil Defense identification tags for the school children.

The rooms of Mrs. Ruth Dawson and Mrs. Florence Burton tied for the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by teachers.

A Christmas party will be held sometime in December.

"They drill the students and if they don't get it in the morning, they drill in the afternoon. And if they don't get it in the afternoon, they drill in the evening. And if they don't get it in the evening, they drill in (summer) camp. Eventually, they get it."

Reviewing the merits of both systems, Dr. Brown suggested:

Introduce foreign languages earlier (in American schools)—"I'd like to see Russian considered in the seventh and eighth grades . . . should consider chinese."

Carry students deeper into physics.

Study a pre-school program for 3-year-olds (about two months) and kindergartens for 3 to 7-year-old.

Keep In Trim

Weight Control Challenges 'Little Woman'

The "little woman," just a whiff over five feet, often takes on weight with ease. Generally she has an unruffled disposition and is a joy to live with. Ten extra pounds give her rounded curves and pleasing plump pness, and her husband expresses approval.

Ida Jean Kain

Being short on height, however, our little woman gets more miles to the calories, so to speak. She loves to cook and is happily occupied with her growing family. Insidiously, the pounds continue to sneak on. Ten years and five children later, the once just pleasingly plump little mother is appalled to find herself 50 pounds overweight.

This is the predicament in which many a homemaker in her middle thirties finds herself. One young homemaker writes:

"AFTER THE birth of each child, I retained some of the added weight and kept gaining ever so slowly. But I honestly believed that I didn't look my weight, even when it reached 160 for my 5 feet 1.

"One day, while going on a window shopping excursion, I saw what looked like the closest thing to a blimp reflected in a window. I glanced all about me, but alas, the mess of blubber was me. What a jolt! Then and there I declared war on my overweight. I decided on a gradual attack.

"For a start, I gave up only between meal eating for the first two weeks. After two weeks, I eliminated most fats and trimmed starches and sugars sharply. I have never left the table hungry, but neither am I stuffed. I eat a good breakfast, an egg included.

"My lunch is light with cheese, cottage cheese, an egg or its equivalent, and supper permits me a serving of all plain cooked vegetables; fish, fowl or meat; and either a half of a baked potato or a slice of bread. With this arrangement, I've lost 22 pounds in 3½ months.

"In the last five weeks, I've been cheating, and I feel a bit of a failure. How can I get back on the slimming beam? I have 13 pounds to go."

Your goal is within sight! At this point do everything imaginable to rekindle enthusiasm. Slip out the vision plate on your bathroom scales. Borrow the children's crayons and with a red crayon draw a line at the 160 mark, the starting point. As you step on the scales twice a week, it will be no end heartening to see where you came from. With a green for "go" crayon, mark your present weight. At the 125 pound mark draw a pink line. Aim to be "in the pink" by the holidays.

sew black snaps at your present measurements. Sew white snaps on the tape two inches less around the waist, abdomen and hips. Each day as you go through your precision calisthenics, picture yourself slimming down through the middle measurement.

If you like to live dangerously, buy a new red dress a size smaller...and slim down to fit it. Just 13 pounds and you've got it made!

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Scouter Given Award At Veterans Day Event

About 150 attended a Veterans Day dinner-dance at the home of Chester American Legion Post 121 Saturday night, when William Martin of Chester, Boy Scout official, was presented a certificate for completing a training course.

William Martin, vice chairman of the Cherokee District of Columbiana Boy Scout Council, was presented the certificate by A. C. West, district chairman. Martin completed the Key Three training course at the Shiff Scout Reservation near New Brunswick, N. J.

Some 17 Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts attended. West, Post Commander Dale Allison and Dwight Allison spoke briefly. The meal was served by the post auxiliary. Music was provided by Bob Hall's orchestra.

Ohio Doctor Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Honored as one of eight medical women of the year for her longtime fight for better pre-natal care and for the rights of women in medicine, Dr. Helena T. Ratterman of Cincinnati has shown she's as busy as ever. Now assistant professor of clinical obstetrics at the University of Cincinnati, she was unable to spare time for the American Medical Women's Assn. mid-year conference here and received the award Sunday in absentia.

Benefit Sale Set By Klondyke PTA

The Klondyke Parent - Teacher Association Friday afternoon made plans for a rummage sale to be held Jan. 12-17 at the Odd Fellows Hall in East End.

Mrs. Betty Hager, treasurer, presided in the absence of Ralph C. Stanley, president. Prior to the meeting school children presented a program as part of American Education Week.

Mrs. Norman Horner, member of the area's Civil Defense Corps, gave a talk. The PTA decided to sponsor Civil Defense identification tags for the school children.

The rooms of Mrs. Ruth Dawson and Mrs. Florence Burton tied for the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by teachers.

A Christmas party will be held sometime in December.

Asks Rate Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and five other subsidiaries of Columbia Gas System are asking the Power Commission to permit increased rates to match boosts sought by a main supplier of the area's Civil Defense Corps, gave a talk. The PTA decided to sponsor Civil Defense identification tags for the school children. Transmission Co. Ohio Fuel seeks to recover $315,000.

East Germany Softens Bid For Western Recognition

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist regime seemed today to be pushing the soft sell in an effort to coax recognition from the West. The West wasn't buying.

After belligerently echoing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand that the United States, Britain and France give up their protective occupation of West Berlin, the East Germans made two conciliatory gestures:

1. They unexpectedly freed tourist George S. Milroy of Ann Arbor, Mich., after holding him for four weeks as an apparent pawn to force the United States to negotiate for his release.

2. East German party boss Walter Ulbricht announced in a speech that he was prepared to deal reasonably with the Western powers in Berlin if Russia makes good on her threat to withdraw from the present four-power occupation setup.

A Soviet withdrawal presumably would be followed by East German interference with road, rail and barge traffic between West Germany and the Western allied garrisons in West Berlin. The Western powers assume the Russians will retain control of the air corridors to Berlin and have said they would supply their sectors of the city by air rather than deal with the East German regime.

Traffic between the city and West Germany flowed normally. The only interruption has been the detention of a three-truck U.S. military convoy Friday.

Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin, in a calming speech Sunday night, said he did not believe the Communists were ready to attempt a new blockade.

Khrushchev's get-out-of-Berlin declaration a week ago gave the East German Communists a late campaign talking point in Sunday election of a new rubberstamp Parliament.

In releasing tourist Milroy at the West German border Saturday night, the East Germans dropped their demand that the United States open direct diplomatic bargaining for his freedom.

He was arrested by Russians on Oct. 17 near Neustrelitz, 70 miles north of Berlin, on charges of taking an unauthorized picture of military installations.

Church At Fairfield Plans Bazaar, Dinner

EAST FAIRFIELD—The Methodist Church will hold a bazaar and dinner Saturday night at the Fairfield Township High School to raise money for the building fund.

Ham and turkey suppers will be served from 5:30 to 7 p. m.

The bazaar will feature a country store with homemade mincemeat, stuffed toys, doll clothes, quilts, braided and woven rugs, fancy work, aprons, white elephant articles, baked goods and candy.

Practice Driving Lot Turns Out To Be Small

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Jackson, 61, wanted a safe place to practice driving a car so he picked an empty lot.

Jackson accelerated a bit too much. The car crashed through a fence and hit a building across the street.

Police said the building was damaged $1,500. Jackson was charged with reckless driving and having no driver's permit.

Only about one-third of the residents of Washington, D. C., were born in the city.

Kaycee Group To Plan Memorial Communion

Cardinal Mercier Assembly, fourth degree Knights of Columbus, will meet Wednesday night at 8 in the Kaycee home to complete arrangements for a memorial Mass and Communion breakfast Dec. 7 at St. Ann Catholic Church.

Fr. Arthur M. Nist, pastor of the church and faithful friar of the assembly, will celebrate the Mass. The breakfast will be served by women of St. Ann Guild.

Plans also will be made to place a memorial wreath on the grave of Patrick W. Broderick, past faithful navigator, in St. Elizabeth's Cemetery in Wellsville.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith is general chairman. Frank R. O'Hanlon is the faithful navigator.

Chief And Lieutenant To Attend FBI Session

Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Lt. Clyde W. Boso, head of the Special Services Bureau, will attend a discussion Thursday in Youngstown on investigative techniques in the bombings of churches and schools.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is conducting the district conferences because of a wave of such bombings, mostly in the South, Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti said.

"We must be on guard because they seem to be gaining momentum," he added.

Man Fatally Wounded In Nelsonville Square

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Gunfire cracked through the Sunday morning calm in the community square at nearby Nelsonville, and police are wondering why.

They have 70-year-old James Sowards in the county jail here for investigation. He was picked up about 9:15 a.m. Sunday, five minutes after another elderly man—Porter McCombs, 61, of Rt. 1, Nelsonville—was fatally wounded.

Police said no reason for the shooting has been found, adding that both men were apparently on pension.

Cheese has been a staple food for more than 4,000 years.

'Outer Space' Blue Hailed

R—23xldylzyyrMonday Building

WASHINGTON — The space age is opening up a whole new world of colors, many of them yet unknown to the sight of man, but the paint, varnish and lacquer manufacturers will be ready for the day that they can give you the "outer space" colors which will be more vivid that the rainbow spectrum.

These new color shades will decorate your homes, offices and institutions in "The Colorful World of Tomorrow."

"Celestial Blue" already is here.

Color experts and decorators from the paint industry are enthusiastic in their acclaim for this blue from outer space.

—:—

"MR. PAINT" himself — Gen. Joseph F. Battley, president of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn., is enchanted with the "Celestial Blue" and has employed it magnificently.

What is "Celestial Blue?" It is a wonderous soft blue that is a blend of the sky blues and the deeper ones from far out in space. It has special tone shades highlighted by the stars, the planets, the moons and the suns of the vast universe.

"We expect these uses of "Celestial Blue" to be widespread in the near future," says Gen. Battley. "While no one actually has seen all of the true heavenly blues as yet, some of them have been viewed through giant telescopes. But even then they fast fade into a more dominate blue that marks the skyways of man's ventures into tomorrow's unknown reaches of space."

"Members of the paint industry are the oldest true experts — they have brought new and magical beauty to our homes, factories, office buildings, schools and institutions. Not only beauty, but the industry's paint colors provide the harmony for more congenial living, inspiration for better work, quietness for tired and jangled nerves and a therapy for the ill and ailing.

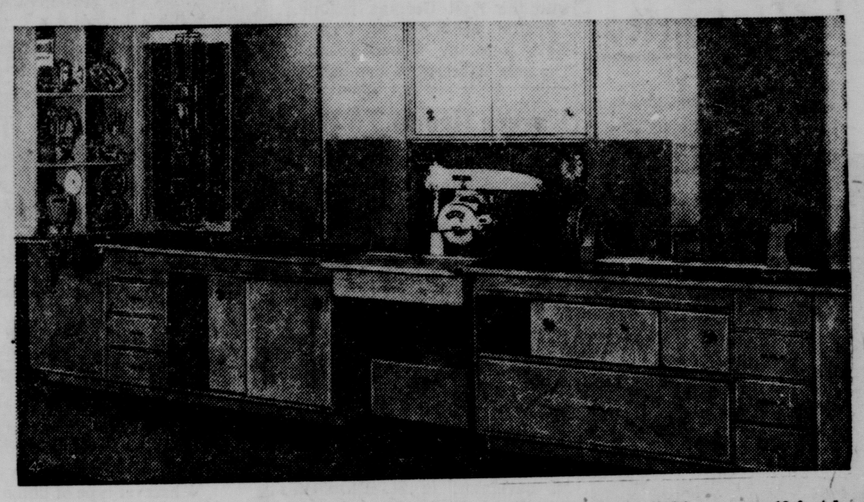
"WE HAVE done so many wonders with colors over the years, and our knowledge and research of color is increasing all of the time. This research is necessary because we are constantly faced with the problem of satisfying every color taste of the public. This is still the prime concern of the paint, varnish and lacquer industry.

"Independently, and cooperatively with related industry groups, such as the furniture, automobile, appliance and building industries, continuous studies are made on the manifold affects and use of color.

"Professional and home decorators also are benefiting from our research and the world of new colors introduced through paints and chemical coatings. . . today, tomorrow, and in the years to come."

Is Your Workshop Neat?



COMPACT EFFICIENCY. Here's a workshop design crowding lots of potential in a space 18 feet long and 8 feet high. The saw stand slides out for use, the lathe goes into a drawer when not needed. Cabinets and drawers offer 150 square feet of storage space.

Nobody ever has enough room for a home workshop.

It may seem so when the workshop is first set up. But there always comes a time when space suddenly is at a premium—even when not a single new tool or machine has been added.

The "place-for-everything and everything - in - its - place" program is fine in theory but never quite works out that way.

A large step in that direction can be taken, however, when the place-for-everything" part of the setup is so convenient and attractive that the "everything-in-its place" portion almost naturally follows.

A demonstration of space efficiency, featuring a complete built-in workshop for the home handyman and hobbyist, is attracting thousands of persons in New York City's Grand Central station these days.

Although 18 feet long and 8 feet high, this unit is so compact that it is only 3 feet in depth, thus making it potentially applicable in many places where an ordinary workshop arrangement would be impossible.

The workshop contains a multi-purpose radial arm power tool, which disappears behind closed doors when not in use; a slide-out scrap box directly beneath the power tool; a hideaway tool rack which gives storage area for more than 100 small hand tools; cabinets and drawers offering 150 square feet of storage space for paints, brushes, hardware and portable tools; a drawer which houses the workshop's lathe; and two built-in vises.

A two-foot deep workbench surfaced with tempered hardboard runs the entire length of the workshop.

The sliding panels and surfaces of doors are covered with plastic laminate, while the remainder of the unit is faced with plywood with a fine furniture finish to protect it against grease and other stains.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make celery sticks?

A. Wash some celery stalks and let them stand in iced water, then dry and fill with the following mixture: ¼-pound Roquefort cheese creamed with 1 tablespoon butter, to which is added 3 teaspoons prepared mustard. Chill in the refrigerator.

Q. How can I remove the scale of dandruff from a baby's head?

A. Wash it every day with pure castile soap, and then rub with petroleum jelly over the dandruff. The scale will loosen and come off within a short time.

Q. How can I clean hair brushes and combs?

A. One of the most satisfactory ways to clean them is to wash in a solution of warm water and borax.

Pastor's Services Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — Funeral services will be held here for the Rev. Thomas J. Edwards, 86, former pastor of the First Baptist Church in Canton. He died Sunday in Ormond, Fla. He also was the founder of the Lakewood Baptist Church. Time of the funeral has not yet been set.

Newsman McDermott Claimed At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — His specialty was the theater, but William F. McDermott of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, who died Sunday of cancer, could write of almost anything—and very well, too.

He was 67 when he died at his home. He had been a columnist and dramatic critic for the Plain Dealer for 37 years.

McDermott took a hand in covering some of the great stories of his period. He was in Detroit for the auto industry sitdown strikes in 1937, at Anzio as a war correspondent for the Italian campaign of World War II and in San Francisco in 1945 when the United Nations was formed.

Funeral services will be Tuesday afternoon.

Murder, Suicide Ruled

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A murder-suicide that shattered the morning calm of a nursing home in nearby Blanchester was discovered Sunday by elderly occupants of the home, who heard shots. The coroner, Dr. John K. Williams, said Lewis Flemings, who lived nearby, shot the operator of the home, Mrs. Grace Henry, and then turned the gun on himself. Investigators said Fleming and Mrs. Henry, who was divorced, had been seeing each other.

'Outer Space' Blue Hailed

R—23xldylzyyrMonday Building

WASHINGTON — The space age is opening up a whole new world of colors, many of them yet unknown to the sight of man, but the paint, varnish and lacquer manufacturers will be ready for the day that they can give you the "outer space" colors which will be more vivid that the rainbow spectrum.

These new color shades will decorate your homes, offices and institutions in "The Colorful World of Tomorrow."

"Celestial Blue" already is here.

Color experts and decorators from the paint industry are enthusiastic in their acclaim for this blue from outer space.

—:—

"MR. PAINT" himself — Gen. Joseph F. Battley, president of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn., is enchanted with the "Celestial Blue" and has employed it magnificently.

What is "Celestial Blue?" It is a wonderous soft blue that is a blend of the sky blues and the deeper ones from far out in space. It has special tone shades highlighted by the stars, the planets, the moons and the suns of the vast universe.

Steel Figures Hit 1958 High

Production 75.5% Of Rated Capacity

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production last week increased one point to 75.5 per cent of rated year—Steel Magazine reported today.

Production was about 2,039,000 net tons and was the largest since Nov. 3, 1957.

District rates included: Detroit at 96 per cent of capacity, up 10½ points; Cincinnati at 86, down a half point; Wheeling at 84½, no change; Pittsburgh at 69½, no change; Cleveland at 69, down 10 points; and Youngstown at 62, down 2 points.

Steel Magazine's industrial production index went ahead of last year's comparative index for the first time in 1958. The index is based on steel and electric power output, freight carloadings and automobile assemblies.

The magazine pointed to the automotive industry as the main factor in the production increase. There were 145,000 automobiles assembled last week compared with 141,902 in the corresponding week a year ago, the metalworking weekly estimated.

"New cars are selling so well that automakers are scheduling maximum output for the rest of the year," Steel said. Fourth quarter production will total about 1,450,000 cars if revised quttas for November and December—90,000 more than planned—are met, the magazine predicted.

Backlogs of steel orders are accumulating, due mainly to support by customers in the automotive, construction, appliance, container and agricultural equipment industries, the publication said.

Steel's price composite on steelmaking scrap was unchanged last week at $42.33 a cross ton. The composite on finished steel held at $149.96 a ton.

Ohio Police Officials Attend Nuclear Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two score police officials are learning what to do about radioactive materials in event of emergencies.

They are here for a three-day nuclear institute sponsored by the Ohio Highway Patrol and under the guidance of William H. Eells, Ohio coordinator of atomic development activities.

"The program is designed for officials of areas where atomic energy is now being used in industry or radioactive substances regularly transported," Eells said. Those attending the institute are from about 18 counties.

A tour of Battelle Memorial Institute's hot reactor near West Jefferson will climax the studies Wednesday.

Some Questions On Your Home

Are You Ready If Trouble Occurs?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Are you the houseproof type? Or do you resent owning a house because it is one big colossal chore?

Would you enjoy your house if there just weren't so many little problems to keep you from appreciating its virtues?

You can make your house a haven instead of a booby trap by making advance preparations, and using foresight instead of hindsight. Here are some questions to test your home preparedness:

1. — Are you prepared to fight small fires with the proper equipment — fire extinguishers, a handy bucket? Do you know the telephone number of the fire department?

2. — Are tree limbs or trunks rotting, a threat to house and family when laden with ice or hit by high winds? Get them sawed off before they cause disaster.

3. — Are you prepared to handle intrusion? Do you know the number of your police department: Are you armed with some protection — dog, gun, etc?

4. — Can you do minor repairs — fix a sink washer or small leaks? If not, can you get someone to do it promptly before it becomes a real annoyance?

5. — Is your house adequately wired so you do not blow a fuse box when the new portable oven or broiler is installed?

6. — Are there indications that your water pressure is low: New pipes may clear up the problem, and prevent a bursting pipe from flooding the cellar.

7. — Do all members of the family know the house in case of emergency — the location of fuse box, pump lever, furnace switch, flash lights, candles?

8. Do you know who to call to remove excessive rubbish? Who would you call to pump out a flooded cellar or repair a broken furnace?

9. Do you understand home safety, such as the hazard of entering a flooded cellar and the danger of electrocution?

10. — Do you know where you would move the contents of your freezer in the event of power failure? Many stores have food lockers and some neighbors may have their own power generators. Locate a place now so you can move your frozen goods pronto.

11. — Do you own a ladder tall enough to reach the roof or do you know where you could reach one quickly? Suppose Junior should climb out the window to a roof ledge. How would you get to him for rescue?

12. — Are there keys to your doors in case you are called away from home suddenly? Do windows lock securely?

13. — Are there small leaks in your roof? Get them repaired while the getting is good, before local workmen become tied up on big projects after heavy rainfall.

14. — Are securities and insurance policies, bonds and other valuables in a safe or bank vault or stored in another fireproof area? Do you have serial numbers of items not insured?

15. — Have you checked for termites recently? Remember that many termites enter homes in fire logs. Keep fire logs out of the house in a wood box if possible, until you are ready to burn them.

Mops Enjoy 'New Look'

By The Associated Press

Remember the old mop closet, sorry sight that it was?

Mops of every description—wet and soggy, dry but oil-smelly — were wedded in a mass of confusion.

It was a production to mop the floor, a perish-the-thought chore. Scald your hands in the hot water, wrench your wrist trying to squeeze that ol' mop dry, that was the scene.

Newer mops are easier to handle what with finger tip controls that offer dry-hands scrubbing. Dacron and wool dust floor mops stay fresh and, like the nylon hand dusters that have removable pads, may be dunked in soapy water and hung up to dry in a jiffy.

AND THE colors are garden fresh, making it more fun to scrub with a citron - hued mop or dust with a frilly pink duster. The chi-chi mops are in delicate pinks, vibrant marigold or geranium shades, even to the mop handles.

New interest in a mop closet has introduced gay backgrounds for these colorful new accessories. Wall papers in plaids or festive kitchen scenes lend flattery to mop storage.

A recent fashion show of cleaning accessories offered many ideas for building closets.

If the closet is to be an addition to a room, it may be built of any board or wood, finished with louvred doors or those of perforated steel lacquered white and lined in pink and orange. Even in a tiny room a closet may be added as a portable unit that looks built in.

—:—

ONE CLOSET, built on a staircase, emphasized the advantage of that second set of cleaning tools kept upstairs and perked up a dreary hall as well.

Closets were built around a bedroom door, one on each side, with a storage place above each closet for winter woolens. The area between the doors had a shelf utilized for plant arrangements, trailing ivy or what have you.

Wallpaper was used on this stair landing — red clover on bright white with a lipstick red carpet. Closets were painted white for accent.

Another good spot for that added closet is a patio wall. One section of the closet may be used for garden accessories — rakes, shovels, hoes, and even rainy day gear. The other side is where you put your mops and basket of cleaning aids.

If a patio closet is deep enough, a space above the floor and closet floor shelf may be reserved for fire wood. This keeps the wood dry, neatly stacked and available.

Kidnap Victim Freed From Cave In Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — The kidnapers of elderly bricklayer Alberto Castello of Long Island let their captive go apparently because they decided he was no ransom prize.

Castello, 72, of Copiague, N.Y., pale and shaken by his week-long experience, told reporters Sunday he just walked out of the kidnapers' cave when they failed to keep their daily schedule of visits to bring him food.

The naturalized American and his wife returned to their native Sicily three months ago for a visit after 49 years in the United States.

Building Dedicated

CLEVELAND (AP) — Western Reserve University's new Newton D. Baker Memorial Building, a $1,600,000 home for the graduate school of business, was dedicated Sunday. In the lobby of the four-story, 33-classroom building is an oil painting of Baker, a former Cleveland mayor and World War I secretary of war.

Ohio Truckers Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Truck drivers Gene Harris of Zanesville, Ohio, and Hubert I. Kennedy of Cincinnati are among winners in the national roadeo. Kennedy, a defending champion, gets $50 a month for the next year by winning the three-axle tractor trailer division, and Harris gets $30 a month for placing second in the four-axle tractor trailer division Sunday.

Steel Figures Hit 1958 High

Production 75.5% Of Rated Capacity

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production last week increased one point to 75.5 per cent of rated year—Steel Magazine reported today.

Production was about 2,039,000 net tons and was the largest since Nov. 3, 1957.

District rates included: Detroit at 96 per cent of capacity, up 10½ points; Cincinnati at 86, down a half point; Wheeling at 84½, no change; Pittsburgh at 69½, no change; Cleveland at 69, down 10 points; and Youngstown at 62, down 2 points.

Steel Magazine's industrial production index went ahead of last year's comparative index for the first time in 1958. The index is based on steel and electric power output, freight carloadings and automobile assemblies.

The magazine pointed to the automotive industry as the main factor in the production increase. There were 145,000 automobiles assembled last week compared with 141,902 in the corresponding week a year ago, the metalworking weekly estimated.

"New cars are selling so well that automakers are scheduling maximum output for the rest of the year," Steel said. Fourth quarter production will total about 1,450,000 cars if revised quttas for November and December—90,000 more than planned—are met, the magazine predicted.

Backlogs of steel orders are accumulating, due mainly to support by customers in the automotive, construction, appliance, container and agricultural equipment industries, the publication said.

Steel's price composite on steelmaking scrap was unchanged last week at $42.33 a cross ton. The composite on finished steel held at $149.96 a ton.

Ohio Police Officials Attend Nuclear Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two score police officials are learning what to do about radioactive materials in event of emergencies.

They are here for a three-day nuclear institute sponsored by the Ohio Highway Patrol and under the guidance of William H. Eells, Ohio coordinator of atomic development activities.

"The program is designed for officials of areas where atomic energy is now being used in industry or radioactive substances regularly transported," Eells said. Those attending the institute are from about 18 counties.

A tour of Battelle Memorial Institute's hot reactor near West Jefferson will climax the studies Wednesday.

Some Questions On Your Home

Are You Ready If Trouble Occurs?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Are you the houseproof type? Or do you resent owning a house because it is one big colossal chore?

Would you enjoy your house if there just weren't so many little problems to keep you from appreciating its virtues?

You can make your house a haven instead of a booby trap by making advance preparations, and using foresight instead of hindsight. Here are some questions to test your home preparedness:

1. — Are you prepared to fight small fires with the proper equipment — fire extinguishers, a handy bucket? Do you know the telephone number of the fire department?

2. — Are tree limbs or trunks rotting, a threat to house and family when laden with ice or hit by high winds? Get them sawed off before they cause disaster.

3. — Are you prepared to handle intrusion? Do you know the number of your police department: Are you armed with some protection — dog, gun, etc?

4. — Can you do minor repairs — fix a sink washer or small leaks? If not, can you get someone to do it promptly before it becomes a real annoyance?

5. — Is your house adequately wired so you do not blow a fuse box when the new portable oven or broiler is installed?

6. — Are there indications that your water pressure is low: New pipes may clear up the problem, and prevent a bursting pipe from flooding the cellar.

7. — Do all members of the family know the house in case of emergency — the location of fuse box, pump lever, furnace switch, flash lights, candles?

8. Do you know who to call to remove excessive rubbish? Who would you call to pump out a flooded cellar or repair a broken furnace?

9. Do you understand home safety, such as the hazard of entering a flooded cellar and the danger of electrocution?

10. — Do you know where you would move the contents of your freezer in the event of power failure? Many stores have food lockers and some neighbors may have their own power generators. Locate a place now so you can move your frozen goods pronto.

11. — Do you own a ladder tall enough to reach the roof or do you know where you could reach one quickly? Suppose Junior should climb out the window to a roof ledge. How would you get to him for rescue?

12. — Are there keys to your doors in case you are called away from home suddenly? Do windows lock securely?

13. — Are there small leaks in your roof? Get them repaired while the getting is good, before local workmen become tied up on big projects after heavy rainfall.

14. — Are securities and insurance policies, bonds and other valuables in a safe or bank vault or stored in another fireproof area? Do you have serial numbers of items not insured?

15. — Have you checked for termites recently? Remember that many termites enter homes in fire logs. Keep fire logs out of the house in a wood box if possible, until you are ready to burn them.

Mops Enjoy 'New Look'

By The Associated Press

Remember the old mop closet, sorry sight that it was?

Mops of every description—wet and soggy, dry but oil-smelly — were wedded in a mass of confusion.

It was a production to mop the floor, a perish-the-thought chore. Scald your hands in the hot water, wrench your wrist trying to squeeze that ol' mop dry, that was the scene.

Newer mops are easier to handle what with finger tip controls that offer dry-hands scrubbing. Dacron and wool dust floor mops stay fresh and, like the nylon hand dusters that have removable pads, may be dunked in soapy water and hung up to dry in a jiffy.

—:—

AND THE colors are garden fresh, making it more fun to scrub with a citron - hued mop or dust with a frilly pink duster. The chi-chi mops are in delicate pinks, vibrant marigold or geranium shades, even to the mop handles.

New interest in a mop closet has introduced gay backgrounds for these colorful new accessories. Wall papers in plaids or festive kitchen scenes lend flattery to mop storage.

A recent fashion show of cleaning accessories offered many ideas for building closets.

If the closet is to be an addition to a room, it may be built of any board or wood, finished with louvred doors or those of perforated steel lacquered white and lined in pink and orange. Even in a tiny room a closet may be added as a portable unit that looks built in.

—:—

ONE CLOSET, built on a staircase, emphasized the advantage of that second set of cleaning tools kept upstairs and perked up a dreary hall as well.

Closets were built around a bedroom door, one on each side, with a storage place above each closet for winter woolens. The area between the doors had a shelf utilized for plant arrangements, trailing ivy or what have you.

Wallpaper was used on this stair landing — red clover on bright white with a lipstick red carpet. Closets were painted white for accent.

Another good spot for that added closet is a patio wall. One section of the closet may be used for garden accessories — rakes, shovels, hoes, and even rainy day gear. The other side is where you put your mops and basket of cleaning aids.

If a patio closet is deep enough, a space above the floor and closet floor shelf may be reserved for fire wood. This keeps the wood dry, neatly stacked and available.

Kidnap Victim Freed From Cave In Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — The kidnapers of elderly bricklayer Alberto Castello of Long Island let their captive go apparently because they decided he was no ransom prize.

Castello, 72, of Copiague, N.Y., pale and shaken by his week-long experience, told reporters Sunday he just walked out of the kidnapers' cave when they failed to keep their daily schedule of visits to bring him food.

The naturalized American and his wife returned to their native Sicily three months ago for a visit after 49 years in the United States.

Building Dedicated

CLEVELAND (AP) — Western Reserve University's new Newton D. Baker Memorial Building, a $1,600,000 home for the graduate school of business, was dedicated Sunday. In the lobby of the four-story, 33-classroom building is an oil painting of Baker, a former Cleveland mayor and World War I secretary of war.

Ohio Truckers Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Truck drivers Gene Harris of Zanesville, Ohio, and Hubert I. Kennedy of Cincinnati are among winners in the national roadeo. Kennedy, a defending champion, gets $50 a month for the next year by winning the three-axle tractor trailer division, and Harris gets $30 a month for placing second in the four-axle tractor trailer division Sunday.

U.S. Grange Turns Down Benson Plan

Says Lower Prices Won't Assure Good Incomes To Farmer

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —The National Grange rejected today a contention of Eisenhower administration farm officials that lower farm prices would expand markets sufficiently to assure producers good incomes.

Farm prosperity will require, it said, limitations on production and marketing managed not by the government but by organized producers under government supervision.

This Grange position was stated by the Agriculture Committee of the farm organization's national convention.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has contended—as he did in a talk before the Grange meeting last week—that expansion of markets through competitive prices would do much to take the production of an uncontrolled agriculture and assure farm well being.

The Grange committee countered with this statement:

"Those who contend that lower prices will result in suffcient market expansion to maintain or increase incomes of producers do so in the face of all past experience and accepted economic laws to the contrary."

The committee said that managed marketing of farm products, with the help of the government, is essential to the economic survival of agriculture in the years ahead.

"We hold that managed marketing to enhance producer income is greatly to be preferred either to rigid government controls or unrestrained free market competition that leads to chaotic markets and ruinously low prices."

Census Bureau To List Radio-Equipped Autos

Information on the number of privately - owned passenger automobiles equipped with radios in working order will be available for the first time as the result of special questions to be asked in the November Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Joseph S. Marlow, supervisor, of the U. S. Census Bureau's Regional Office at Pittsburgh.

Two other questions on radio ownership will be asked. One will seek information on the number of households with radio sets in working order, including portable sets. The other will cover the location of these sets such as livingrooms, kitchens, etc.

This is the first time since 1950 that information on household ownership of radio sets has been collected by the bureau. In that year, households reporting radio sets numbered about 40½ million. This represented a ratio of more than 9 out of 10 households. Cost of the radio survey has been underwritten by the Advertising Research Foundation.

The radio questions to be asked in November will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey. The information will be collected locally.

Tax Revenue Mounts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If revenue from the state's inheritance taxes continues at the present more-than-a-million-a - month average, it may add up to a record 10 million dollars this fiscal year, says State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy. Since July 1, Tracy said, Revenue has exceeded four million —a half-million increase over July 1-Oct. 31 period last year.

County School Board May Act Upon Vacancy

Appointment of a successor to Harry Greenwood, who resigned, will be considered at the meeting of the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Courthouse at Lisbon.

A 700-name petition from Yellow Creek and parts of Madison and Washington Townships is expected to be accepted by the board.

The petition to transfer to Wellsville was filed under a section of law which states that if 75 per cent of residents of an 8-year district ask for transfer, the board must consent.

The board claims this territory is not an 8-year district but is part of the new 12 - year Southern Local District and no action can be taken. A case is pending in Common Pleas Court, contesting the legality of the New Southern District, but no date has been set for a hearing.

Routine business will also be transacted, Supt. James L. McBride said.

Navy NROTC Program Draws 15 Applications

Fifteen High School youths applied for the Navy's 13th annual competitive examination for its NROTC college training program, Bert A. Dawson, dean of boys, said today. The deadline was Saturday.

The examinations are scheduled Dec. 13 at Youngstown University in Youngstown, Steubenville College at Steubenville, and Carnegie Tech and the University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. When applying, the students indicated their choice of location to take the exams.

Those attaining a qualifying score will take the Navy's rigid midshipman physical exam in February.

Dog's Barks Free Man In Refrigerated Truck

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Taffy, 8-year-old canine, would never win a dog show. He has only three legs, is partly blind and something happened to his tail long ago.

He was on the sidewalk Saturday when milkman James A. Kirkpatrick, 59, stopped to make a delivery. Kirkpatrick entered the refrigerated truck and the back door slammed shut, locking him in.

The milkman beat on the door and yelled. Taffy set up a commotion.

Mrs. Lamar Parish, the dog's owner, looked out to see what was bothering him. She walked to the truck and heard Kirkpatrick's calls.

"Lady, I'm sure glad you were home," the driver gasped when he stumbled out.

Council At Wellsville Will Act On Parking

An ordinance prohibiting parking on the south side of Center St. between 12th and 15th Sts. will be up for second reading at the meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night at 8.

Legislation also will be presented to ban parking on 15th between Main St. and Buckeye Ave. A delegation of residents along the street are expected to appear in protest to the move.

Wife Heads For U.S. With Power's Body

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Debbie Ann Power prepared today for the tragic trip back to Hollywood with the body of her husband, actor Tyrone Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack.

The young widow, who expects to bear Power's child in February, was to leave tonight for New York by plane with the star's body.

Power was stricken on the set of the movie "Solomon and Sheba," in which he played King Solomon.

Today producer Ted Richmond and other company officials were conferring on the future of the picture, which was more than 60 per cent completed when Power died.

Company spokesmen expressed surprise about a United Artist announcement in Hollywood that Yul Brynner would replace Power in the role. They pointed out United Artists is only part producer.

William Gallagher, Power's secretary, said the actor probably will be buried in Los Angeles' Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Offer $500 Reward

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of Western College for Women have posted a $500 reward for a man who broke into the campus home of Dean Mary Ashby Cheek and slugged her unconscious early last Nov. 8. The board offered the reward Sunday for information leading to conviction of her assailant.

U.S. Grange Turns Down Benson Plan

Says Lower Prices Won't Assure Good Incomes To Farmer

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —The National Grange rejected today a contention of Eisenhower administration farm officials that lower farm prices would expand markets sufficiently to assure producers good incomes.

Farm prosperity will require, it said, limitations on production and marketing managed not by the government but by organized producers under government supervision.

This Grange position was stated by the Agriculture Committee of the farm organization's national convention.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has contended—as he did in a talk before the Grange meeting last week—that expansion of markets through competitive prices would do much to take the production of an uncontrolled agriculture and assure farm well being.

The Grange committee countered with this statement:

"Those who contend that lower prices will result in sufficient market expansion to maintain or increase incomes of producers do so in the face of all past experience and accepted economic laws to the contrary."

The committee said that managed marketing of farm products, with the help of the government, is essential to the economic survival of agriculture in the years ahead.

"We hold that managed marketing to enhance producer income is greatly to be preferred either to rigid government controls or unrestrained free market competition that leads to chaotic markets and ruinously low prices."

Census Bureau To List Radio-Equipped Autos

Information on the number of privately - owned passenger automobiles equipped with radios in working order will be available for the first time as the result of special questions to be asked in the November Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Joseph S. Marlow, supervisor, of the U. S. Census Bureau's Regional Office at Pittsburgh.

Two other questions on radio ownership will be asked. One will seek information on the number of households with radio sets in working order, including portable sets. The other will cover the location of these sets such as livingrooms, kitchens, etc.

This is the first time since 1950 that information on household ownership of radio sets has been collected by the bureau. In that year, households reporting radio sets numbered about 40½ million. This represented a ratio of more than 9 out of 10 households. Cost of the radio survey has been underwritten by the Advertising Research Foundation.

The radio questions to be asked in November will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey. The information will be collected locally.

Tax Revenue Mounts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If revenue from the state's inheritance taxes continues at the present more-than-a-million-a - month average, it may add up to a record 10 million dollars this fiscal year, says State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy. Since July 1, Tracy said, Revenue has exceeded four million —a half-million increase over July 1-Oct. 31 period last year.

County School Board May Act Upon Vacancy

Appointment of a successor to Harry Greenwood, who resigned, will be considered at the meeting of the Columbiana County Board of Education Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Courthouse at Lisbon.

A 700-name petition from Yellow Creek and parts of Madison and Washington Townships is expected to be accepted by the board.

The petition to transfer to Wellsville was filed under a section of law which states that if 75 per cent of residents of an 8-year district ask for transfer, the board must consent.

The board claims this territory is not an 8-year district but is part of the new 12 - year Southern Local District and no action can be taken. A case is pending in Common Pleas Court, contesting the legality of the New Southern District, but no date has been set for a hearing.

Routine business will also be transacted, Supt. James L. McBride said.

Navy NROTC Program Draws 15 Applications

Fifteen High School youths applied for the Navy's 13th annual competitive examination for its NROTC college training program, Bert A. Dawson, dean of boys, said today. The deadline was Saturday.

The examinations are scheduled Dec. 13 at Youngstown University in Youngstown, Steubenville College at Steubenville, and Carnegie Tech and the University of Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. When applying, the students indicated their choice of location to take the exams.

Those attaining a qualifying score will take the Navy's rigid midshipman physical exam in February.

Dog's Barks Free Man In Refrigerated Truck

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Taffy, 8-year-old canine, would never win a dog show. He has only three legs, is partly blind and something happened to his tail long ago.

He was on the sidewalk Saturday when milkman James A. Kirkpatrick, 59, stopped to make a delivery. Kirkpatrick entered the refrigerated truck and the back door slammed shut, locking him in.

The milkman beat on the door and yelled. Taffy set up a commotion.

Mrs. Lamar Parish, the dog's owner, looked out to see what was bothering him. She walked to the truck and heard Kirkpatrick's calls.

"Lady, I'm sure glad you were home," the driver gasped when he stumbled out.

Legislation also will be presented to ban parking on 15th between Main St. and Buckeye Ave. A delegation of residents along the street are expected to appear in protest to the move.

Wife Heads For U.S. With Power's Body

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Debbie Ann Power prepared today for the tragic trip back to Hollywood with the body of her husband, actor Tyrone Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack.

The young widow, who expects to bear Power's child in February, was to leave tonight for New York by plane with the star's body.

Power was stricken on the set of the movie "Solomon and Sheba," in which he played King Solomon.

Today producer Ted Richmond and other company officials were conferring on the future of the picture, which was more than 60 per cent completed when Power died.

Company spokesmen expressed surprise about a United Artist announcement in Hollywood that Yul Brynner would replace Power in the role. They pointed out United Artists is only part producer.

William Gallagher, Power's secretary, said the actor probably will be buried in Los Angeles' Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Brown Sets New Pro Rushing Record As Cleveland Wins

Van Buren's Mark Beaten; Giants Lose

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thundering Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's running virtuoso, today had picked one of the National Football League's juiciest plums, was near another, and had propelled the Browns closer to a division championship.

The barrelling Cleveland fullback set a season rushing record Sunday as the Browns regained undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Conference with a 20-10 victory at Washington.

Brown gained 152 yards in 27 tries, totally eclipsing the standard of 1,146 yards set in 12 games by Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1949. The former Syracuse All-America has amassed 1,163 yards in only eight games.

A sophomore in pro ranks, Brown scored twice on short plunges. The Cleveland standout has 17 touchdowns for the season, one short of Van Buren's record.

Cleveland's triumph, coupled with the 31-10 upset of the New York Giants by Bobby Layne and his Pittsburgh mates, left the Browns on top with a 6-2 record. Runner-up New York is a game back at 5-3.

The race in the Western Conference virtually was broken wide open as Baltimore's second-string quarterback, George Shaw, passed the Colts to a 17-0 triumph over Chicago's Bears. Baltimore, has a 7-1 record for a two-game lead over Chicago and Los Angeles. The Rams tied for the runner-up spot by knocking off Green Bay 20-7.

In other games, halfback Gene Gedman led the way as Detroit pasted San Francisco, 35-21, and Philadelphia easily handled Chicago's Cardinals 49-21.

Brown scored on plunges of one and five yards, but it was a Lou Groza field goal that beat the Redskins. The teams had traded touchdowns and field goals in the first half for a 10-10 tie. With 2:10 remaining in the game, Groza booted a 25-yarder for the victory, although moments later Brown tallied an insurance TD.

After upsetting Cleveland and Baltimore on successive Sundays, the Giants—without halfback Alex Webster and two offensive linemen—were unable to get going against a tough Steeler line. Layne passed for one touchdown, set up another on a 69-yard aerial maneuver and scored twice on short blasts.

Shaw, replacing the injured Johnny Unitas, was spectacular as he made good on 10 of 23 passes for 131 yards. At one point he pitched nine consecutive strikes, six in a 93-yard Colt scoring surge in the second period. He had one TD through the air. The Bears, shut out for the first time in 149 games dating back to 1946, were unable to move and found their line perforated by Alan Ameche, who ran for 142 yards and a TD.

Los Angeles moved ahead of the Packers 10-7 by halftime, with a 93-yard pass play from Billy Wade to Jim Phillips giving the Rams the lead. It was the longest pass play in the league this season. Phillips pulled in eight of Wade's tosses for 208 yards. Wade threw for 372 yards on 19 completions in 42 attempts.

Tobin Rote connected for three TD passes, but it was Gedman who brought the Lions their third victory in the last four outings. Gedman aimed his first pass of the season to Howard Cassady for an 81-yard scoring play and scored twice himself for last year's world champions. The long TD aerial came in the first period, just 40 seconds after San Francisco had taken a 7-0 lead.

Clarence Peaks scored four times as the Eagles ran up their largest point total in four years. Philadelphia broke loose against the Cards for three TDS within 5½ minutes of the second quarter. Norm Van Brocklin completed 19 of 29 passes for 318 yards and two touchdowns, one to Peaks.

'I Just Try To Move Ball,' Jimmy Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I just try to move the ball and let the record fall where it may."

So spoke Jim Brown, the Cleveland Brown's great runner, after his team had beaten the Washington Redskins in a 20-10 thriller Sunday.

A record had fallen, all right—one of the most cherished in the National Football League. Brown knocked it down.

The 225-pound fullback, in his second year as a pro, rushed for 152 yards in 27 carries against the Redskins. He raised his season total to 1,163 yards.

Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles set the previous mark in 1949, running for 1,146 yards in 12 games.

Brown did it in eight games. With four remaining in the NFL's regular season, the 22-year-old, 6-2 Negro who runs with a blockbusting combination of power and speed could dwarf Van Buren's performance.

Brown has averaged 145 yards a game—6½ a carry.

He apparently was not aware of his achievement until reporters informed him in the dressing room after the game.

"Gee, fine," Brown said, almost solemnly. His teammates were more excited as they swarmed around for handshakes and back pats.

Brown is the major reason for Cleveland's 6-2 record and its lead in the Eastern Conference.

His two touchdowns against the Redskins gave him 17 for the year, only one short of another Van Buren mark. Van Buren scored 18 over a 10-game season in 1945.

Ed Modzelewski expressed what his teammates think of Brown. Modzelewski was the fullback Brown bumped off Cleveland's offensive unit in 1957, Brown's freshman year as a pro.

"It's like playing behind Babe Ruth," Modzelewski said. "He's the greatest back ever to come into the league."

An All-America at Syracuse, Brown led the league in rushing with 942 yards as a rookie last year.

Guessing Game Continues On Who Will Be In Bowls

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The annual—and rarely successful—guessing game on what teams will play in the big bowl games New Year's Day began in earnest today.

Iowa and Oklahoma already have clinched their berths, so that narrows the field some.

Iowa, which clinched the Big 10 title more than a week ago, goes to the Rose Bowl. Oklahoma will make another trip to the Orange Bowl although it still must take care of the formalities of wrapping up its 11th straight Big 8 crown.

But even in the unlikely event that Nebraska beats the Sooners—Oklahoma hasn't lost a league game in its last 70 tries—they still head for the Orange Bowl. This is because they have beaten Missouri, the only team that can possibly tie them for the championship.

Rose—Iowa vs. California.

Orange — Oklahoma vs. Air Force Academy.

Sugar — Louisiana State vs. North Carolina.

Cotton—Texas Christian vs. Mississippi or Syracuse.

Right behind is the Gator bowl, waiting in the wings for any top teams that don't get in the others. Gator possibilities include Vanderbilt and Florida.

California has won 7 of its 9 games so far and has only to get past much-beaten Stanford to wrap up the Pacific Coast Conference title and the automatic Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

The Big 8 sends a team yearly to play in the Orange Bowl. The opposition could be the Air Force Academy, which hasn't even graduated its first class yet. The AFA has been tied by Iowa once in 8 games.

Louisiana State, which had a 7-6 squeaker over Mississjppi State Saturday night, need only defeat Tulane this week to win the Southwestern Conference championship.

North Carolina still is the top choice as the second Sugar Bowl team despite its 34-24 loss to Notre Dame Saturday. The defeat snapped a 6-game Tar Heel win streak.

With Pitt's 14-6 loss to Nebraska, Syracuse appears to be about the top eligible in the East and that could earn the Orange the Sugar Bowl bid.

Texas Christian is the Cotton Bowl choice as the host team at the moment because it is leading the Southwest Conference, a precarious spot for any team in this topsy-turvy loop. A victory over Rice, which has had its ups and downs, Saturday and TCU should be in.

Three conference champions were crowned Saturday. West Virginia became the Southern Conference kingpin by crushing William and Mary, 56-6; Clemson sewed up the Atlantic Coast Conference by whipping North Carolina, 13-6, and Connecticut won the Yankee Conference by thrashing Rhode Island, 36-8.

Rutgers, with ace Billy Austin on the sidelines with an injury, lost to the Quantico Marines, 13-12, and that left Louisiana State the only undefeated-untied major team in the country.

Iowa and Virginia Military institute also both lost their first games of the season. Both had been tied. Ohio State clubbed Iowa, 38-28, and The Citadel, beaten four times, embarrassel VMI, 14-6.

Three major teams remain in the unbeaten-but-tied club. They are Army, Auburn and the Air Force Academy. The Cadets licked Villanova, 26-0; Auburn turned back Georgia, 21-6, and AFA licked Wyoming, also by 21-6.

Knicks Capture 6th Game In Row In Pro Cage Play

By The Associated Press

The rich get richer; the poor get poorer.

The New York Knickerbockers sped along today with a streak of six victories in the National Basketball Assn.

But, the Cincinnati Royals were burdened by a seven game losing skein and Minneapolis lost its sixth in a row.

The Knicks have their longest string in five years after Sunday's sloppy 98-90 job against Minneapolis.

Saturday night, the Knicks knocked over Syracuse, the runnerup in the Eastern Division, 96-92; while Philadelphia spilled the Lakers 106-101, St. Louis defeated Detroit 102-91 and Boston rapped Cincinnati 130-105.

The Knicks lead by two games in the Eastern Division. St. Louis has a 2½-game spread over Detroit in the Western Division.

The Knick-Laker game had both clubs guilty of walking infractions, pushing and even kicking the ball.

The Knicks, who have won eight of nine this season, blew a 12-5 lead, scrambled for a 46-46 tie at the half, then built a 66-56 lead and almost blew that margin.

New York's Charlie Tyra was the high scorer with 22 points. Kenny Sears, the Knicks's scoring star who had averaged 24.2 points a game, needed three stitches to close an eye cut opened by Laker rookie Elgin Baylor's finger nail.

Baylor led the Lakers with 18 points.

Bayer Edges Snead In Cuba

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVANA (AP) — Now that George Bayer is harnessing his mighty power, he is threatening to become one of the great all-time attractions of golf, as say, Sam Snead.

People love a slugger. They made Babe Ruth an idol in baseball and Jack Dempsey one in boxing. For years they have flocked to watch Snead, the graceful, prodigious fairway slammer from West Virginia.

Now comes Bayer, a fantastic giant of a man who stands 6-5 and hits the ball farther than any man has hit one before.

The titanic former football tackle from the University of Washington won a dramatic sudden death playoff from Snead Sunday for the $6,500 top prize in the Havana International Golf Tournament.

Bayer was in with a 72-hole score of 286 when Snead came to the 18th needing only a five-foot putt to take first prize.

"He'll blow it." said a golfing friend to Bayer.

"Not a chance—he'll make it." said Bayer gloomily.

Snead stroked and missed and the tournament went into an extra-hole playoff. "I'll get him now," said Bayer.

And he did. Throwing all his power into the tee shot, the San Gabriel, Calif., giant almost drove the length of the 374-yard par four extra hole, but the ball landed in a trap in front of the green. Snead's drive was 40 to 50 yards shorter.

Muscular Bayer blasted out within 10 feet of the cup and putted cautiously for his par four. Snead pitched 45 feet short of the cup and then three putted after going seven feet past the pin in a bold try.

Thus Bayer, known more as a hitter than a winner won his second big prize since turning pro five years ago—and collected the biggest purse of his career.

Brown Sets New Pro Rushing Record As Cleveland Wins

Van Buren's Mark Beaten; Giants Lose

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thundering Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's running virtuoso, today had picked one of the National Football League's juiciest plums, was near another, and had propelled the Browns closer to a division championship.

The barrelling Cleveland fullback set a season rushing record Sunday as the Browns regained undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Conference with a 20-10 victory at Washington.

Brown gained 152 yards in 27 tries, totally eclipsing the standard of 1,146 yards set in 12 games by Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1949. The former Syracuse All-America has amassed 1,163 yards in only eight games.

A sophomore in pro ranks, Brown scored twice on short plunges. The Cleveland standout has 17 touchdowns for the season, one short of Van Buren's record.

Cleveland's triumph, coupled with the 31-10 upset of the New York Giants by Bobby Layne and his Pittsburgh mates, left the Browns on top with a 6-2 record. Runner-up New York is a game back at 5-3.

The race in the Western Conference virtually was broken wide open as Baltimore's second-string quarterback, George Shaw, passed the Colts to a 17-0 triumph over Chicago's Bears. Baltimore, has a 7-1 record for a two-game lead over Chicago and Los Angeles. The Rams tied for the runner-up spot by knocking off Green Bay 20-7.

In other games, halfback Gene Gedman led the way as Detroit pasted San Francisco, 35-21, and Philadelphia easily handled Chicago's Cardinals 49-21.

Brown scored on plunges of one and five yards, but it was a Lou Groza field goal that beat the Redskins. The teams had traded touchdowns and field goals in the first half for a 10-10 tie. With 2:10 remaining in the game, Groza booted a 25-yarder for the victory, although moments later Brown tallied an insurance TD.

After upsetting Cleveland and Baltimore on successive Sundays, the Giants—without halfback Alex Webster and two offensive linemen—were unable to get going against a tough Steeler line. Layne passed for one touchdown, set up another on a 69-yard aerial maneuver and scored twice on short blasts.

Shaw, replacing the injured Johnny Unitas, was spectacular as he made good on 10 of 23 passes for 131 yards. At one point he pitched nine consecutive strikes, six in a 93-yard Colt scoring surge in the second period. He had one TD through the air. The Bears, shut out for the first time in 149 games dating back to 1946, were unable to move and found their line perforated by Alan Ameche, who ran for 142 yards and a TD.

Los Angeles moved ahead of the Packers 10-7 by halftime, with a 93-yard pass play from Billy Wade to Jim Phillips giving the Rams the lead. It was the longest pass play in the league this season. Phillips pulled in eight of Wade's tosses for 208 yards. Wade threw for 372 yards on 19 completions in 42 attempts.

Tobin Rote connected for three TD passes, but it was Gedman who brought the Lions their third victory in the last four outings. Gedman aimed his first pass of the season to Howard Cassady for an 81-yard scoring play and scored twice himself for last year's world champions. The long TD aerial came in the first period, just 40 seconds after San Francisco had taken a 7-0 lead.

Clarence Peaks scored four times as the Eagles ran up their largest point total in four years. Philadelphia broke loose against the Cards for three TDS within 5½ minutes of the second quarter. Norm Van Brocklin completed 19 of 29 passes for 318 yards and two touchdowns, one to Peaks.

Knicks Capture 6th Game In Row In Pro Cage Play

By The Associated Press

The rich get richer; the poor get poorer.

The New York Knickerbockers sped along today with a streak of six victories in the National Basketball Assn.

But, the Cincinnati Royals were burdened by a seven game losing skein and Minneapolis lost its sixth in a row.

The Knicks have their longest string in five years after Sunday's sloppy 98-90 job against Minneapolis.

Saturday night, the Knicks knocked over Syracuse, the runnerup in the Eastern Division, 96-92; while Philadelphia spilled the Lakers 106-101, St. Louis defeated Detroit 102-91 and Boston rapped Cincinnati 130-105.

The Knicks lead by two games in the Eastern Division. St. Louis has a 2½-game spread over Detroit in the Western Division.

The Knick-Laker game had both clubs guilty of walking infractions, pushing and even kicking the ball.

The Knicks, who have won eight of nine this season, blew a 12-5 lead, scrambled for a 46-46 tie at the half, then built a 66-56 lead and almost blew that margin.

New York's Charlie Tyra was the high scorer with 22 points. Kenny Sears, the Knicks's scoring star who had averaged 24.2 points a game, needed three stitches to close an eye cut opened by Laker rookie Elgin Baylor's finger nail.

Baylor led the Lakers with 18 points.

Bayer Edges Snead In Cuba

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HAVANA (AP) — Now that George Bayer is harnessing his mighty power, he is threatening to become one of the great all-time attractions of golf, as say, Sam Snead.

People love a slugger. They made Babe Ruth an idol in baseball and Jack Dempsey one in boxing. For years they have flocked to watch Snead, the graceful, prodigious fairway slammer from West Virginia.

Now comes Bayer, a fantastic giant of a man who stands 6-5 and hits the ball farther than any man has hit one before.

The titanic former football tackle from the University of Washington won a dramatic sudden death playoff from Snead Sunday for the $6,500 top prize in the Havana International Golf Tournament.

Bayer was in with a 72-hole score of 286 when Snead came to the 18th needing only a five-foot putt to take first prize.

"He'll blow it." said a golfing friend to Bayer.

"Not a chance—he'll make it." said Bayer gloomily.

Snead stroked and missed and the tournament went into an extra-hole playoff. "I'll get him now," said Bayer.

And he did. Throwing all his power into the tee shot, the San Gabriel, Calif., giant almost drove the length of the 374-yard par four extra hole, but the ball landed in a trap in front of the green. Snead's drive was 40 to 50 yards shorter.

Muscular Bayer blasted out within 10 feet of the cup and putted cautiously for his par four. Snead pitched 45 feet short of the cup and then three putted after going seven feet past the pin in a bold try.

Thus Bayer, known more as a hitter than a winner won his second big prize since turning pro five years ago—and collected the biggest purse of his career.

'I Just Try To Move Ball,' Jimmy Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I just try to move the ball and let the record fall where it may."

So spoke Jim Brown, the Cleveland Brown's great runner, after his team had beaten the Washington Redskins in a 20-10 thriller Sunday.

A record had fallen, all right—one of the most cherished in the National Football League. Brown knocked it down.

The 225-pound fullback, in his second year as a pro, rushed for 152 yards in 27 carries against the Redskins. He raised his season total to 1,163 yards.

Steve Van Buren of the Philadelphia Eagles set the previous mark in 1949, running for 1,146 yards in 12 games.

Brown did it in eight games. With four remaining in the NFL's regular season, the 22-year-old, 6-2 Negro who runs with a blockbusting combination of power and speed could dwarf Van Buren's performance.

Brown has averaged 145 yards a game—6½ a carry.

He apparently was not aware of his achievement until reporters informed him in the dressing room after the game.

"Gee, fine," Brown said, almost solemnly. His teammates were more excited as they swarmed around for handshakes and back pats.

Brown is the major reason for Cleveland's 6-2 record and its lead in the Eastern Conference.

His two touchdowns against the Redskins gave him 17 for the year, only one short of another Van Buren mark. Van Buren scored 18 over a 10-game season in 1945.

Ed Modzelewski expressed what his teammates think of Brown. Modzelewski was the fullback Brown bumped off Cleveland's offensive unit in 1957, Brown's freshman year as a pro.

"It's like playing behind Babe Ruth," Modzelewski said. "He's the greatest back ever to come into the league."

An All-America at Syracuse, Brown led the league in rushing with 942 yards as a rookie last year.

Guessing Game Continues On Who Will Be In Bowls

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The annual—and rarely successful—guessing game on what teams will play in the big bowl games New Year's Day began in earnest today.

Iowa and Oklahoma already have clinched their berths, so that narrows the field some.

Iowa, which clinched the Big 10 title more than a week ago, goes to the Rose Bowl. Oklahoma will make another trip to the Orange Bowl although it still must take care of the formalities of wrapping up its 11th straight Big 8 crown.

But even in the unlikely event that Nebraska beats the Sooners—Oklahoma hasn't lost a league game in its last 70 tries—they still head for the Orange Bowl. This is because they have beaten Missouri, the only team that can possibly tie them for the championship.

Here is how the major bowl setup looks now with two weeks left of the season.

Rose—Iowa vs. California.

Orange — Oklahoma vs. Air Force Academy.

Sugar — Louisiana State vs. North Carolina.

Cotton—Texas Christian vs. Mississippi or Syracuse.

Right behind is the Gator bowl, waiting in the wings for any top teams that don't get in the others. Gator possibilities include Vanderbilt and Florida.

California has won 7 of its 9 games so far and has only to get past much-beaten Stanford to wrap up the Pacific Coast Conference title and the automatic Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

The Big 8 sends a team yearly to play in the Orange Bowl. The opposition could be the Air Force Academy, which hasn't even graduated its first class yet. The AFA has been tied by Iowa once in 8 games.

Louisiana State, which had a 7-6 squeaker over Mississjppi State Saturday night, need only defeat Tulane this week to win the Southwestern Conference championship.

North Carolina still is the top choice as the second Sugar Bowl team despite its 34-24 loss to Notre Dame Saturday. The defeat snapped a 6-game Tar Heel win streak.

With Pitt's 14-6 loss to Nebraska, Syracuse appears to be about the top eligible in the East and that could earn the Orange the Sugar Bowl bid.

Texas Christian is the Cotton Bowl choice as the host team at the moment because it is leading the Southwest Conference, a precarious spot for any team in this topsy-turvy loop. A victory over Rice, which has had its ups and downs, Saturday and TCU should be in.

Three conference champions were crowned Saturday. West Virginia became the Southern Conference kingpin by crushing William and Mary, 56-6; Clemson sewed up the Atlantic Coast Conference by whipping North Carolina, 13-6, and Connecticut won the Yankee Conference by thrashing Rhode Island, 36-8.

Rutgers, with ace Billy Austin on the sidelines with an injury, lost to the Quantico Marines, 13-12, and that left Louisiana State the only undefeated-untied major team in the country.

Iowa and Virginia Military institute also both lost their first games of the season. Both had been tied. Ohio State clubbed Iowa, 38-28, and The Citadel, beaten four times, embarrassel VMI, 14-6.

Three major teams remain in the unbeaten-but-tied club. They are Army, Auburn and the Air Force Academy. The Cadets licked Villanova, 26-0; Auburn turned back Georgia, 21-6, and AFA licked Wyoming, also by 21-6.

IRONDALE—Herbert Rex Smith of Highland Ave. was found dead of asphyxiation about 8 a. m. Sunday in the garage near his home and Jefferson County Coroner John Smarrella ruled he had taken his own life with carbon monoxide fumes from an auto's exhaust.

A World War I veteran, he had been in poor health for three years and had been a patient in the Oakland Veterans Hospital at Pittsburgh several times with a heart ailment.

Born July 26, 1894, in Irondale he had resided here all his life. He served 18 months as a private with Company G of the 362nd Infantry. He was the son of the late John and Laura McCarroll Smith. He attended the Irondale Methodist Church. A coal and clay miner, he was employed last at the McLain Fire Brick Co. in Irondale, retiring in 1955 because of ill health.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Agnes McFadden Smith, at home; a son, James G. Smith of Hammondsville; a sister, Mrs. Helen Fagan of Irondale; two brothers, William Smith of Irondale and Jay Smith of Chester, and six grandchildren. A daughter, Miss Jane Louise Smith, died March 26, 1955.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. W. J. Smart. Burial will be in Chestnut Grove Cemetery in Irondale.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

LSU Only Major Team Still On Unbeaten List

By The Associated Press

The nation's list of unbeaten, untied college football teams is down to 15 today with Louisiana State the only major school.

LSU became the only major survivor when it defeated Mississippi State 7-6 Saturday night after Rutgers lost to the Quantico Marines, 13-12.

Eleven of the 14 minor schools on the list have completed their seasons.

In minor competition, St. Benedicts had a 10-game winning season.

Arizona State at Flagstaff has won nine games while Northeastern Oklahoma, Gustavus Adolphus, Wheaton, Kearney and Chadron have completed their seasons with nine triumphs.

Still playing, Mississippi Southern has won eight games and Florida A&M has defeated six rivals. Rose Poly, California (Pa.), Rochester, Sewanee and Missouri Valley all finished with eight victories.

Mel Ott 'Holding Own' In Battle For Recovery

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—The condition of Mel Ott, former New York Giant slugger and baseball Hall of Famer, and his wife was unchanged today.

Both were injured critically Friday night in a two-vehicle highway crash at nearby Bay St. Louis. The collision killed the driver of the other car, Leslie C. Curry of Bay St. Louis.

Hospital spokesmen said Ott was "holding his own." He underwent surgery Saturday. Physicians plan surgery for his wife later.

Anderson Has Chance To Play Against Navy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—If he responds normally to treatment, Army halfback Bob Anderson will be ready for the Navy game in Philadelphia Nov. 29.

That was the word today after x-rays showed Anderson suffered no serious injuries in Saturday's game with Villanova. Anderson was hit in the chest during the first quarter of the Cadets' 26-0 victory. He sat out the rest of the game.

X-rays showed only a severe bruise on the lower right rib cage. Army is idle this week.

Buckeyes Set For Michigan

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's rebounding Bucks wind up their campaign Saturday against their most revered foe—the Wolverines of Michigan.

After fighting back from the brink of what could have been their most disastrous campaign in years with their most scintillating conquest of several seasons, the Bucks are ready to bring the curtain down with a flourish.

Saturday's 38-28 verdict over Iowa's new Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl delegates goes into the record books as one of the finest fashioned by the Bucks in a long time. Scoreless in their last two attempts at Iowa City, the proteges of Coach Woody Hayes erased all semblance of a jinx in the tall corn country.

Michigan comes to town with a not - too-fashionable record, the usually snarling Wolverines having won only two of eight starts—by identical scores of 20-19 over Southern Cal and Minnesota. Saturday they were beaten 8-6 by Indiana—a team swamped 49-8 by Ohio.

In 54 previous games with Michigan, Ohio has won 16, lost 34 and tied 4 for a .333 percentage—but the Bucks figure to make it 17 wins in Saturday's fray before some 83,000 fans.

This could be a "let's win one for Bennie" game so far as Michigan is concerned, because Bennie Oosterbaan, the Wolverine mentor, will be winding up his coaching career. Even that incentive, and the natural rivalry of the two honored foes, do not appear big enough to sway the balance much.

The Michigans have given up 191 points while scoring 118 in eight games, while Ohio has counted 162 and allowed 118. How the leaky defense can contain the likes of Fullback Bob White and Halfback Don Clark is something Oosterbaan will have to figure out as he bids the gridiron game goodbye.

White rolled for 206 yards in 33 carries against Iowa, scoring three touchdowns. Almost duplicating his feat of 1957 against Iowa when he carried seven of eight times in a 68-yard drive for the score which gave the Bucks the conference crown and the Rose Bowl trip, White hauled the ball on 11 of 14 occasions in the 80-yard march which broke a 28-28 tie in the final period.

For the season he's carried 194 times for 778 yards. His 194 bangs at the line erased the school record of 187 in 10 games set in 1942 by Gene Fekete, now a Buckeye assistant. His ground-gaining total is 180 back of the 958 record set in 1955 by Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, now of the Detroit Lions. Hoppy did it in 161 attempts.

Parkersburg Takes Crown

By The Associated Press

Coaches of the state's two newly-crowned high school football champions face rebuilding jobs next season.

Coach Vic Bonfili of Class AA titlist Clarksburg Roosevelt-Wilson loses 10 of his 11 starters by graduation, while Coach Russ Parsons of Parkersburg's Class AAA champions had nine seniors on the first team this season.

Parkersburg gave an impressive exhibition of explosive power Saturday at Charleston while belting East Bank's Pioneers, 34-12, for its fifth state grid crown. The Big Reds settled the issue rather quickly by moving to a 27-6 lead at the half.

Fine defensive play by Parkersburg was responsible for two of the first-half touchdowns.

Guard George Nedeff, the Big Reds' candidate for all-state honors, grabbed the ball from East Bank's Jim Butta and rambled 37 yards for one score. A recovered fumble on the Pioneer 15 set up another Parkersburg six-pointer.

The Big Reds sullied East Bank's reputation as a fine defensive team. Their 34-point assault surpassed the 32 points yielded by the Pioneers all year against 10 previous foes.

Quarterback Larry Tracewell and halfback Art Daniels were the Big Reds' one-two punch. Daniels, fleet 140-pounder, got the Big Reds off and running by scoring the first two touchdowns.

Tracewell, bothered with an ailing arm that prevented him from tossing long passes, connected on two short aerials to end Jim Gaskins for two more touchdowns.

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—The condition of Mel Ott, former New York Giant slugger and baseball Hall of Famer, and his wife was unchanged today.

Both were injured critically Friday night in a two-vehicle highway crash at nearby Bay St. Louis. The collision killed the driver of the other car, Leslie C. Curry of Bay St. Louis.

Hospital spokesmen said Ott was "holding his own." He underwent surgery Saturday. Physicians plan surgery for his wife later.

Anderson Has Chance To Play Against Navy

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—If he responds normally to treatment, Army halfback Bob Anderson will be ready for the Navy game in Philadelphia Nov. 29.

That was the word today after x-rays showed Anderson suffered no serious injuries in Saturday's game with Villanova. Anderson was hit in the chest during the first quarter of the Cadets' 26-0 victory. He sat out the rest of the game.

X-rays showed only a severe bruise on the lower right rib cage. Army is idle this week.

Buckeyes Set For Michigan

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's rebounding Bucks wind up their campaign Saturday against their most revered foe—the Wolverines of Michigan.

After fighting back from the brink of what could have been their most disastrous campaign in years with their most scintillating conquest of several seasons, the Bucks are ready to bring the curtain down with a flourish.

Saturday's 38-28 verdict over Iowa's new Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl delegates goes into the record books as one of the finest fashioned by the Bucks in a long time. Scoreless in their last two attempts at Iowa City, the proteges of Coach Woody Hayes erased all semblance of a jinx in the tall corn country.

Michigan comes to town with a not - too-fashionable record, the usually snarling Wolverines having won only two of eight starts—by identical scores of 20-19 over Southern Cal and Minnesota. Saturday they were beaten 8-6 by Indiana—a team swamped 49-8 by Ohio.

In 54 previous games with Michigan, Ohio has won 16, lost 34 and tied 4 for a .333 percentage—but the Bucks figure to make it 17 wins in Saturday's fray before some 83,000 fans.

This could be a "let's win one for Bennie" game so far as Michigan is concerned, because Bennie Oosterbaan, the Wolverine mentor, will be winding up his coaching career. Even that incentive, and the natural rivalry of the two honored foes, do not appear big enough to sway the balance much.

The Michigans have given up 191 points while scoring 118 in eight games, while Ohio has counted 162 and allowed 118. How the leaky defense can contain the likes of Fullback Bob White and Halfback Don Clark is something Oosterbaan will have to figure out as he bids the gridiron game goodbye.

White rolled for 206 yards in 33 carries against Iowa, scoring three touchdowns. Almost duplicating his feat of 1957 against Iowa when he carried seven of eight times in a 68-yard drive for the score which gave the Bucks the conference crown and the Rose Bowl trip, White hauled the ball on 11 of 14 occasions in the 80-yard march which broke a 28-28 tie in the final period.

For the season he's carried 194 times for 778 yards. His 194 bangs at the line erased the school record of 187 in 10 games set in 1942 by Gene Fekete, now a Buckeye assistant. His ground-gaining total is 180 back of the 958 record set in 1955 by Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, now of the Detroit Lions. Hoppy did it in 161 attempts.

Parkersburg Takes Crown

By The Associated Press

Coaches of the state's two newly-crowned high school football champions face rebuilding jobs next season.

Coach Vic Bonfili of Class AA titlist Clarksburg Roosevelt-Wilson loses 10 of his 11 starters by graduation, while Coach Russ Parsons of Parkersburg's Class AAA champions had nine seniors on the first team this season.

Parkersburg gave an impressive exhibition of explosive power Saturday at Charleston while belting East Bank's Pioneers, 34-12, for its fifth state grid crown. The Big Reds settled the issue rather quickly by moving to a 27-6 lead at the half.

Fine defensive play by Parkersburg was responsible for two of the first-half touchdowns.

Guard George Nedeff, the Big Reds' candidate for all-state honors, grabbed the ball from East Bank's Jim Butta and rambled 37 yards for one score. A recovered fumble on the Pioneer 15 set up another Parkersburg six-pointer.

The Big Reds sullied East Bank's reputation as a fine defensive team. Their 34-point assault surpassed the 32 points yielded by the Pioneers all year against 10 previous foes.

Quarterback Larry Tracewell and halfback Art Daniels were the Big Reds' one-two punch. Daniels, fleet 140-pounder, got the Big Reds off and running by scoring the first two touchdowns.

Tracewell, bothered with an ailing arm that prevented him from tossing long passes, connected on two short aerials to end Jim Gaskins for two more touchdowns.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Are You A Happy Person?

A few months ago I appeared on a television interview program. The interviewer was a bright and sophisticated person who asked his questions briskly and cleverly. Finally, in that cheery tone that always signifies the end of the program, he said, "And now, folks, we have time for just one more question and, Dr. Peale, you'll have to answer it fast. You've got exactly 15 seconds." I braced myself and he threw it at me. "Are you a happy man?" Well! I ducked at first, but then picked it up and answered with complete certainty, "Sure, of course, I am."

Dr. Peale

WHAT ABOUT you? Suppose you were asked whether or not you are happy and given 15 seconds to answer. You wouldn't have time to think, to equivocate, to analyze or to explain. You'd have to answer yes or no. Your quick instinctive answer would probably be the true one because basically we know whether or not we are happy.

One of the great fundamental questions in life, is this: Are you a happy person? What would your answer be?

According to psychologists who have asked this question of large groups of people, many answer that they are unhappy. Happiness somehow seems to elude their grasp, no matter how hard they try to be happy.

Some, more cynical than others, conclude there is no happiness in this life. Some actually reason that no one has a right to be happy in this mixed - up world (which Schopenhauer, the gloomy philosopher, called "that theater of sin, suffering and death.")

But The Great Philosopher who taught in Galilee and Judea long ago offered real happiness and His formula is a simple one. "These things have I spoke to you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full," He said.

WHAT ARE "these things" to which the Great Teacher refers? Oh, things like love, forgiveness, unselfishness, goodness, overcoming self, mastering weaknesses, helping people.

Have you noticed that you always get a warm glow in your heart when you do any of these? That warm inner glow is a pretty good sign that you are on the track of happiness. The more times your heart registers that glowing feeling the happier you'll be.

A friend of mine, a grumpy unhappy fellow, read one of my books in which I advocate trying "these things" Jesus gives as a happiness formula. My friend wrote a kind of doubting letter inquring if this was really workable or was it just a nice pious platitude.

It so happened that he worked in a scientific field, and I suggested that he apply the scientific method to this material and see for himself whether or not it would work. He decided that for one month he would seriously try to live exactly as Jesus teaches. He made a thorough study of those teachings to work out a plan which he outlined in five steps:

1. — I will be honest at all times.
2. — I will forgive everybody.
3. — I will empty out all wrong thoughts.
4. — I will be kind and thoughtful to other people.
5. — I will daily read God's word.

EVERY NIGHT he faithfully checked his "score." It wasn't easy going but he stuck at it. Now, even with imperfections in his "score," he declares, "This way of living has it over any other I've ever known!" This method gradually has made this man a truly happy person.

His experience demonstrates that the vital religious faith is the surest way to real happiness. His formula (honesty, forgiveness, right - thinking, kindness and spiritual guidance) is so effective that I tell of it here in the hope that those who are looking for happiness will give it a trial. I'm sure it will work for you too.

The Burdens Of Life

Someone has said the burdens of life do not get lighter or heavier; it's only that we are stronger at some times than others.

The premise here is that life's burdens are always heavy, that they do not change, that they are consistently burdensome.

The conclusion is that our burdens seem light or heavy as our capacity to cope with them varies from time to time. Presumably, when we feel stronger toward life, life as a whole responds and adjusts to that feeling of strength.

We readily should admit that life at best is difficult. From time of birth the struggle for existence is constant. Even in a protected environment there is the threat of disease, accident and violence. And the toll of human suffering is by no means limited to the physical; mental anguish can be far more destructive.

WHAT, THEN, is the answer? Can we reasonably hope to change the world? Or will it be ever thus?

A realistic approach is to accept the problems of life for what they are — the same problems generation after generation, ever present, never entirely absent. In this respect we will not change the word; mankind never will be free of burden.

But we can improve our capacity to cope with the problems that confront us, and look to the time when the burdens we bear do not shift from heavy to light and back to heavy again, but remain fairly constant from day to day.

Such an approach does not eliminate the pressures around us, but it does equalize and balance the load until the burden of it becomes a normal part of life and living.

-:-

HOW DO WE accomplish this?

Certainly not by thinking of strength as physical prowess; the physically strong often are the lease capable of meeting and overcoming their problems.

Nor is it mental strength that always will see us through. There comes a time when the best of minds can't take it without help from another source.

The ultimate answer is spiritual strength. From it comes a capacity for courage and confidence unknown in any other way.

From it comes a sense of acceptance of the burdens of life that places them in proper perspective and brings them into balance with the benefits that come to us.

What Causes Child's Night Terrors?

Many parents write about the child from 2 to 5 or older who cries out during the night as if in great fright. An Illinois mother writes of her son, 4, who has a sister, 6: "Some time ago in your column you briefly mentioned night terrors. Your words seemed to fit what happens with my little son, Jimmy. It has puzzled me no end.

By Garry Meyers

"He awakens at night, crying, eyes wide open and saying things that make no sense to us at all. This may happen five or six different times during the night, when he is apparently well.

—:—

"I WOULD appreciate it if you could tell me what causes this and how I may correct it.

"I should tell you that Jimmy still sucks his thumb. Our pediatrician has told us to ignore it.

"The children watch TV and, although I do supervise what they watch, I still feel some programs are not doing them any good. Could it be something that frightens him during the day?

"Both children spend a great deal of time outside, playing with other children. They sleep 10 or 12 hours at night and Jimmy sometimes naps two hours in the afternoon."

Earlier in her letter, this mother says:

"I can't agree with the idea that children must be left with a babysitter, relative or some other person while parents go out, in order to have proper development of the child. With the exception of the two hours which my husband spent in the hospital when Jimmy was born, we have never left our children with anyone."

—:—

THIS WAS my reply in part:

There could be digestive disturbances or local infections which only your doctor could diagnose and treat. Chances are some daytime experiences induce the night terrors — fatigue, fears, excitement, or tensions. Why not rule out TV entirely for some months?

This little boy may be striving too hard to keep up with his sister and to complete for attention from you and his father, especially as both children are emotionally very close to you parents.

Perhaps you should reconsider your objection to ways of making them more independent of you.

Beefeaters is the popular name given to the bodyguards of the King or Queen of England.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Are You A Happy Person?

A few months ago I appeared on a television interview program. The interviewer was a bright and sophisticated person who asked his questions briskly and cleverly. Finally, in that cheery tone that always signifies the end of the program, he said, "And now, folks, we have time for just one more question and, Dr. Peale, you'll have to answer it fast. You've got exactly 15 seconds." I braced myself and he threw it at me. "Are you a happy man?" Well! I ducked at first, but then picked it up and answered with complete certainty, "Sure, of course, I am."

WHAT ABOUT you? Suppose you were asked whether or not you are happy and given 15 seconds to answer. You wouldn't have time to think, to equivocate, to analyze or to explain. You'd have to answer yes or no. Your quick instinctive answer would probably be the true one because basically we know whether or not we are happy.

One of the great fundamental questions in life, is this: Are you a happy person? What would your answer be?

According to psychologists who have asked this question of large groups of people, many answer that they are unhappy. Happiness somehow seems to elude their grasp, no matter how hard they try to be happy.

Some, more cynical than others, conclude there is no happiness in this life. Some actually reason that no one has a right to be happy in this mixed - up world (which Schopenhauer, the gloomy philosopher, called "that theater of sin, suffering and death.")

But The Great Philosopher who taught in Galilee and Judea long ago offered real happiness and His formula is a simple one. "These things have I spoke to you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full," He said.

WHAT ARE "these things" to which the Great Teacher refers? Oh, things like love, forgiveness, unselfishness, goodness, overcoming self, mastering weaknesses, helping people.

Have you noticed that you always get a warm glow in your heart when you do any of these? That warm inner glow is a pretty good sign that you are on the track of happiness. The more times your heart registers that glowing feeling the happier you'll be.

A friend of mine, a grumpy unhappy fellow, read one of my books in which I advocate trying "these things" Jesus gives as a happiness formula. My friend wrote a kind of doubting letter inquring if this was really workable or was it just a nice pious platitude.

It so happened that he worked in a scientific field, and I suggested that he apply the scientific method to this material and see for himself whether or not it would work. He decided that for one month he would seriously try to live exactly as Jesus teaches. He made a thorough study of those teachings to work out a plan which he outlined in five steps:

1. — I will be honest at all times.
2. — I will forgive everybody.
3. — I will empty out all wrong thoughts.
4. — I will be kind and thoughtful to other people.
5. — I will daily read God's word.

EVERY NIGHT he faithfully checked his "score." It wasn't easy going but he stuck at it. Now, even with imperfections in his "score," he declares, "This way of living has it over any other I've ever known!" This method gradually has made this man a truly happy person.

His experience demonstrates that the vital religious faith is the surest way to real happiness. His formula (honesty, forgiveness, right - thinking, kindness and spiritual guidance) is so effective that I tell of it here in the hope that those who are looking for happiness will give it a trial. I'm sure it will work for you too.

Religion At Work

By Eugene Carr

The Burdens Of Life

Someone has said the burdens of life do not get lighter or heavier; it's only that we are stronger at some times than others.

The premise here is that life's burdens are always heavy, that they do not change, that they are consistently burdensome.

The conclusion is that our burdens seem light or heavy as our capacity to cope with them varies from time to time. Presumably, when we feel stronger toward life, life as a whole responds and adjusts to that feeling of strength.

We readily should admit that life at best is difficult. From time of birth the struggle for existence is constant. Even in a protected environment there is the threat of disease, accident and violence. And the toll of human suffering is by no means limited to the physical; mental anguish can be far more destructive.

WHAT, THEN, is the answer? Can we reasonably hope to change the world? Or will it be ever thus?

A realistic approach is to accept the problems of life for what they are — the same problems generation after generation, ever present, never entirely absent. In this respect we will not change the word; mankind never will be free of burden.

But we can improve our capacity to cope with the problems that confront us, and look to the time when the burdens we bear do not shift from heavy to light and back to heavy again, but remain fairly constant from day to day.

Such an approach does not eliminate the pressures around us, but it does equalize and balance the load until the burden of it becomes a normal part of life and living.

-:-

HOW DO WE accomplish this?

Certainly not by thinking of strength as physical prowess; the physically strong often are the lease capable of meeting and overcoming their problems.

Nor is it mental strength that always will see us through. There comes a time when the best of minds can't take it without help from another source.

The ultimate answer is spiritual strength. From it comes a capacity for courage and confidence unknown in any other way.

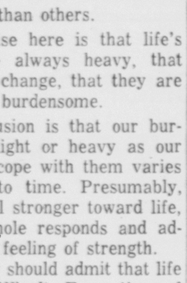
From it comes a sense of acceptance of the burdens of life that places them in proper perspective and brings them into balance with the benefits that come to us.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

What Causes Child's Night Terrors?

Many parents write about the child from 2 to 5 or older who cries out during the night as if in great fright. An Illinois mother writes of her son, 4, who has a sister, 6: "Some time ago in your column you briefly mentioned night terrors. Your words seemed to fit what happens with my little son, Jimmy. It has puzzled me no end.



By Garry Meyers

"He awakens at night, crying, eyes wide open and saying things that make no sense to us at all. This may happen five or six different times during the night, when he is apparently well.

—:—

"I WOULD appreciate it if you could tell me what causes this and how I may correct it.

"I should tell you that Jimmy still sucks his thumb. Our pediatrician has told us to ignore it.

"The children watch TV and, although I do supervise what they watch, I still feel some programs are not doing them any good. Could it be something that frightens him during the day?

"Both children spend a great deal of time outside, playing with other children. They sleep 10 or 12 hours at night and Jimmy sometimes naps two hours in the afternoon."

Earlier in her letter, this mother says:

"I can't agree with the idea that children must be left with a babysitter, relative or some other person while parents go out, in order to have proper development of the child. With the exception of the two hours which my husband spent in the hospital when Jimmy was born, we have never left our children with anyone."

—:—

THIS WAS my reply in part:

There could be digestive disturbances or local infections which only your doctor could diagnose and treat. Chances are some daytime experiences induce the night terrors — fatigue, fears, excitement, or tensions. Why not rule out TV entirely for some months?

This little boy may be striving too hard to keep up with his sister and to complete for attention from you and his father, especially as both children are emotionally very close to you parents.

Perhaps you should reconsider your objection to ways of making them more independent of you.

Beefeaters is the popular name given to the bodyguards of the King or Queen of England.

Firemen Hold Water Relay

Some 65 volunteers participated in a fire drill Sunday afternoon in Calcutta to demonstrate mutual aid between the departments.

Participating were the volunteer fire departments of Calcutta, Glenmoor and Liverpool Township, East, the Civil Defense fire team and CD police and a DC rescue unit.

The series of pictures shows the problem of relaying water a long distance to fight a fire in any community. The top picture shows a pumper sucking water from Pike's Lake near the Calcutta sub-station.

The water was relayed to another pumper located near Foulks Dr. and the hose then snaked along Route 170 to the pumper in the second picture, located at the intersection of Route 170 to the pumper in the second picture, located at the intersection of Route 170 and the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

The bottom photo shows water being played on the imaginary fire scene after being pumped more than half a mile.

Some 4,000 feet of hose was laid and enough water was supplied to operate five hose lines, firemen said. From the time the alarm sounded, it required 25 minutes to get water to the scene. The time included the runs from the outlying stations and laying of lines.

Firemen said the time could have been cut in half except for a missing connection required on one pumper to hook it into the relay. Approximately 12 minutes was required to get the connection from another pumper.

Besides the connection, the lack of two-way radio communication hampered firemen. Radio communication would have enabled firemen to govern the pressure needed at the fire, firemen said, instead of relying on hand signals which can be misinterpreted.

A series of similar drills will be scheduled in other communities, firemen said.

The drill was directed by Chief Kenneth Mills of Glenmoor, Chief Laverne Seckman of Calcutta, Chief Harry Smith of Liverpool, East, and Herman Heiney, chief of the CD fire team.

While the drill was underway, CD police were stationed at intersections to direct traffic.

The Liverpool, West, department remained on duty at its station to cover its territory and part of Glenmoor and a CD pumper from Lisbon stood by at the Dixonville station.

Auto Mishap Hurts Woman

2nd Wellsville Crash Darkens 30 Homes

An East Liverpool woman was hospitalized with injuries received when the car in which she was riding struck a utility pole on Kountz Ave., just outside the Wellsville City limits, Saturday afternoon about 4:30.

A short time later, a trucker hit a pole on Aten Ave., just within Wellsville limits.

Mrs. Geraldine Coleman of Chestnut St. is in "fair" condition today with a fractured skull received when the car in which she was riding, apparently driven by her husband, Paul Coleman, hit the pole. The car apparently skidded on the muddy road after going over the crest of the hill.

Thirty homes in the Aten Ave. area were without power for about six hours when a tractor-trailer truck driven by Shelton Benford of Canton hit a utility pole at Aten and Buckeye Aves. Saturday at 6:35 p. m.

Benford told Wellsville police his rig skidded on the wet pavement. The impact shattered the pole and pieces were strewn over the street. One-way traffic was maintained by police.

Benford was arrested for reckless operation. The Ohio Power Co. said all service in the area was restored at 12:30 a. m. although all the work was not completed until after 1 a. m.

Vandals Damage School After County Burglary

LISBON — Vandals damaged a telephone and rest room equipment at the Orchard Hill school on County Route 416 north of Leetonia sometime early Sunday morning.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said the vandals broke a window to gain entrance. The telephone was pulled from the wall and equipment in a rest room was knocked off the walls. Nothing was stolen.

Three Killed In Crash

MONROE, Mich. (AP)—A collision near here has killed James F. Rank, 36, of Toledo. Two persons in the other car—Russell F. Eighmey, 53, and his wife, Helen, 50, of Erie, Mich.—were also killed in the crash Sunday.

Livestock Judged

BALTIMORE (AP) — Livestock judging begins today at the 12th annual Eastern National Livestock Show. In weekend activity, Ohio State University placed second in collegiate livestock judging with 4,043 points Saturday. The University of Tennessee team won with 4,078, beating nine others.

Noted Writer Dies

BEAUFORT, S.C. (AP) — Samuel Hopkins Adams, 87, noted author and journalist, died Sunday after a long illness. He became a well-known figure in journalism early in the century. He was born in Dunkirk, N.Y.

New Brighton Man Injured In Car Mishap

A New Brighton driver was injured slightly in one of four accidents reported over the weekend and early today by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Nelson Funkhouse, 39, of New Brighton is under observation at Salem City Hospital with minor injuries received when his car collided nearly headon with another driven by Robert Whitcomb, 37, of Salem Saturday at 5:45 p. m. on Route 14 five miles east of Route 7. Funkhouse was cited for driving left of center, officers said.

Robert Knock, 21, of Beloit R. D. 2 hit the rear of a car driven by Earl Johnhanson, 31, of Alliance Sunday afternoon at 5:30 on Route 62 a mile east of Alliance. Johnhanson was halted in line of traffic, officers said. Knock was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A car driven by Edwin Welch, 37, of East Liverpool R. D. 2 hit the rear of another driven by Wyatt Judy, 33, of Warren Sunday night at 10 on Route 30 a mile north of the Route 170 intersection.

Judy was halted to make a left turn. Welch was arrested for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

George Johnson of Morgantown, W. Va., was cited for reckless operation after wrecking his tractor-trailer tanker truck on Route 14 a short distance from the Pennsylvania state line at 3:20 a. m. today.

Johnson was traveling too fast on the wet pavement and lost control of the vehicle, officers said. The truck went off the left side of the highway and jacknifed. The tanker then swung around and smashed into the cab, nearly demolishing it, officers said.

Health Board To Meet

LISBON—The financial situation for the coming year will be discussed at a meeting of the Columbiana County Health Board tonight at 8. The board will be without the aid of a two-tenths-mill operating levy which failed at the Nov. 4 election.

NATO Peace Satellite Urged In Next 2 Years

PARIS (AP) — A committee of legislators proposed today that NATO launch an earth satellite for peaceful outer space research by 1960.

The satellite, which would bear the emblem of the North Atlantic Alliance, is the first point in a proposed program of "peaceful scientific and technical cooperation in upper atmosphere and outer space research, development and exploration."

The program was recommended by the Scientific and Technical Committee of the fourth NATO Parliamentarians' Conference, which opened a week-long session in Paris.

We're putting the pyramids right back where they were!

Recently we have been testing a slightly different label on the Camel package. The experimental design changed the illustration and the wording a little. That's all. No change whatever was made in the famous Camel blend of choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

What we learned in the test is that Camel smokers prefer the original package, so we're putting the pyramids right back where they were, as quickly as we can do it. The test package is being discontinued, so you will soon be getting your Camels in the package you know so well.

We have always been proud of the loyalty of Camel smokers, and we thank you for helping us decide not to change the looks of the package that brings you the best-liked cigarette of them all! (Yes, we are happy to say that again this year, for the 10th straight year, Camel outsells all others!)

NATO Peace Satellite Urged In Next 2 Years

PARIS (AP) — A committee of legislators proposed today that NATO launch an earth satellite for peaceful outer space research by 1960.

The satellite, which would bear the emblem of the North Atlantic Alliance, is the first point in a proposed program of "peaceful scientific and technical cooperation in upper atmosphere and outer space research, development and exploration."

The program was recommended by the Scientific and Technical Committee of the fourth NATO Parliamentarians' Conference, which opened a week-long session in Paris.

We're putting the pyramids right back where they were!

Recently we have been testing a slightly different label on the Camel package. The experimental design changed the illustration and the wording a little. That's all. No change whatever was made in the famous Camel blend of choice Turkish and domestic tobaccos.

What we learned in the test is that Camel smokers prefer the original package, so we're putting the pyramids right back where they were, as quickly as we can do it. The test package is being discontinued, so you will soon be getting your Camels in the package you know so well.

We have always been proud of the loyalty of Camel smokers, and we thank you for helping us decide not to change the looks of the package that brings you the best-liked cigarette of them all! (Yes, we are happy to say that again this year, for the 10th straight year, Camel outsells all others!)
